RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO PAYING MEMBERS OF LEGISLATURE IN LIBERTY BONDS.

Mr. EBY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Whereas, It is the patriotic duty of all Americans to aid their Government in this time of stress, and,

Whereas, It is not possible for all of us to serve in the Army and Navy of the United States, but it is possible for us to show our patriotism and to "do our bit" in other ways which will redound to our credit, and,

Whereas, It is urgent that the Liberty Loan be oversubscribed before June 15th, so that this country may show its enemies that it stands united behind the government at Washington; therefore,

Be it resolved, That (if the Senate concur), the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be instructed to purchase immediately Liberty Loan bonds in such quantity as may be necessary to pay the members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Legislature of Pennsylvania the balance remaining on their salaries at the close of the session of 1917.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Perry asks unanimous consent for the adoption of this resolution; the Chair hears no objection.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I ask the sponsor of the resolution to explain it.

Mr. EBY. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Berks had been paying attention to the resolution he would know what it means. It simply means that the last payment which is due to the members of this House and Senate for this session be paid to them in Liberty Bonds. If the gentleman from Berks does not desire to have the Liberty Bonds or objects to receiving his last payment in this way, I would be very glad to assume the one hundred dollars that comes to the gentleman.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, the whole arrangement seems to me like bunko patriotism. It does not sound good to me. There has been a lot of hysteria here and I have my grave doubts as to the sincerity of a whole lot of this patriotism. When it comes to buying Liberty Bonds or any other bonds I don't want to be conscripted for it. If I wish to buy liberty bonds, that is my business. I deny to you or any other man the right to compel me to do this and if any of you don't have the courage to say so—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman raise a question of constitutionality on the resolution?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, the resolution should lie over after it is read so that we may know where we are and what we are to do tomorrow. There are other matters passed here in a similar manner. I therefore object to having the resolution passed and request that it be laid over.

The SPEAKER. The Chair gave the House ample opportunity to object to giving unanimous consent to the consideration of the resolution. There was no objection. If the gentleman from Berks will raise a point on the question of constitutionality the Chair will consider it.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker I believe you appreciate the fact that the least the clerks can do is to again read the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Would the gentlemna like to have the resolution read again?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, the members at this end of the Hall could not hear what was being read and would like to have it read again.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution again.

The Clerk then read the resolution again:

RESOLUTION.

Whereas, It is the patriotic duty of all Americans to aid their Government in this time of stress, and,

Whereas, It is not possible for all of us to serve in the Army and Navy of the United States, but it is possible for us to show our patriotism and to "do our bit" in other ways which will redound to our credit, and,

Whereas, It is urgent that the Liberty Loan be oversubscribed before June 15th, so that this country may show its enemies that it stands united behind the government at Washington; therefore,

Be it resolved, That (if the Senate concur), the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be instructed to purchase immediately Liberty Loan bonds in such quantity as may be necessary to pay the members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Legislature of Pennsylvania the balance remaining on their salaries at the close of the session of 1917.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I will stand for that resolution providing that the sponsor of it will amend it to the effect that we conscript all incomes for war purposes above one thousand dollars a year. Do it right while you are at it if you want to raise money, then you will be real patriots. I object to the resolution as it stands.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer, will state his point of order.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this is a wrong way of doing a highly good thing. A salary is provided for by an Act of Assembly. I doubt very much whether any man's rights under the law can be abrogated by the adoption of any resolution in this House o rin the Senate. I would cheerfully, so far as I am personally concerned, head a list right now, to be made up by the members of this House and would be willing to have this sort of thing done and I think that would be a proper manner in which to do it,—to allow each man to subscribe, but there are very serious objections to this proposition. We have no right to look into the private affairs of any members of this House and we do not know whether or not he is able to part with what little money is allowed to him or is coming to him, and he may have obligations at home to look after which might make it a hardship upon him. I think every man should show his own patriotism in his own way and this matter should not be treated in a collective sense by this body. If a subscription list is started I will be glad to sign that list, but I don't think that this resolution ought to prevail; I think it is entirely out of order.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia rise to a constitutional point of order on the resolution?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot say that I rise to a constitutional point of order, but the Act of Assembly—yes sir, I do rise to a constitutional point of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair decides the point of order well taken. The Chair holds that an Act of Assembly cannot be amended by a resolution.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1658, entitled

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1677, entitled

An Act to establish as a State highway a certain section of public road in the Counties of Lackawanna and Wayne.

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a certain section of public road commencing at Mount Cobb in the county of Lackawanna in State highway route number three hundred and thirty-five and running thence by way of Cortez to South Canaan in the county of Wayne and running thence to Waymart and intersecting with State highway route number six shall be adopted by the Commonwealth as a State highway to be constructed and maintained at the sole expense of the Commonwealth under the provisions of the existing laws governing main highways

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPANGLER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if it is the intention of the chairman of the Public Roads Committee to make the same motion on the highway bills that follow.

Mr. SPANGLER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Public Roads Committee, I want to make this statement at this time in regard to this motion. Two years ago similar bills establishing new routes were killed in committee. Citizens from different parts of the State called upon the Executive of this Commonwealth and asked why they didn't have that new route established. "Well, it was killed in committee, if it would have come before me, we would have considered it," and the Roads Committee wants to eliminate that part of the reason at this time.

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, I think all of these highway bills ought to be referred back to the committee, and I want to give my reasons for it. I am a member of the Public Roads Committee and these bills were referred out at a time when I was not present. It was a surprise when I saw them on the calendar. Now we all know we have more roads in the State than we can take care of. I was requested by my constituents to introduce a bill relative to a piece of public highway, and early in the session it was stated to me by the Public Roads Committee that there would be no bills reported out of that character, and I told my people it was not worth while. Just last Saturday I was in one section of the county when certain gentlemen asked me what could be done to get a road into the township, a road that is now a public highway, that used to belong to the township, and the road became a State highway without the wish of the people of that district. I do not know just the procedure to be followed to have that road restored back to the people of that district, whether to present a bill in the Legislature to have that section of the State highway restored to them, for the simple reason that they have the funds to put that road in condition. They are in a district where they get considerable money from the coal companies and they had that road in a splendid condition, but it is now in very bad shape. Gentlemen, it is all wrong this referring these bills back out of the Highway Committee. I hear some one say there are fifty-two bills. They should all be referred back and give the State Highway Department a chance to make the roads that we already have on the statute books of Pennsylvania.

Mr. STRAUSS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPANGLER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STRAUSS. Is it the object of the Road Committee to bury these bills in the committee, or bring out the bills later?

Mr. SPANGLER. That is the idea, to hold all these bills in committee, where they belong. The understanding with the Road Department, when I was here, was that none of these bills that provide for the construction of new roads, should come out of committee. The Public Roads Committee believed, after consultation with the Highway Department, that the State was not in position at this time to construct new roads at the State expense, that the State had all it could do to maintain the roads it now has in the present system, and it was for that reason that I made the motion to have this bill recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that there has been prepared a motion, which is a blanket motion, to recommit all of these bills, I will withdraw my motion in favor of a motion to be made by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my second to the motion of the gentleman from York, and desire to offer the following motion:

That House Bill No. 1677, the fourth bill on second reading calendar to-day, be stricken from the calendar; also House Bills Nos. 59, 600, 1455, 720, 1515, 719, 1810, 878, 56, 203, 220, 229, 230, 189, 63, 323, 322, 316, 401, 397, 381, 380, 1114, 1136, 1260, 1305, 1062, 1018, 1050, 403, 404, 382, 381, 380, 379, 438, 292, 640, 630, 643, 606, 721, 80, 873, 858, 757, 192, 761, 816, 1314, 1806, 1523, inclusive.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF INFORMATION.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of information.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, in reading over the numbers of the bills on page 4, the No. 1014 was read instead of 1019, and I would like to know which is right.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I will say for the information of the House that the motion is intended to include all bills from 1677 to 1523, being from calendar No. 4 to No. 56, inclusive.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is this that this motion does not take up these bills separately, but collectively.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman desires a division of the question he has that right under the rules of the House. Does the gentleman desire a division of the question.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, you have not made a decision on my point of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not quite understand the gentleman, and would ask him to again state his point of order.

Mr. DAWSON. My point of order is that this motion covers these bills collectively instead of separately, and is therefore out of order.

The SPEAKER. Whenevar a motion contains two subjects it is within the right of any member of the House to divide the question. If he desires to divide the question, he can do so. The Chair does not desire to divide the question. Do I understand that the gentleman desires a division of the question?

Mr. DAWSON. Yes, sir.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman please state what his division is?

Mr. DAWSON. To take action on these bills separately.

The SPEAKER. That would be an amendment to the motion. Does the gentleman desire to offer that amendment?

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I claim the motion is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair's decision is that the question is a divisible question. If the gentleman desires to divide the question, he has the right to do so.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, my point is as to bill No. 1677, and I would like to have that motion amended so as to omit House Bill No. 1677.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would request that the gentleman reduce his amendments to writing.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will reduce his amendment to writing.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I believe this blanket motion to strike from the calendar all of these road measures is only to expedite the business of the House, and if they all look alike to you as they do to me, there ought to be no objection to them all taking the same course. If it is the purpose of this House to defeat these bills or strike them from the calendar, it strikes me, Mr. Speaker, that each member of this House ought to permit this blanket motion to pass to expedite the business of the House. To consider them separately would consume an hour of our time, where we can do it in three minutes under the blanket motion.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I understood that the gentleman from Lackawanna raised the point of order that this is a blanket resolution and contained—

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state that the gentleman from Lackawanna is dividing the question, a right which he has under the rules of the House, to exempt from the motion House Bill No. 1677.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order that there are twenty some subjects included in the blanket resolution. Now, it is not a question here of might but of right. The merits and demerits of these different measures which are included in this resolution are different. You are attempting a piece of legislation here which includes as many different subjects, different conditions, as are represented by these highways which are included in the resolution, and it is unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the division of the question.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I make this point of order and would like the Chair to decide.

The SPEAKER. The point of order that the gentleman from Washington raised is the point that the motion made is not in order and if the House desires to turn the motion down the Chair has no power to prevent it except by the exercise of his own vote.

Mr. BAKER. Does the Chair refuse to decide the point of order?

The SPEAKER. Do I understand that the gentleman's point of order is that the motion made by the gentleman from Franklin is out of order?

Mr. BAKER. Yes, sir.

The SPEAKER. The Chair don't so view it.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I think we ought to play fair on these bills and that we ought to consider them all as in one motion. I quite agree with the gentleman from Delaware that these bills all look alike and if we pass one bill we are in honor bound to pass all the bills and if we defeat one bill we ought to defeat all. Don't let us give a privilege to any one man that we would not give to all. I propose to vote in favor of this motion as to every bill included in it.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Dawson, that a division of the question be made exempting House Bill No. 1677. The question, therefore, is on a division of the question. The question is on the amendment to exempt House Bill No. 1677 from the provisions of the motion made by the gentleman from Franklin.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will please State his point of order.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the matter, we had before us for consideration House Bill No. 1677. That was followed by a resolution presented by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, to strike off House Bill No. 1677 and all the following bills. As I understand the matter, Mr. Dawson now offers an amendment to strike out of that resolution the original bill which is really the subject matter for consideration before the House; therefore, I take it that we have gotten off the original subject.

The SPEAKER. The motion before the House to vote upon is practically whether the question shall be so divided that the motion made by the gentleman from Franklin shall prevail with the exception of that one bill.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, the principal subject matter of discussion is House Bill No. 1677. By the elimination of that from the resolution we have gotten away entirely from the subject matter under discussion before the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to state to the House that he has no power on the question of division if the question be devisible. The motion made by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, is a divisible question and the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Dawson, within his parliamentary rights, asks for this division.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker the resolution presented by the gentleman from Franklin is out of order insofar as it relates to House Bill No. 59 because House Bill No. 59 has not yet been called.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move you that this bill, House Bill No. 1677, be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STRAUSS. Mr. Speaker, I think it is discourteous to this House to pass a motion of this kind or to make it. It has been frankly stated by the gentleman form York that this motion has been made for the purpose of putting these bills back into the committee to kill them. I have no bill on the calendar but I want to stand here in favor of the prerogatives of this House. It is the function of this House to pass bills and it is not the function of any department of this government to tell the Legislature what it shall pass and what it shall not; and I ask you to stand by the bills and that they have their regular order. I am not in favor of setting aside the rights and privileges of the House of Representatives at the dictation of any department and I want to say again I have no bill on the calendar.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. CANON. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call on this motion. It has taken all session to get these bills out of committee and now let us keep them out.

The SPEAKER. The call does not appear to be seconded.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "noes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and sixty-eight gentlemen voting in the affirmative and seventy-four in the negative, the motion was not agreed to.

The second section and title of the bill were then separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 The cost and expense of the construction improvement and maintenance of the highway herein described shall be paid out of any moneys appropriated to the State Highway Department for the maintenance construction reconstruction or improvement of State highways

An Act to establish as a State highway a certain section of public road in the Counties of Lackawanna and Wayne.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 59, as follows

An Act to establish as a State Highway a certain section of public road in the County Wyoming

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a certain section of public road beginning at the borough line of Tunkhannock in the county of Wyoming and running thence by way of Dixon and Bardwell to the borough of Factoryville and intersecting State Highway Route numbered nine shall be adopted by the Commonwealth as a State Highway to be constructed and maintained at the sole expense of the Commonwealth under the provisions of the existing laws governing main highways

Section 2 The cost and the expense of the construction improvement and maintenance of the highway herein described shall be paid out of any moneys appropriated to the State Highway Department for the maintenance construction reconstruction or improvement of State highways

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 600, as follows

An Act establishing a certain public road as a portion of the system of State highways and providing for its construction and maintenance as a State highway at the expense of the Commonwealth

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the following section of public road shall be adopted June first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen by the Commonwealth as a State highway and shall be reconstructed and maintained as a part of the system of State highways at the sole expense of the Commonwealth under the provisions of the existing laws governing main State highways that is to say

Devon State-aid road beginning at its intersection with the Conestoga road or old Lancaster road in Easttown township Chester county thence traversing the said township a distance of about twenty-two hundred and forty feet being in this part referred to on the records of the State Highway Department as application number six hundred and twenty-nine Easttown township Chester county thence continuing through Tredyffrin township a distance of about two and one-half miles to Valley Forge Park this part being referred to on the records of the State Highway Department as application number two hundred and twenty-six Tredyffrin township Chester county

Section 2 The cost and expense of maintenance reconstruction and improvement of the highway herein described shall be paid out of any moneys appropriated to the State Highway Department for the maintenance construction reconstruction and improvement of State highways

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered. To be transcribed for a third reading.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will call up the bills on second reading, dispensing with the necessity of a member calling up the bills. Are there any objections on the part of the House to the Chair calling up these bills as he comes to them in their order on the calendar? The Chair hears no objections.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, in permitting the Chair to call up these bills is it the intention of the Chair to allow the blanket resolution to prevail in that respect?

The SPEAKER. The resolutions were disposed of.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the Chair to say that the House has passed House Bill No. 600 on second reading? That is one of these series of bills introduced and if only considered by itself—if it stood alone, I would support it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will withdraw his decision that bill No. 600 passed on second reading and the Chair recognizes the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Whitaker.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, if this bill stood alone, I would support it. I believe it is a meritorious bill but being in a lot of other bills of the same character which seem to be unwise for the Legislature to pass at this time and to be consistent, I desire to move to recommit House Bill No. 600, entitled back to the Public Roads Committee.

Mr. HOLLINGSWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1455, entitled

An Act to establish as a State Highway a certain section of public road in the counties of Potter and Tioga

The first and second sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a certain section of public road beginning at a point in route numbered one hundred and two at the mouth of Phoenix creek in the county of Tioga and running thence by way of Sunderlinville and Hector to connect with route numbered one hundred and three at Potter brook in the county of Potter shall be adopted by the Commonwealth as a State highway to be constructed and maintained at the sole expense of the Commonwealth under the provisions of the existing laws governing main highways

Section 2 The cost and expense of the construction improvement and maintenance of the highways herein described shall be paid out of any moneys appropriated to the State Highway Department for the maintenance construction reconstruction or improvement of State highways

The title was read as follows:

An Act to establish as a State highway a certain section of public road in the counties of Potter and Tioga

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, on account of the absence of the sponsor of this bill I think it would be very discourteous to report it back at this time. I think we ought to be courteous to this gentleman and not report it back to the Committee on Public Roads in his absence.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, these bills have gotten on the calendar and I think they are there under such conditions that the members of this House ought to very seriously consider them before passing them. At the beginning of this session the Highway Department came out flatly against adding any more roads to our system of public highways in this State, for the reason that we have something like eighty-five hundred miles of road and that we could not take care of the roads that we already have. This Legislature is going to pass appropriations that will only build about three hundred and fifty miles of road out of that great number of miles to be improved. The Good Road's Committee gave each and every member of this House to understand that they would not report out any of these bills. I have in my county a request for an additional highway that is just as meritorious as any of these bills that are on the calendar. I acted upon what I considered the good faith of the members who took the stand that these bills would not be reported out and passed and I believed that they were acting in good faith when they gave us to so understand. If we pass these bills every man in this House that has a request from his home county to introduce a similar bill, and besides he would have to have unanimous consent to put in that bill and have it passed by this House. We ought to play fair and square with each other. There is nothing fair or nothing square about passing any of these bills unless every man from his respective district has the same privilege to introduce and have passed his bill. Everybody that I have talked to has conceded that these bills will never become a law. If they will not become law what in the world is the use of us spending two or three days and hundreds and hundreds of dollars in passing them and putting them up to some other department of this government and there kill or veto them? Now, let us get down to brass tacks on this proposition and play square one with another. The time has passed when bills can be introduced in this House. A number of men have the same right to have their legislation considered, but out of courtesy to the men and to the Department of the State that have the matter of good roads in their hands, we withheld and informed our constituents that there was no use introducing bills of this character because they would not be passed. Now, gentlemen, let us play square and defeat these bills.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I don't have any of these bills; I am not sponsor for any of them for the same reason that the gentleman from Lawrence just mentioned that the State Highway Department in many cases at the opening of this session stated that they would not stand for any new roads. But I feel that I have a broader view. I feel that I ought to be punished for listening to the State Highway Department and decided then within my own mind that they were bigger than the Legislature and because I have no bills there and have listened to the State Highway Department is no reason why men who have better judgment than I have and who realized that the Legislature of the people were to act on these bills and they introduced their bills and they were put on the calendar. I shall help them from the fact that they displayed better judgment than I did when I took the Highway side of it and ought to have listened instead to the Legislative part of it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lawrence will recognize that the Chair has already made his decision.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the title?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Whereas, repeated appeals by the President of the United States and by the Governor of this Commonwealth for increased efforts in the production of larger quantities of agricultural food products have been met by the people of Pennsylvania with the hearty response which these appeals merit, and thousands of acres of land heretofore lying idle are being cultivated for the relief of the food shortage in this State and in the nation; and

NAYS—2.

Burnett, McKinney,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1822, entitled

An Act to amend section three hundred and fourteen of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, this bill and the one following it were referred to the Committee on Manufactures about three weeks ago, and inadvertently were passed out by the committe on the same day they were received. Therefore, the opponents of the bill did not have an opportunity to state their objections to the committee and offer the amendments which they now say they desire to offer. In addition to that they desire a public hearing which the committee is willing to accord them if the bill is recommitted. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I move you that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Manufactures for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to object as the sponsor of this bill to having the bill recommitted. You men all know that it is an unusual thing—I may say at this session—to send a bill back to the committee when it is up on third reading. It is unusual in any event to send such a bill as this back to a committee for a hearing for the reason that the bill is so plain and simple that a hearing before a committee would be of no special benefit. The purpose of this bill is to enable an employe who is injured and who is entitled to medical service under the present Compensation Act, to select his own physician. There you have it in a few words. No hearing before a committee would throw any light on the bill or do it any good. It might do it some harm. I do not mean to say that the chairman of this committee in asking that the bill be recommitted intends to kill the bill in committee, but I do say that there can be no good done to the bill by having it recommitted, and I sincerely trust that the members of this House will vote down the motion to have the bill recommitted, and let it stay out on the floor of the House and have a hearing such as any other bill deserves. I would ask the gentlemen of the House to give this bill the consideration they would want for their own bills. Let it come squarely before the House, and if it is killed, all right; but let the question be met here on the floor of the House. I hope you will not vote to send the bill back to the committee.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Whitaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Whitaker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITAKER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know when this bill was introduced.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I have just looked at the record, which the gentleman from Philadelphia can look at just as well, and I find it was introduced on May third.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know who are the opponents who desire to be heard.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I have received a great many communications from manufacturers, the names of whom I do not recall, but they were in large numbers, members of the bar and manufacturers, who have said that they desire a public hearing on the bill first, because the provisions of the bill are contained in some other bill already on the calendar of the House which is more comprehensive and contains not only the subject in this bill but also various other amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Law.

I desire also to say, Mr. Speaker, if I may go further in answering and state further for the information of the House that I know nothing whatever about the merits of the bill—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia has the floor. Has the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, any further interrogation?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman. I would like to know if it is not within the gentleman's knowledge that since January of this year, since the opening of this House, that the manufacturers have been represented by various men representing their interests in and about this House?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I know very well, as does every other member of the House, that the manufacturers have lobbyists here and many of them are here themselves. That is very true.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Now, Mr. Speaker, this is a very inopportune time to ask that the bill be referred to a committee for the purpose of a hearing, because, as you know, our time is growing short and if these bills, which are important measures, are referred back to the committee it must be at least two weeks before they can come back on this calendar. In fairness to yourself, Mr. Speaker, and to the members of this House these two bills that you have before you this morning can be discussed and be disposed of just as intelligently before can be discussed and be disposed of just as intelligently before this House, sir, as they can before any committee or any representatives of any interests because the members of this House, I take it, are sufficiently informed upon this kind of legislation to dispose of it fairly and squarely.

Mr. Speaker, I submit that these bills should remain, in fairness and justice to ourselves, on this calendar and be disposed of by us right here and now.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say that about the merits of these bills I know nothing at all. The committee acted on them without very much consideration and without the hearing which has later been requested.

The responsibility for the bill not having been recommitted to the committee and having a hearing is not upon the committee and not upon my shoulders, but if anybody is responsible, the sponsor of the bill himself is because, as the House will remember, when this bill was only on the calendar two days I asked unanimous consent to have the bill recommitted to the committee for the purpose of a hearing. That was over three weeks ago. The sponsor of the bill objected and, therefore, it could not be recommitted at that time. Therefore, both those who desire a hearing and I, as chairman of the committee, have not had any opportunity to have this expedited in any way whatever. We attempted to have it recommitted as promptly as possible and that being impossible under the objections, this is the first opportunity we have had to offer a public hearing to those who desire it. I do not know whether the bills are so important that they should be considered at once or not. They have not been given the hearing which they requested and that is all that the Commiitee on Manufactures desires to present before the House, namely, that certain parties want to be heard on the bill. They understood we would try to offer them that opportunity and we now ask the House to accord it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to recommit the bill to the Committee on Manufactures?

The SPEAKER declared the "ayes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for and sixty-six gentlemen voting in the affirmative and sixty-nine in the negative, the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

On page 8, line 14, after the word "supplies" strike out "tendered to him by his employer."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments? Is there any objection? eTh Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1821, as follows

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The amendment consists only of a strike-out, the question is,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, you have before you for consideration an amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Act, the purpose of which is to provide that compensation shall be paid to injured or disabled employees theree days after they are injured or disabled. As the Act now stands the injured employee waits for a period of fourteen days before he gets compensation. I want to say to the members of the House in introducing this bill that no Labor Organization or any people interested for them influenced me in bringing the bill before the House. I brought the bill here because I believe that the passage of this amendment will be a benefit to the entire community of the State of Pennsylvania and for this reason I will give my experience: In the Anthracite Regions of Pennsylvania the average employee is just living from day to day under present conditions. That is the cost of living is so high that he cannot accumulate any surplus; it takes all his wages to live and if you will take that man when he is disabled by reason of some injury and keep him off his work for two weeks without any income his family is obliged to go into debt. For that particular man it may be a matter that does not amount to a whole lot but when you multiply it by tens or hundreds as these cases are multiplied through the State of Pennsylvania, it means that some one in the community generally is going to keep that man and his family during the time he is disabled. Now if the Workmen's Compensation Act was right in theory in the first place and the Legislature thought it was then we ought to go an additional step further and provide that he should have his compensation, not in fourteen days after the injury, during which period he is going to be in debt or else suffer because instead of being paid at once he will be paid his compensation after fourteen days, instead of in three days as fixed in this amendment. So that when this man is in a normal position and has recovered he is able to go back to his work without a financial burden and in shape to render to his employer and the Commonwealth the services which they are so vitally in need of today. One other thing I want to call your attention to at this time is this: There are many cases where the father of the family is injured and under the old act he is able to get along because he may have one or two sons who are employed elsewhere and who contribute their earnings towards the support of the family. But you take the County of Schuylkill and on June 5th over eighteen thousand young men between the ages of twenty-one and thirty registered for military service for a period—we don't know how long—of possibly several years with the earning capacity of this man this part will be taken away and the families toward which they have been contributing for support, that man will be without that money they have brought in and that is all the more reason, why these employees who are left behind at this time should be taken care of as this amendment proposes to take care of them. It is not a case of where you are making them a present; it is not a case of where you are punishing the employer; it is a matter of keeping the family or the man who is injured in a decent financial condition during the time of his disability and nothing more or less. I ask the House to support this bill.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, the present Compensation Bill has been worked out and it has been proven unsatisfactory to the worker. We have had hundreds of men that have been forced to lie idle for fourteen days when they could have been at work three days after an injury. We have had hundreds of men that have been forced to return to work on the fourteenth day. For an illustration let me just show to you the position that the Anthracite miner is in. There is not a miner or a laborer in the anthracite field that comes out of a mine but what he receives a cut or maybe a half dozen cuts every week on his hands. The anthractie coal being so sharp when they are loading it, it naturally cuts their hands. You can go there and make an investigation and find that they may have from fifteen to twenty little cuts on their hands. When labor was plentiful, when this Act was put into effect, the company then, when a man was working in sulphur water, would compel him to lay off for fourteen days for fear he would get blood poisoning. I have here a list of a few men and if this House will permit me to read them, I will read them to you:

Lewis Wallace, Driver, employed at the Lewis Colliery of the Raub Coal Company, injured April 18th, 1917, crushed between car and rib injuring left hip and back. Returned to work on May 3rd 1917. Idle, 14 days.

Joseph Lapenski, Asst. Driver Boss, Lewis Colliery, Raub Coal Company, February 22nd, 1917, fell off timber and fractured spine. Returned to work March 8th. Idle, 14 days.

Adam Kuttenberger, Ticket Boss Lewis Colliery, Raub Coal Company. Feb. 19th chunk of coal fell on his right foot and smashed his toe. Started to work March 5th, 1917. Idle, 14 days.

Tony Zambard, Foot Tender, Heidelberg No. 1 Colliery, Lehigh Valley Coal Company, Sept. 25th, 1916, caught left leg between cars. Started to work October 9th. Idle, 14 days.

Joseph Ace, Driver, Black Diamond Colliery Haddock Coal Company. August 30th, 1916, while spragging car cut left thumb off. Returned to work Sept. 13th, 14 days after accident occurred, but was unable to work and quit again on Sept. 16th. He was still idle when organizer reported this case which was on September 30th.

Anthony Friday, Laborer, Black Diamond Colliery Haddock Coal Company. On July 19th, 1916, hurt back pushing car. Started to work August 3rd. Idle 14 days.

Michael Rogowski, Cayuga Colliery. D. L. & W. R. R. Company. Burned by gas on March 29th. Returned to work April 11th, 1917, 13 days.

John Jaronski, No. 5 Colliery, Susquehanna Coal Company, employed as breakerman, on Nov. 22, 1916, caught leg between bumpers of mine cars. Returned to work December 7th. Idle 14 days.

Mike Pangoba, Laborer, Nottingham, No. 15 Colliery Lehigh & Wilkes Barre Coal Company, injured February 8th, 1917, leg cut by fall of coal. Returned to work February 20th, but leg was still sore at that time.

George Grietzner, Runner, East Boston Colliery, W. G. Payne Coal Company, on March 10th injured foot while running car. Returned to work March 21st.

Charles Rovinski, No. 9 Colliery, Lehigh & Wilkes Barre Coal Company, injured January 9th, returned to work on January 22nd.

I could go on and read hundreds of suh ccases to you in that field and go on and state other cases of hundreds of men that could have continued to work who have but a slight cut on their hands but at that time labor was plentiful and, of course, they would lay the men off and ofttimes they discriminated with this law. I would ask of you men that you pass this bill as it is, because it will be of great benefit to the people that are laboring in the coal mines.

MR. RAMSEY IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, the amendment that is now before you is to reduce the time for the beginning of the payment of compensation from fourteen to three days. This act has been only in force but a few years, but I feel that the terms of the original act would be improved if you would place this amendment in the bill, for a number of reasons, many of which have been enumerated here this morning, but especially in this, that this act has brought the employer and the employe close together. The employers to-day and the employes of to-day realize that their interests are mutual and the average employer of today when his man is injured is only too glad to pay from the hour that that injury occurs, but under the law he must wait fourteen days. Now I just will submit to you that one point, if the man is injured, he must prove his injury, and after he is injured he should receive his compensation from the first hour of his injury. In this amendment it is made three days. This amendment, gentlemen, is fair to the employer, and it is fair to the employe, and I think should receive unanimous support of this House.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to take up, on page 21 of to-day's calendar, House Bill No. 1860, File Folio 5727, authorizing the State of Pennsylvania to sell to the United States Government the tract of land at Tinicum, Delaware County, where there is an aviation station, to the Federal government. This is a war measure, as we viewed it, and the Chair desires unanimous consent to have it considered at this time. The Chair hears no objection.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1860, entitled

An Act giving consent to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the purchase by the United States of land belonging to the City of Philadelphia on the Island of Tinicum, in the Township of Tinicum, Delaware County, authorizing the City of Philadelphia to sell and make conveyance thereof; ceding jurisdiction over said land and providing for the retention of concurrent jurisdiction by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the United States, on said land, for the service of legal processes thereupon.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MOTION TO MAKE HOUSE BILL 1187 A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1187, File Folio 8713, entitled

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder."

on page 44 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business on Monday evening, June 11, at 10.00 P. M.

Mr. DAVID F. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to explain to the gentlemen of the House that this is a very important measure, and I think at this time it would only be fair that this bill be given a chance to be brought before this House so that it would have sufficient time to go into the Senate if it should be passed here. I would ask that the members would at least grant that privilege and have this bill brough up for special order on Monday night.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. SIMPSON. I desire to ask the gentleman who is the sponsor of this bill?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Woodward.

Mr. SIMPSON. Has he requested that the gentleman make this a special order?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Maurer had a talk with Mr. Woodward to-day, and it was understood that the motion would be made and he asked me to make the motion.

Mr. SIMPSON. Does the gentleman know if Mr. Woodward is here?

Mr. FOWLER. I cannot tell you that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SIMPSON. The gentleman has seen him.

Mr. FOWLER. I did not see him.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, just for the information of the gentleman from Pittsburgh who asked the question of Mr. Fowler, I would say this is the Woodward Bill known as the compensation amendment. Mr. Woodward thought seriously of making the motion before you last Tuesday. There were so few members present that he thought he would let it go until yesterday. Last night he said "I guess we will leave it go until to-day," he says 'I will make the motion this morning." Now Mr. Woodward has not been here this morning, or he would have made the motion himself. We felt the motion should be made and in his absence Mr. Fowler made it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to say just one word, and that is that it has been the aim of the Rules Committee to work in harmony with every member of the House to expedite the business remaining on the calendar in order that we may finish somewhere near the time that the House has already set for adjournment. If special orders are to be granted on one, two, three, four or five measures, every one of which is just as important as the other, we will not get to the end of the calendar as quickly as we will if each bill takes its regular course.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER announced the nays appear to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called for, and forty gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and seventy-nine in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. RUDISILL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 58 of to-day's calendar House Bill No. 1711, File Folio 6117, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1711, entitled

An Act for the protection of owners and tenants of cultivated lands from damage by deer and permitting the killing of such deer and the use of the carcass thereof under certain restrictions.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, a few days ago when this bill was before us for consideration and was postponed, I then called the attention of the House to the fact that the Game Code which is in the hands of the Governor for his signature, provides for this matter. This bill that is before us now gives too much leeway. It provides that you can follow these deer into the woods for a mile or so. The Game Code provides that if you find deer destroying your property, you can kill the deer, and the carcass of the deer goes to the hospital. This bill provides that the owner of the land or any one whom he shall designate can follow these deer into the woods and kill them and eat the meat. It seems to me that this is opening up a wide channel and that it is going to develop into a dangerous situation. I ask the members of the House to familiarize themselves with these conditions. If you go out into the woods for a mile, you are liable to kill the wrong deer. If you chase the deer into the woods any distance, you do not know whether or not you are killing the deer that did the damage. If you delegate that power to any other person except yourself, you do not know whether the fellow is going to kill the deer that did the damage. It seems to me that I have tried to be fair in this matter, but if you are going to permit the killing of deer within a mile of where the damage is done, you might just as well throw this State open to the killing of deer twelve months in the year. You could go into any community where there is unseated land and plant a few apple trees, and kill deer within a radius of a mile, which would take in acres of land. I do not think this is right.

Mr. RUDISILL. Mr. Speaker, I only ask that the members of this House be fair to the farmers in these districts. This bill provides that when the deer do damage to the farms or crops the owner notifies the secretary of the Game Commission, and after making an investigation if he finds the conditions complained of to be true, then the Game Commission grants a permit to kill the deer, any deer found within a mile of the place where damage has been done. I want to say for your information that in the upper part of our State there are thousands of acres of land, the finest land in the United States for fruit growing. The deer go into the orchards and destroy the orchards entirely. The secretary of the Game Commission cites three orchards, which he had visited, in the Game Report of 1916. One of these orchards I visited myself last fall. There were seven acres that had been planted in apples about three years previous. The deer had gone in there and destroyed almost every tree. The secretary of the Game Commission speaks of this. He said he visited a place of a farmer by the name of Baker. He said "This man, Mr. Baker, is a poor man, working hard to make a living for himself and family, but was exceedingly fair. He said 'If I was well off, I would not complain about this matter, although I have been put back at least three years in my effort to grow an orchard, and I am out the cost of the trees and my labor in planting same. As it is, I am a poor man, and at this time cannot replant my orchard, because I do not have the money needed to buy trees, unless I can get help. I am down and out.' " I know this man is a poor man, getting up in years, and his means of support during his old age has been taken away from him. The Game Commissioner also said that he visited the orchard of Mr. Cole, a fine apple orchard, planted about fifteen or eighteen years ago. He said that under the present conditions in this section that they would be unable to raise an orchard of this kind. He goes on to say that the year before, two hundred and forty-seven bucks had been shot in this locality and still the deer were everywhere. He says that flocks of from sixteen to twenty were very often seen in sections of the mountains. He also quotes Dr. Dixon as saying that in that locality there were forty-six deer in one flock. The deer not only destroy the fruit trees, but the pasture and the grain, just like cattle—they destroy it. We hear a great deal about raising more fruit and more food. If you are going to allow the deer to destroy the young orchards and the crops and not protect these people we will certainly have arrived at a very sad state of affairs.

In answer to the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Milliron, I want to say that in this present orchard, which was surrounded by timber, right across the fence on the outside of the field was a place where the deer harbored and you could see where they laid. They peeled off all the young trees right outside the fields. The Secretary of the Game Commission says that they barked the trees from the ground up. Now, are you going to alow a condition of this kind or are you going to protect the farmers? The sportsmen have their rights but the farmers also have their rights. I visited one farm where the farmer had put up a barbed wire fence eight feet high around his orchard and still the deer went through. I ask you gentlemen of the House to be fair and vote for this bill.

Mr. MILLIRON. The gentlemen stated, I believe, that Dr. Dixon had said—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Armstrong desire to interrogate the gentleman from York?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, no, sir. I believe that I am correct, that he said Dr. Dixon saw forty-six deer in one place. Now, I have hunted deer for some years and I don't say that these were deer or microbes that he saw but we will take it for granted they were deer. Now this State is paying thousands of dollars a year for deer to stock the other parts of the State. There is a solution for this problem which is provided for by law to trap or catch the deer if they are so plentiful that they go around in droves of forty and fifty, and ship them to other parts of the State and save this Commonwealth thousands of dollars. The part that I have most objection to is that they can kill these deer for their own use or for the use of their neighbors as long as they give them away and don't sell them, and I believe that the Code better provides for that, that they are allowed to kill these deer but they must donate them to the hospitals in the territory in which they reside or in which they are killed, and that is a saving to the Commonwealth.

Now, as far as the apple industry is concerned I don't dispute the gentleman's word that there is no doubt some damage done to apple trees. During this session or last session we have had a lot of apple trees brought up here that had the bark chewed off but those apple trees brought here were never trimmed or in a fruit-bearing state. I think they were pulled up somewhere in some shrubbery patch and brought here for the purpose of convincing us that the deer were eating these people out of house and home; but we have no other evidence nor never had any other evidence but what it might have been rabbits or wood chucks or ground squirrels that did the damage. We have taken it for granted that these things are true and we have provided a remedy for it in the Game Code which the Game Commission has asked us to do so that I do not believe it is necessary for the passage of this act.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there were three or four hearings before the Game Committee on the present Game Code which is now before the Governor and the same arguments you heard on this bill were presented before that Committee, a joint committee of the Senate and House of Representativs, and ample provision was mad in the present Game Code for this protection that is asked for. This bill is absolutely unnecessary. Any man that wants to come into the deer country can clear up a half an acre of ground and plant a half dozen or more apple trees and then kill off the deer and eat them. I say that this bill should be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, during the recess period today the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Rudisill, accused me of having been unfair in my arguments against his bill during the forenoon session, stating that I had made a false statement when I said that the code provided for the protection of land by allowing them to kill deer. I want to say at this time that during my two sessions as a member of this body I have never knowingly made any false statement before this House for the purpose of securing a vote either for or against a measure. I believe that at this time I owe it to myself and to my family that I put myself in the proper light before the gentlemen of this House, who heard the accusation, by reading from the Game Code, which is as follows: 'Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent any person actually residing upon and cultivating lands within this Commonwealth from killing any deer, regardless of sex or age, which he may fined actually engaged in the destruction of any fruit trees or crops on said land."

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined ni the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading of House Bill No. 1857 (Senate Bill No. 911), entitled

An Act providing fo rthe ascertainment and assessment of damages and benefits in proceedings to lay out, open, widen, vacate, extend, grade or changing the grade or lines of streets, lanes and alleys in boroughs; providing that this act shall apply to all proceedings when the damages shall not have been actually and finally ascertained and repealing all acts, general, local or special, conflicting therewith.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I see the sponsor of this bill is in the House, and I would like to have him explain the purpose and the necessity of this bill. Or I would like to know if there is anybody else here interested in this bill who can explain the purpose and necessity for it.

Mr. FRETZ. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill provides for the boroughs to pay the damages in the opening of streets in some of the counties. In our county the county pays it, and the borough is supposed to pay it. It only effects Bucks County as I understand it. I do not think it affects any other county.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Fretz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FRETZ. Proceed.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that this only applies to Bucks County?

Mr. FRETZ. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it that is the only county in the State where the county pays the damages in the opening of the streets in the boroughs.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I move you sir that the privilege of the House be extended to Senator Buckman in order to explain his bill.

The SPEAKER. That is a very unusual request or motion.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, it is unusual, but the rule might be suspended. It is very unusual to have an opportunity for a Senator to address the House.

The SPEAKER. I would say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that a similar request was refused to the Senator from Philadelphia, Senator Daix, a few weeks ago.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, if the Chair pleases, the action of the House a week ago might not be the action of the House now. I made that motion seriously and it was seconded I think by the Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, as we have done a number of unusual things in this House during this session, I suggest to you that you put the House at ease for a period of ten minutes to listen to the remarks of Senator Buckman, and it would not interfere with any rule.

The SPEAKER. The House can resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of hearing Senator Buckman.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I move you that the House resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. Mr. McNichol will kindly take the Chair.

MR. McNICHOL IN THE CHAIR.

After some time the Committee on the Whole House arose and the Chairman reported back to the House, House Bill No. 1857, Senate Bill No. 911, File Folio 2449, without amendments.

MR. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS IN THE CHAIR.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—2.

Chestnut, Rothenberger,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1632 (Senate Bill No. 672), entitled

An Act to amend an act approved the fourteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, entitled "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising, amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill to establish the budget system for boroughs in the State of Pennsylvania—that is if this is Senate Bill No. 672. It is too inflexible in its provisions. The budget system may be a good thing, but it should not be imposed indiscriminately upon the boroughs of the State. For instance, unless an estimate is made at the beginning of the year, no public improvement can be undertaken by a borough of the State. It must be included in the budget made up within sixty days after the first Monday of January. Another provision requires advertising and the award to the lowest responsible bidder of all contracts exceeding three hundred dollars. This is praiseworthy, but in some instances would be inconvenient and burdensome. The boroughs have the power under the law now to use this system if they want to use it. There is no occasion for the Legislature to make it compulsory upon the boroughs of the State. Therefore, I hope the House will vote the bill down.

BILL STRICKEN FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, I heartily endorse the remarks made by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter. I have examined the provisions of this bill closely, and I have no hesitation in saying that if this bill goes into effect that not one borough of the State will be able to run its finances without putting grave dangers upon the councilmen and the financial officers of the boroughs. It is entirely too drastic, and every man knows that boroughs require money pending the collection of taxes, and that it is a particularly hard job to run the finances. They could not do it under the provisions of this bill, and I move you, Mr. Speaker, that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House iBll No. 933 (Senate Bill No. 140), entitled

An Act prohibiting the erection of fences or similar structures above a certain height in suburban or similar districts of cities of the first class except under a permit; declaring certain fences a private nuisance and their erection a misdemeanor and prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions of this act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

NAYS—3.

Cook,	Horne,	Rothenberger,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1831 (Senate Bill No. 574), entitled

An Act requiring borough councils, township commissioners, township supervisors and school directors to file auditors' reports in the office of the clerk of quarter sessions; requiring the county commissioners to furnish books for that purpose; imposing certain duties on auditors; fixing the fee of the clerk of the court and providing for removal from office in case of failure to comply herewith.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, it does not appear to me that this bill is any improvement over the present law. The law as it now stands requires that auditors shall file their reports with the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions. This bill goes one step further and requires that the supervisors or the borough council or the poor board or school directors within ten days after their report has been completed, shall file it with the Clerk of the Court. Now, we have no assurance that these officers will be any more likely to file these accounts than the auditors themselves, and this bill provides no penalty in case the officers neglect to file their report.

I further call attention to the fact that on page two of the bill, line fourteen, it reads, "The Clerk of the Court shall receive a fee of two dollars for each entry to be made." Whether that applies to each item I am not certain in my mind. The bill is vague and for that reason I do not think it should pass.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1555 (Senate Bill No. 813), entitled

An Act relating to the assessment and payment of damages to owners of property abutting on State highways in certain counties damaged by a change of the existing lines and location of such State highway; imposing certain powers and duties upon the Highway Commissioner and the county commissioners and providing for the payment of such damages by such counties.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire whether there is anybody in the House can explain this bill. There does not appear to be anyone and therefore I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.
Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1598 (Senate Bill No. 850), entitled

An Act to further amend an act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer chief draughtsman superintendent of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part, requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1320, entitled

An Act to repeal an act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to tax traction engines and providing that the same shall be assessed by the several assessors of the counties of this Commonwealth in the same manner as other articles of personal estate liable for taxation are assessed"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain it to the House.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, as the law is now, traction engines or trailers used on farms pay license the same as automobiles. They also are taxed as personal property in that same township. There are some county commissioners who don't impose this tax in some counties, while in other counties the tax is imposed as it is now. This bill simply repeals the personal property tax. They are willing to pay the license to the State such as the automobiles, but we don't think that they should be doubly taxed. I think that it should have the support of every fair-minded member here.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cook.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cook, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether this is a revenue reducer and how much it amounts to?

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, that I cannot tell.

Mr. STERN. But it does reduce the revenue of Pennsylvania.

Mr. COOK. Simply for township purposes.

Mr. BENCHOFF. Mr. Speaker, I want to say about this tax that it seems to me it is an unjust one. There are four classes allowed in engines; in threshing, and the regular tax which is a revenue produced by the township, the personal property tax, the boiler inspection and the Compensation Act. All of these taxes work hardships on the farmer, because the farmer must meet the blunt of the burden at least. I think the tax should be repealed. I therefore ask you to repeal it and vote for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Clements,	Hough,	Luppert,	Robertson,
Graeff,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question has determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. MARVIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

SPEAKER BALDWIN IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to make a statement to the House and ask that the motion be withdrawn. The Chair wants to try to impress the House with the importance of all members being here to-morrow. We have practically done only one day's work this week. We are here and we can do a full day's work to-morrow and surely the members ought to be willing to work to-morrow. We have a calendar of something like one hundred and fifty bills on third reading and it is the wish and the hope of the Chair that the members will stay over to-morrow and in two days next week we can clean the third reading calendar. I would like to state to the House that it is impossible to get the calendars which have to be printed and put on the desks to-morrow morning in all probability earlier than 11.00 A. M. Such has been the condition during the whole session, and that is the reason, and the only reason, that the Chair has always had in feeling that there is no time gained by calling the House at 10.00 o'clock.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I do not see why we should not have a session tonight,—

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to request that the motion be withdrawn so that we can discuss the question. It will not be in order to discuss the question unless the motion to adjourn is withdrawn.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. MARVIN. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my second.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I would like to suggest that we have a session to-night. We all know that the session has been prolonged considerably and most of us have nothing to spend anyhow to go out and have a good time, so why not stay here and work. I feel that a majority of the members would be willing to stay here and work rather than to spend the evening in any other way. We came here late in the week to do business, and I do not see why we should not stay on the job. I feel that the majority of the members would be willing to come out to-night and have a session this evening, and clean off some of the bills.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, your suggestion that we adjourn to 11.00 o'clock on account of the bills not being on the calendar, I do not believe that we understood for the moment just what you meant by that answer. I think that we could go back on our calendar and take the bills and work on those bills to-morrow morning at 10.00 o'clock.

The SPEAKER. I meant to say the calendars will not be printed and on the desks.

Mr. COX. Oh, the calendars, I understand.

As you are aware, it has been the custom of previous Speakers to refer back to the previous day's calendar and work on that. I do not believe there can be any objection to that, and if we met an hour earlier, we probably could do better work.

RECESS.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I move that we take a recess until 8.00 o'clock this evening.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 5.55 P. M.) the House took a recess until 8.00 o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 8 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Richard J. Baldwin) in the Chair.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 660, entitled

An Act authorizing companies incorporated under the laws of any other state of the United States for certain purposes to erect and maintain buildings and to take have and hold real estate necessary and proper for such purposes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain the provisions of it and the necessity for an act such as this.

Mr. McKAY. Mr. Speaker, this bill was introduced by me by request. Now the purpose of the bill as I understand it,—I will read the letter that came with the request and the purpose of the bill and the provisions. "A foreign corporation,—meaning by that a corporation chartered in a State other than Pennsylvania,—is not permitted to hold real estate in Pennsylvania that is to say real estate so held is liable to escheat by the Commonwealth. The Legislature, on many occasions, in the past has, by various acts of assembly permitted certain foreign corporations, engaged in various kinds of business"—and Mr. Speaker I want to say right here that today of page 19 a bill introduced by the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Stites, passed this House, identical with this bill almost. Also a bill in the Senate which passed on the 23rd of May. I made a note of it on this letter, identical with this bill. "I am interested in this matter because a Delaware corporation operating moving pictures in Luzerne County desires to acquire title to real estate on which its theatres are located and situated; as a matter of fact, said company has already acquired title to some real estate, and it has been denied a mortgage loan on account of the title being questioned by the attorney for the bank." Mr. Speaker, this bill as I said before is almost identical with the one passed this afternoon on page 19, No. 1736. That is the purpose of the bill Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry of course that I could not hear what the gentleman said, but if the bill is not any better than the explanation, it certainly ought to be defeated. I would like to know from the gentleman if the bill does not open the way for foreign corporations to come into the State of Pennsylvania for the purpose of holding real estate without maintaining a principal office in the State of Pennsylvania?

Mr. McKAY. Mr. Speaker I presume that it would be their privilege.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker and I would like to know from the sponsor of the bill if he considers that good legislation for the people of Pennsylvania? Certainly the people of Pennsylvania ought to protect themselves against the invasion of any foreign corporation with the sole and express purpose of holding real estate within the territory of Pennsylvania, and I would ask that this House vote this bill down.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, in order that the members of the House may be made familiar with the provisions of this proposed act, I wish to call your attention to the fact that this act on its face opens the door to let in any foreign corpoation. Under our constitution it reserves that right, and the act of 1853, which was passed prior to our present constitution, is still in force. Now the gentleman says that acts have been passed in this Assembly and that Mr. Stites only this morning had one passed. That is true, and several other acts have been passed, both here and in the Senate, and why? Because the act of 1853 is still in force, preventing foreign corporations from coming into this State unless an act of Assembly is passed giving them the special privilege to come in here. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, this act is so clearly unconstitutional and in violation of the provisions of the act of 1853 that I move you now that it be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McKAY. Mr. Speaker, I move you that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

The SPEAKER. The only question before the House is on the motion made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, to strike the bill from the calendar.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there seems to have gotten into the minds of some of the members of the House a false impression regarding this bill. Now, in the first place—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that there is a motion before the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair decides the point of order is not well taken. The motion brings up further consideration of the bill.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, because of a misunderstanding of the bill, I would suggest to the House that the motion be voted down, and this is the reason: This act provides that

"it shall and may be lawful for any company incorporated under the laws of any other State for carrying on the business of furnishing amusement to the public to erect and maintain buildings such as theatres moving picture houses opera houses and other places of amusement within this Commonwealth and to have and to hold real estate to an amount necessary and proper for corporate purposes."

These words alone take the force out of the argument of my colleague from Philadelphia, because under the act of 1874 no corporation can do business in Pennsylvania unless it is registered unless it has paid to the Treasurer and Auditor General the funds provided by statute, and in a number of cases, one of which is in 200 Pa., it was distinctly held at that time by Chief Justice Mitchell that unless the company registered it could not do business. Here is the provision of this bill: In case a corporation is formed for the purposes of amusement such as a moving picture concern under the act of a sister State and comes in Pennsylvania to do business, it is provided here that the property shall be held for corporate purposes and that company must necessarily register. The holding of property without that registration would be absolutely valueless, and the company could do nothing else but get rid of it. These other acts have applied to manufacturing corporations, shipbuilding and corporations of a general mercantile kind, but this is an act that applies to a new class, namely, moving pictures, opera houses and theatrical corporations, and is, therefore, a little different in kind. It is one of that class where the entire class is in the same church and the various corporations are in different pews. It seems to me the act has some merit, and ought to receive the fair consideration of this House.

Mr. McKAY. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House, I will read this: It is dated April the third:

"Senate Bill No. 592, which was introduced about the same time as your bill in the House, covering the same subject, that is, authorizing foreign corporations organized for amusement purposes to hold real estate, has been passed by the Senate and is now in the House for consideration. I have been informed that it is in the Judiciary General Committee. Will you kindly exercise your good offices in behalf of this bill?"

That was the Senate bill introduced by Senator Catlin.

"I have already written to you in this connection, and will be pleased to have you do what you can consistently toward the passage of the legislation proposed."

Now, Mr. Speaker, I would move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the motion made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, to strike the bill from the calendar.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order at this time.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I understand, according to rule 19, that a motion to postpone is a privileged motion, or a privileged matter. The gentleman from Luzerne has made the motion to postpone, and I desired to second it, but the Chair did not give me the opportunity. I desire to know whether or not a motion to postpone does not preclude a motion to strike the bill from the calendar.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not so decide.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to give the gentleman any consideration that he may desire, and I will at this time withdraw my motion.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my seconding of the motion.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McKAY. Mr. Speaker, I move yo uthat further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present, for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1388, as follows:

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain the reasons why these instruments should be taken out under an execution in distress for rent.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, the idea of this bill is merely to exempt talking machines or musical instruments which are leased or hired from distress under execution for rent when the landlord has been notified, on the placing of them in the house, that they are not the property of the tenant.

Now, under the different Acts of Assembly from 1849 down we have exempted sewing machines, pianos, typewriters, soda water apparatus, electric fans and electric apparatus, and I really think it is only fair that the poor man, under this bill should have more chance of getting a talking machine into his house if the sellers of them know when they sell on the instalment plan that these machines will not be subject to rent if they have notified the landlord. It is really a poor man's bill and at the present time it is only the dishonest landlord who takes advantage to sell these machines after he is notified that they are merely leased or hird.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Spaker, I would like to know how it in any way affects the poor man when the poor man is not the seller of the instrument. He is only the lessee, is he not?

Mr. BRADY. In other words, if he wants to buy a talking machine there is some chance of the dealer selling a talking machine to him on instalment if he knows that if he notifies the landlord it is exempt from levy and sale on distress for rent.

Mr. SIMPSON. Does that answer my question with reference to helping the poor man whe nthe poor man is not the lessee and the seller or lessee is the only person to benefit by the passage of this bill?

Mr. BRADY. It helps the poor man in the sense that it gives him more of a chance to get the talking machine.

Mr. SIMPSON. How does it give the poor man a chance to own a talking machine when he only leases it and his interest could be sold because the only interest to protect is that of the lessee?

Mr. BRADY. The man is responsible, under the contract for the balance due.

Mr. SIMPSON. It certainly does not in any way protect the poor man; it does not protect the lessee; it does not protect the home; it does not protect the family that that instrument is put in, but it places in the hands of the people that handle these machines a weapon by which they can foist them on the poor people at the expense of the person who rents them their home and then say to the person who furnishes that home, after they have been swindled by these people, "you cannot possibly take that instrument for rent, I am the man that owns that and I own it to the exclusion of the man that I have taken the money from, and I own it to the exclusion of the man that owns the premises that that instrument is placed in." I say that an act of that kind does not help the poor man; it only just helps him out of his money. These fellows go around for the purpose of taking away from the poor people that which they ought to have for other purposes.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny have interested me considerably. It so happens that for some years I was counsel for a corporation that made considerable money, I believe, selling goods on the instalment or bailment lease; and it also happens that I happen to be the owner of some property and have tenants. Now I want to meet this question fairly, I want to meet this question from both sides, the side of the property owner and the side of the dealer in the instalment lease, and then come to the question of the tenant. Here is a bill which because of what Alexander Simpson, one of the leaders of the Pennsylvania bar, says in a nefarious practice, the practice of permitting the bailment lease at all, this system brings before us a bill of this character. As my colleague from Philadelphia has told you, the sponsor of this bill, other provisions have been made by Legislatures exempting certain property, and the purpose of those exemptions from levy by landlords is exactly the same as is found in this bill. Take, for instance, the sewing machines. The sewing machine was exempted because it was believed to be an item in the trade or livelihood of seamstresses and therefore it was believed proper to exempt them. Then, after a series of years, other instruments, other articles were exempted. Why, in the name of Heaven should soda water apparatus be exempted, and yet another Legislature has passed an act exempting soda water apparatus. A few years ago the General Assembly passed an act which provided that electric motors should be exempt from levy by landlords when notice was given. Why, in the name of Heaven, should a typewriter be exempted, and yet they have been exempted. I ask you then, gentlemen, when you come down to the proposition in the bill tonight, why should not a musical instrument be exempted. I do not think there is any man in this House that would dare to deny the proposition that it is wise, that it is prudent, that it is proper for our people, even though they are poor, to have musical instruments and to enjoy the benefit of good music even if it comes from the phonograph. This bill helps any poor man who is compelled, because of his poverty, to sign a lease and pay one dollar a month or two dollars or five dollars so that he and his children may benefit by its provisions. If, however, he puts in his home a fifteen dollar Victrola and after having paid ten dollars, twelve dollars or even fourteen dollars he should, by some misfortune, run back in his rent, his landlord has the right to come down on him and sell that home with its contents, including this machine. If he has paid five dollars on it the landlord, under the constable's levy, would take that instrument and under the contract which he has signed with the person that leased him that phonograph or that talking machine, under that lease the landlord or owner of the machine would enter the lease up and then if he ever got on his feet again he would be sold to the extent of his balance due on his contract. Now if you take this bill and pass it, it simply says to the landlord, "You will have to exempt that which the whole world agrees is wise for the people," namely, music, even if it is what is known as canned music. And, gentlemen, there may be cases, there may be cases where a tenant, a poor man, is taken advantage of by some hard-headed, hard-hearted salesman who forces him to sign a cut-throat lease: but there is a difference in this case. Under the law there is a chance to save that man, but yet they are under the rule. There are exceptions, and my good friend from Allegheny out there knows well enough that it is very very seldom that cases of that kind come before the courts. Therefore it seems to me that this is a meritorious act. If we have exempted pianos why not at this time exempt that which to the poor man is better than a piano, namely a talking machine.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. SIMPSON. Did I understand you to say that you was or had been an attorney for some of those instalment companies?

Mr. WALKER. You did, sir; I will give you the names if you wish.

Mr. SIMPSON. And now you want to leave the impression that you speak on this subject from a fair minded standpoint?

Mr. WALKER. I do sir.

Mr. SIMPSON. That you wish to place a sewing machine on a par in a man's home and on the same level or parity with one of these musical instruments you speak of?

Mr. WALKER. If that poor man believes that it would be to his benefit and pleasure to have a musical machine in his home, I say let him have it.

Mr. SIMPSON. Do you place that on a parity with a sewing machine?

Mr. WALKER. I do, sir.

Mr. SIMPSON. Did you ever know, in your experience, of people who signed the leases of these instalment houses and having failed to remit at the proper time the instalment houses, instead of the landlord, coming in after they have paid almost everything off on the lease and taking the entire stuff covered by the lease?

Mr. WALKER. I have heard of that in cases of household goods but not in cases of a piano.

Mr. SIMPSON. Would you say that that stood on the same level that you speak of, that these hard hearted landlords would come in and take these instruments that they haven't paid for?

Mr. WALKER. They should stand on the same level.

Mr. SIMPSON. The instalment man who compelled the person to sign the lease whereby they could take it in case of default and the landlord who furnished the house for the purpose of living in it?

Mr. WALKER. Unquestionably the owner of the goods sold by bailment would have the right in case of default to enter up his lease and issue execution; and, in like manner, the landlord would have the right upon the failure of the tenant to pay rent for the property to put that lease in the hands of a constable for collection, but there is a great distinction.

Mr. SIMPSON. When you have already taken it away by Act of Assembly?

Mr. WALKER. The difference between the two cases lies in this: That when that man entered as a tenant in that real estate he did not own the machine, therefore the benefit which the landlord had as of the date when the tenant entered his property was one thing and then at the expiration of a certain time he purchases under a lease a musical machine. Now then the landlord was not injured a single fraction by the introduction of that musical machine in the home, provided at that time the owner of the musical machine notified the landlord of the real estate that that machine was loaned or leased by him.

Mr. SIMPSON. Would that be a better proviso if the party leasing that machine or taking it into the home and having taken the money and paying it into his instalment institution that should have gone to pay the landlord?

Mr. WALKER. That is a possible occurrence, but the difference lies in this: Ordinarily the rent that is paid is from twenty-five to thirty dollars per month to the landlord of the real estate, but the rent paid by the tenant to the owner of the musical instrument is apt to be one dollar a week or two dollars a week, or some small sum, I wish to say that about the greatest amount I know to have been paid on a musical instrument, on this basis, is ten dollars a month.

Mr. SIMPSON. I wish to ask you another question: Under this Act that you speak so well for would it not make it a preferential claim with the lease to that for food stuff that was taken into the poor man's house?

Mr. WALKER. I can't conceive of that.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent at this time to introduce a bill which is a revenue raiser and must be introduced in the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the introduction of a bill at this time?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman to give an explanation.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I will say in explanation that this bill is to amend that portion of the Public Service Law which increases some of the fees, and adds others too, for the protection of certain documents and the filing and receipt of certain petitions. It is only an act which affects corporations and does not hurt the poor man any. As I understand, from the Public Service Commission, it will procure a revenue of between seventy-five and a hundred thousand dollars a year.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and unnanimous consent is granted.

By Mr. RAMSEY. House Bill No. 1984.

An Act to amend section forty-seven of article six of an act approved the twenty-sixth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, known as "The Public Service Company Law."

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Referred to the Committee on Military.

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1351, entitled

An Act to authorize the Water Supply Commission to build a dike or dikes for the protection of property in the Borough of Lawrenceville, Tioga County, and making an appropriation therefor.

Whereas The Borough of Lawrenceville Tioga County is situated on a low-lying plat between the Tioga and Cowanesque Rivers and immediately above the confluence of said rivers and

Whereas Said borough about fifteen years ago built dikes along both of said rivers to protect said borough from the waters of said rivers during the flood time and for said purposes issued bonds to defray the cost thereof and

Whereas By a flood during the month of June one thousand nine hundred and sixteen the waters of the river Cowanesque rose to such a height that they ran over said dikes and flooded said Borough of Lawrenceville doing great damage polluting the wells and leaving the land covered with refuse and river mud which caused sickness and death to the inhabitants thereof and

Whereas The Borough of Lawrenceville being a small community is unable to bear the expense of protecting itself further from the floods of the Cowanesque River therefore

Section 2 The work herein authorized shall be done in accordance with the plans specifications and estimates to be furnished by or submitted to approved by the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania

Section 3 No work shall be done or money expended for the purpose named in this act until the owners of the lands upon which such dike or dikes shall be built shall have filed with Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania an instrument in writing granting to the State the right to erect and forever maintain the dike or dikes aforesaid and releasing the State from all damages which may have accrued up to the date of execution thereof by reason of the overflow of such lands and nothing in this act shall be construed as a recognition or assumption of any liability on the part of the State for any damages done by the overflow of said river

Section 4 The sum of five thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the purposes aforesaid in this act to be paid by the State Treasurer upon the warrant of the Auditor General on requisition of the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1730, entitled

An Act defining the liability of husband and wife for crimes and tort committed by married women

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill is simply unnecessary legislation. It provides that a husband shall not be liable for the crime or torts committed by his wife. Now at the present time that is true. A husband is not liable for torts or damages done by his wife, nor is he liable for torts or damages done by his wife when he is not present aiding and abetting in that damage. At the Common Law he was liable, but since the passage of the Married Woman's Act, and the act allowing married women to be sued in their own name. The Supreme and Superior Courts have held that the Common Law rule has passed away, and he is now not liable for his wife's torts. Therefore this bill is not necessary.

BILL DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR.

I would like to move that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I was going to move to postpone this bill, because I find there has been a mistake by the printer. The bill is designated as File Folio 5767, whereas it is 5777. I think it is a very unusual procedure to strike this bill from the calendar in view of the fact that few of the members of the House have had an opportunity to read the bill and under those circumstances I would ask that this motion be voted down.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the motion of the gentleman from Lehigh by adding after the word "postponed" the word "indefinitely."

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I have made no such motion.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that I have made a motion to strike this bill from the calendar, which was seconded by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wobensmith, and that is the only thing before the House at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair decides the point of order is well taken.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER announced the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called for, and eighty-two gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and fifty in the negative, the question was decided in the affirmative, and the motion was agreed to.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, at the request of the sponsor of this bill, I move that it be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1842 (Senate Bill No. 918), entitled

A Supplement to an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven, entitled "An Act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance, and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll roads forming all or part of any State Highway and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining Highways and State-aid Highways; providing method of application for State-aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid Highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriation to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," providing that the State Highway Commissioner may take over, as a part of the system of State Highways, any public road leading from a State Highway to a State reservation or other State property.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill enables the Highway Department to take over any road leading from the State highway to a State reservation. Under this act there is no limit whatever attached to it as to distance. Even though the distance be fifteen or twenty miles, under this bill the Highway Department, without any action on the part of the Legislature, could take over that road. I do not believe that the opportunity ought to be given to extend the State roads in that manner.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. ROSS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the motion made by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, that this bill be stricken from the calendar, which was seconded by me, is the question now before the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state for the information of the gentleman from Northampton that the Chair did not know the gentleman had seconded the motion, when he entertained the motion to postpone consideration of the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOLLINGSWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the members here present thoroughly appreciate the intention of this bill. This is a bill that will act as a preventative of professional or habitual drug users becoming possessed of the various drugs that have affected the users to such an awful extent. Now, any of you gentlemen that were present at the hearing held by the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation could not help but be moved by the tragic descriptions given by the various gentlemen who spoke in favor of the most drastic regulation possible that the community might be safeguarded and a preventative as strong as possible thrown around the procuring of drugs. I do not know a more important piece of legislation that has come before you gentlemen for your attention and action than this. Every man in public life, particularly those men who have had had court experience, have seen the lamentable effects created by the use of drugs on the users; and it is a well-known fact that the greater percentage of those who commit crime are those who are addicted to the use of drugs. There is absolutely no reason, gentlemen, for the postponement of this bill and I feel satisfied that every man within the hearing of my voice will vote favorably, and I therefore, Mr. Speaker, oppose the motion to continue this bill for the present. We will vote on it now and I am sure that the House will vote in the affirmative.

Mr. HOLLINGSWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I made the motion for the postponement of this bill because Mr. Whitaker, who was partly sponsor of it, is not here, and I am perfectly willing to withdraw the motion.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I assent to the withdrawal and ask leave to withdraw my second to the motion.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, this measure is a very important one and one that will do more for humanity than any piece of legislation that we have had at this session and ought to be passed unanimously by the House.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz

SPEAKER BALDWIN IN THE CHAIR

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. THEODORE CAMPBELL from the Committee on Municipal Corporations reported as committed House Bill No. 1421, entitled,

An Act providing that all the powers and duties now vested by law in the select and common councils of cities of the first class shall be completely vested in a single body called the city council and fixing the qualifications time of election salary and term of office of the members thereof providing for the apportionment of cities of the first class into eight councilmanic districts providing that the mayor should cast a deciding vote in case of a tie vote in the city council providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for members of the city council in cities of the first class abolishing certain existing methods of nominations in such cases and the use of party or political names or appelations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Glass, will state his point of order.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that House Bill No. 1421 cannot be reported as committed and cannot be accepted as the report of the Committee, because the committee at its regular meeting, at which a quorum of the members were present, unanimously voted to have the bill reported with a negative recommendation.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call upon the Chairman of this committee to explain as to the roport of this bill.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, what Mr. Glass has said is true, but the members of the committee have a paper signed by seventeen members and ask that the bill be reported as committed and disregarded that it was supposed to be reported negatively. Today I refused to turn the bill over to any person to report it to the House and therefore it still remained in the committee.

The SPEAKER. Under the declaration of the Chairman of the Committee the Chair does not sustain the point of order raised and holds that the bill was properly reported.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. GLASS. I desire to know how many members of the Committee on Municipal Corporations constitute a quorum to do business?

The SPEAKER. The Chair decides that that is not debatable.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I insist on my point of order. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer, has opened the door so far as the discussion of the committee meeting is concerned because he asked the Chairman of the Committee to state the matter in connection with this bill, and therefore it is germane for me to ask this question.

The SPEAKER. The explanation of the Chairman of the Committee was given in answer to the inquiry of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer, and that question has not been disputed, which shows that a majority of the Committee has vouched for the report of the bill.

Mr. GLASS. May I, Mr. Speaker, at this time interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has stated that matters that occur in Committee are not debatable.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, if the gentleman gives permission?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I decline to be interrogated.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander, the Chairman of the Committee, whether or not there was a quorum present at the meeting for the purpose of transacting business this afternoon?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no knowledge or control of what occurred in the meeting of that committee this afternoon.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, may I direct that question to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander?

The SPEAKER. The Chair cannot rule as to that question, under the circumstances.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I think it is perfectly in order to take up the question as to what transpired at the meeting.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to state to the gentleman from Philadelphia that if there is any complaint to be made against the action of a committee, if it is reduced to writing and presented to the Chair, the Chair would decide whether it was a matter that should come before the House.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I raised the point of order that this bill should not be accepted. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer asked the Chairman of the Committee, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander, to make an explanation. Having gone to that extent I have a perfect right to interrgoate him.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia has a right to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny but the gentleman has declined, as he has a right to, and the incident is closed so far as that interrogation is concerned.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I hope that you have not finally disposed of this matter. I would like to say a word on it to you and to the House, because, sir, I take it that you are ex-officio a member of every committee of the House, and—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STERN. I do not know that there is any question before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is not well taken. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds.

Mr. REYNOLDS. And you have before you sir, a question which has not been brought out by Mr. Glass, but has arisen on the point of order, nor have you a question brought before you by Mr. Stadtlander—

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman desires to find fault with or criticize the Chair, the Chair will be glad to take the floor and answer.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, no, not at all. I am simply trying to place the matter before all of us, and that is the only reason why I am speaking. The question has been brought out by Mr. Beyer and it has been developed, sir, that a negative recommendation was made by this Committee, and that negative recommendation has been acknowledged by the gentleman—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is discussing what has occured in Committee, and that the Chair has repeatedly ruled, shall not be discussed on the floor.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, no sir, I am not. It was stated here on the floor of this House, and not in committee; it was stated by the Chairman of the committee, that is the way it came before this House, and that is the reason I have knowledge of it sir, not in committee work, it is on the floor of the House. I am talking about the transaction in this House, sir, and that is all I am talking about. I wish to call your attention, sir, to the fact that the Chairman of that Committee admitted that Mr. Glass' statement was right, and that the bill came out of the committee with a negative recommendation by that committee and then again, sir, that whole thing is overturned and the signatures are placed here to place that bill on the calendar without consulting the committee, or saying one word to it so far as we know, and you accepted it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander, produce the paper with the signatures?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I have the paper with the signatures in my pocket.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, object to passing the paper up front to the desk and having it read? If the paper develops the fact that a majority of the committee have signed to bring the bill before the House—

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, will you so declare that—

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will please read the petition.

The Clerk read the petition as follows: Short Council Bill. The undersigned as members of the Committee on Municipal Corporations, having re-considered the vote by which House Bill No. 778, was indefinitely postponed now certify that it is with their full knowledge and consent that said bill be reported out as committed. Signed by Messrs.—

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I do not think it is in order that the names upon that paper shall be read if the transaction of a Committee is not a part of the House records.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to request that the Clerk read the number of names signed to the resolution or motion.

The CHIEF CLERK. The resolution is signed by seventeen members.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to amend the number so as to refer to this bill or not?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I amend the number.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny desires to withdraw the presentation of the bill as there has been a mistake in the number on the petition.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, the thing has gone too far. He cannot withdraw it. If you will pay attention to what the Chief Clerk read, you will see that the bill—

The SPEAKER. The bill is not before the House. There is nothing before the House at this time.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadlander, has not withdrawn the bill in the presence of this House. No statement has been made to that effect.

The SPEAKER. The point is properly taken. What disposition does the gentleman from Philadelphia desire to have made of the bill?

Mr. THEODORE CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I wish to withdraw the bill at this time.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to report from the Committee on Labor and Industry House Bill No. 1152.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman that he has been advised by the Clerk that the bill presented by the gentleman from philadelphia, Mr. Glass, is not the original bill.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, in presenting House Bill No. 1152, it is a copy of the original bill, which was in the Committee on Labor and Industry. The chairman of the committee misplaced the original bill and he asked that this copy be made, the white copy, and that it should be reported out.

The SPEAKER. The Chair decides that this bill cannot be received.

POINT OF INFORMATION.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of information.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, if a required quorum is present at a committee meeting and a motion is made that a bill be reported with a negative recommendation, properly seconded, and unanimously passed, can the chairman of that committee, or is it within the discretion of the chairman of that committee to withhold that bill with that recommendation after the required motion has been made and voted upon by a properly constituted committee?

The SPEAKER. The chair has said repeatedly that it is a general proposition, not only in legislative bodies, but in committees of all kinds, that a committee can at any time reconsider its action.

Mr. GOLDER. When, may I ask? After a motion has been made and carried? That bill was disposed of by that committee.

The SPEAKER. No bill is disposed of until it is in the possession of the House, so far as the committee is concerned.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, one of the most pleasant associations that I formed in this session was with the chairman of the all-important Committee of Municipal Corporations, and I have a deep, sincere and honest affection for Mr. Stadtlander—

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman desires to discuss what took place in a committee, it is out of order.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire an answer to my original question upon my point of information.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already answered the question.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would ask unanimous consent to have a motion considered at this time.

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the motion will be considered.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1637, File Folio 8703, entitled

An Act authorizing the Governor upon certain conditions to suspend by proclamation restrictions relating to labor contained in any law of this Commonwealth and providing for the publication of such proclamation and the payment of the costs thereof on page 34 of to-day's calendar, be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what is the purpose of sending this bill back to the Committee on Appropriations, since there is no appropriation attached to it, and the bill came originally from the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I make this motion at the request of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, who is the sponsor for the bill. After I make the explanation to Mr. Maurer, which I will do later, I believe that explanation will be perfectly satisfactory to him.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House extend its congratulations to the Legislative correspondents at their biennial dinner to-night and that as a mark of honor to the newspaper men engaged in reporting this session and for the purpose of releasing the faithful few who are compelled to report the proceedings this evening that this House do not adjourn until eleven o'clock to-morrow morning.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10.50 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1538, entitled

An Act to amend section ten of an act approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-three entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, I desire the sponsor to explain the provisions of this bill.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor I have been requested to explain the provisions of the bill.

The act of 1893 provided who may or who may not serve as election officers in Pennsylvania and among those exempt are employes of cities and unincorporated districts. Prior to the passage of the School Code, school boards were considered as unincorporated districts. Since the passage of the School Code in 1911, however, the higher courts have ruled that school boards are incorporated districts and therefore school teachers can no longer serve as election officers. Now this bill amends the act of 1893 so as to permit school teachers to serve as election officers throughout the Commonwealth. That is all the bill does.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House if the whole purpose of this bill was simply to permit school teachers to act as election officers I would have no objection to it. It goes further than that. The act which this bill attempts to amend uses the words "incorporated district" not "unincorporated district" and as the law has been construed covers the employes and officers of boroughs, townships, etc. Now, if there is any necessity or any reason why a city employe could not serve as an election officer certainly the same reason exists as to why a borough employe or borough officer should not be permitted to act as an election officer. For that reason if there is any necessity for the act it should be made to apply to all of these employes.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor of the bill, I move you that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 741.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 7, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval Senate Bill No. 741, entitled "An Act to provide for a stadium in cities of the first class."

This bill authorizes Commissioners in charge of public parks in Philadelphia to build and maintain in any park a stadium. The bill also provides that Councils of such city shall appropriate to said Commissioners the funds required for such purpose.

The erection of a staidum is to be commended and Philadelphia needs such a structure. Philadelphia is wholly competent now by law to erect a stadium if the city wants one. It can erect as many as it wishes. But it is scarcely good policy to compel Councils to pay bills they do not contract. The tax-paying body should not be denied a voice in a tax-paying procedure.

The sentiment of the people of the city should be expressed through Councils and the city should not be directed by Act of Assembly to provide the money for stadia or other structures the city may not want.

Let this matter rest where it manifestly belongs—with the city concerned.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RULE 21 DISPENSED WITH FOR BALANCE OF SESSION.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, in order to expedite the business of the Senate, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 21 of the Senate, which requires that amended bills be noted on the calendar, be dispensed with for the balance of the session, otherwise it will take up a very large amount of time. This is the usual procedure.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The suspension of any rules of the Senate by vocal consent must be unanimous, because under any other circumstances the Chair would be unable to determine whether two-thirds were voting in the affirmative. The rule of the Senate providing for dispensing with Rule 21 provides that the consent of two-thirds of the members present shall be necessary to dispense with any rule. The Senator from Delaware can move that Rule 21 be dispensed with for the balance of the session. Does he so move?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21 of the Senate be dispensed with for the balance of the session.

VOTE OF THANKS FOR FLOWERS.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. President, I move that the Representatives and the Senator from Delaware County be extended a vote of thanks for the beautiful flowers on our desks this evening.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, without appearing to want to shirk or at least to escape the thanks of the Senate, I want to say that the beautiful flowers came from the members of the House, and in the goodness of their hearts they included the Senate in the distribution. There are a great many other things besides flowers which are raised in Delaware County sometimes, but it is a fine thing to have a sample of some of the best things we do raise, but I want to vote and I desire to have the Senator eliminated, because he had nothing to do with it and was simply included in the gift by his large hearted associates in the House.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair agrees that they raise other things in Delaware County besides flowers. They raise big-bodied, big-minded, big-hearted men there. The Senator from Cambria withdraws in deference to the Senator from Delaware his original motion, and moves that the members of the House from Delaware County be thanked for the flowers which adorn the desks of the Senators to-night.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk convey the thanks of the members of the Senate to the Representatives from Delaware County who have made this beautiful gift.

BILLS RECOMMITTED.

Mr. RAYMOND E. SMITH. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 899 (House Bill No. 1247), on final passage, entitled

An act to amend fifth clause of section three of an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine entitled "An act relating to food defining food providing for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception by prohibiting the manufacture or sale the offering for sale or exposing for sale or the having in possession with intent to sell of adulterated misbranded or deleterious foods prescribing certain duties of the Dairy and Food Commissioner in reference thereto and providing penalties for the violation thereof" be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for a public hearing.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I hope that this motion will not prevail. This bill has been amended at the instance of the Dairy and Food Commission to meet their objection by striking out "all processes other than electric processes." Pennsylvania is but one of three states in the Union that prohibits the bleaching of flour by electric process and this bill has been fully considered and all objections of those who raised objections have been met and I therefore can see no good purpose that could be served by sending this bill back to the committee for further consideration.

Mr. RAYMOND E. SMITH. Mr. President, I wish to say that the opponents of this bill have arranged and have been promised a hearing by the Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation and this hearing has been arranged for to-morrow, and the people who are interested in this bill are on the cars right now on their way to Harrisburg, and I do not think it would be fair, it would hardly be a matter of senatorial courtesy, to refuse a public hearing on a measure so important to the health and welfare of the great millions of people as this is, and I hope this body will see its way clear to support my motion and give us a hearing.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, with the explanation of the Senator from Crawford and the understanding that the hearing be held to-morrow and that the Committee act upon it, I withdraw my objections and will vote in favor of the bill going back to committee.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, for the past several weeks, a sub-committee of the Committees on Appropriations of the Senate and House of Representatives have been holding hearings relative to the departmental expenses and have never had the opportunity of considering these various increases of salaries asked for. I therefore move that Senate Bill No. 726, on third reading, entitled

An Act granting an increase in salary to certain employes of the Executive Legislative and Judicial branches of the Commonwealth and penitentiaries

Senate Bill No. 1108, on third reading, entitled

An Act to regulate the salaries of certain officers of the Senate and House of Representatives for regular biennial sessions of the Legislature which may be in excess of one hundred and fifty (150) days and Senate Bill No. 1190, on third reading, entitled

An Act authorizing the appointment of an executive controller and subordinate officers and defining their powers and duties be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations, in order that they may consider these increases.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I call for a vote on each bill separately.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Burke, asks for a division of the question.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jenkins, will state his point of order.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, the motion includes more than one subject, it includes three separate bills, and, I take it, that the motion is incorrect so far as it refers to more than one bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Philadelphia that it is perfectly proper to include them all in one motion. Those who object to these bills all being included in the same motion have their remedy by a division of the question, which division of question has been asked for by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Burke. The Chair will, therfore, take the vote on recommitting Senate Bill No. 726.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to recommit Senate Bill No. 726?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, before yo uvote on that bill, I hope that this motion will not prevail. I will reiterate the remarks of Mr. Eyre a little while ago, I do not see any good reason why this bill should be recommitted. It has been amended once and it is up now for final passage. Bill No. 726 increases the salaries of the State employes who receive fifteen hundred dollars, or less, one hundred and fifty dollars a year. I want to say it is a meritorious bill and God knows they are entitled to the increase. I hope that the motion of the Senator from Chester will not prevail.

And the question recurring?

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BURKE and Mr. VARE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20.

Baldwin,	Graff, W. P.,	McConnell,	Schantz,
Beales,	Haldeman,	McNichol,	Sones,
Beidleman,	Homsher,	Miller,	Tompkins,
DeWitt,	Jones,	Nason,	Warner,
Eyre,	Lynch,	Sassaman,	Wasbers,

NAYS—23.

Buckman,	Endsley,	McKee,	Snyder,
Burke,	Graff, J. F.,	Patton,	Sproul,
Catlin,	Hindman,	Phipps,	Stewart,
Craig,	Jenkins,	Salus,	Vare,
Croft,	Leiby,	Semmens,	Whitten,
Crow,	Martin,	Smith, R. E.,

So the question was determined in the negative.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 726, as follows

An Act granting an increase in salary to certain employes of the executive legislative and judicial branches of the Commonwealth and penitentiaries

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all employes of the executive legislative and judicial branches of the State government and all employes of the several penitentiaries excepting only such officers and employes of the legislature as are employed during the session of the Legislature only engaged in any service or occupation whatsoever and receiving a salary of fifteen hundred dollars or less shall receive an increase of one hundred and fifty dollars per annum

Section 2 The increases in salary herein provided for shall apply to all employes whether employed in a position for which a salary is fixed by law or whether paid from a contingent or special fund

Section 3 Provision for the payment of the increase in salary herein provided for shall be made in the general appropriation act This act shall take effect immediately upon receiving the signature of the Governor.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations if he has considered the amount involved in this bill, as to whether he has considered this in his balances from the present condition of the State Treasury, or anticipating the increase from the revenue bills now being passed.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Philadelphia, I would say that we have considered this bill, and while we realize that it will cost the State of Pennsylvania a large sum of money, probably three or four hundred thousand dollars a year, yet we considered this to be in aid of the employes of the State, who are now very much underpaid. We have considered the balances and have had to take into consideration the revenue measures which we hope will be passed. Of course, if the revenue measures which are before the Legislature, or some of them, are not passed, we will then be short of money, very much short of money. Practically all of our appropriations thus far considered have been considered on the basis of receiving additional revenues from this session of the Legislature, and unless we do receive such increase in the revenues, the appropriation program cannot go through.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I hold in my hand a letter from the Head of the Department of Health, in which he says to me:

"Senate Bill No. 726 proposes a fixed increase of salary for all of our employes receiving $1,500.00 or less per annum.

"It takes effect only after it is signed by the Governor, leaving salaries in uncertainty for an indefinite period from June 1st, until the date of its approval.

"The salaries of employees of the several Departments performing the same character of work have never been standardized and as you know, vary quite considerably. This makes a very uneven foundation wall that it might be well to level up before building upon it with a standard rate.

"Our Department has eight hundred and eighty-seven employees in the Dispensaries and Sanatoria and two hundred and twenty-six in other divisions who will be effected by this bill.

"It will mean an increase in the Department of Health alone of $333,900.00 for two years. I have recommended in my budget increases in salary amounting to approximately $82,000.00 for the two years, and have calculated in my Tuberculosis Appropriation for an increase in cost of employees of about $100,000.00.

"Senate Bill No. 726 will require $150,000.00 more than I have made provision for.

Faithfully yours,
SAMUEL G. DIXON."

Mr. President, that was my object in asking that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations, in order that we might consider just what we are doing. It seems to me that the Senate will make a mistake by putting out these bills in parcels in this way, without knowing what it is going to cost the State of Pennsylvania to do this work, and that is the reason that I shall have to vote against the bill upon its final passage.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I will.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny Mr. Burke, will proceed with his interrogation.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, How did the Senator from Chester vote on the Constabulary Bill?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, and increased one man's salary three thousand dollars?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I did, because I believed that the war conditions justified the placing of the State Constabulary in a position where it would have the support of every man in this Senate.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, does the Senator not believe that the laborer that works in the park on account of the war conditions which brought about the price of potatoes at four dollars a bushel, flour at sixteen dollars per barrel, and pork at thirty cents a pound is entitled to some consideration.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I am not going to enter into any gallery play with the Senator from Allegheny. I have stated my reasons for voting against this bill because it has not had proper consideration. I am as greatly in favor of paying men fair salaries as any man in this Senate and if the subcommittee of the Committee on Appropriations are given the opportunity to consider all of these salary bills, I think I shall be found going as far as the Senator from Allegheny in voting for fair salaries for State employes.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I will call the Senator's attention to gallery playing. You talk about a gallery play, but I do not know what is more of a gallery play than a motion to increase salaries by leaps and bounds, by thousand of dollars, three thousand dollars, and then oppose every salary bill that has been offered here by some subterfuge, sending it back to the committee, which increases the poor fellow's salary that receives two dollars and a half and three dollars a day. If that is not a gallery play, I don't know what is. I hope this bill will pass and put it up to the Governor of Pennsylvania, who signed the other bill, 725, to increase the employes of the cities of the second class. He will know whether appropriations are passed by the Senate or not, and if there is not money there it will be up to him. I believe this Senate ought to pass the bill to meet the conditions of the country. The country is now in an awful condition, and the employees need the money.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23.

Beidleman,	Endsley,	McKee,	Snyder,
Buckman,	Graff, J. F.,	Patton,	Sproul,
Burke,	Hindman,	Phipps,	Tompkins,

Catlin,	Homsher,	Miller,	Stewart,

DeWitt,	Lynch,	Sassaman,	Washers,
Eyre.

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

In the midst of the stormy period, through which we are now passing, we realize the extreme necessity of Thy guidance and direction.

Inspire us to rise to the supreme needs of the hour, to prove ourselves men worthy of the great trust reposed in our care. 'Tis a time not merely for deliberation but also for concerted action. Teach us so to act that our deeds will result in the greatest good for the greatest number.

Most fervently do we beseech Thee to bless all efforts made in behalf of the cause of universal democracy for the establishment of which our country is now waging battle. Let all citizens of our State and of every State in the Union give of their strength, of their energies, and of their means towards bringing the titanic struggle to a victorious end. RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON SENATE BILL NO. 615.

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 615 (House Bill No. 1432), File Folio 1819, entitled

An Act to amend sections four and five of an act approved the second day of April one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight entitled "An Act to ascertain and appoint the fees to be received by the several officers of this Commonwealth" on page 40 of the calendar of May 29, was defeated on final passage be reconsidered.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill amends the fee bill of 1868, under which all of the county officers, the prothonotary, the clerk of the orphans court, the register and the recorder of deeds are paid. I simply want to state for the information of the House what the fee bill is. It picks out from the fee bill of 1868 the clerks' fees and amends them. Those of the members of the House who were present at the time the bill was under consideration will recall that the increase is enormous, multiplied by a thousand in one case, that is, the clerk would get about one thousand times more than he does now for the same service. I do not want to debate the bill, but there is no occasion for the increase of these fees, because as far as I am able to learn no demand has been made except from the clerks themselves.

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, this act relates to the fees of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions. It amends the old act of 1868, which has been on the statute books for nearly half a century, and which is entirely inadequate at the present time. I have a letter here from the prothonotary of our county in which he states that "Under the old act our fees in this county seldom amount to more than two hundred and twenty-five dollars in one year, and if matters continue as they are, we would be glad to be relieved from the office of clerk of the quarter sessions court and still retain our office." This bill just relates to the fees. This bill was thoroughly considered. It passed the Senate and lacked only two votes of passing this House, and therefore I think should receive further consideration from this body.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this fee bill, which is to be amended by this bill, which is now intended to be revived, has been in operation for almost fifty years. As I mentioned a moment ago, it was picked out of the general fee bill under which all of the offices, the courthouse offices of the several counties of this Commonwealth, collect their fees. It was picked out for special attention. The gentleman from Berks, who looked after this bill in the House, was frank enough to say that its purpose was to increase the salary of the clerk of the quarter sessions court in Berks County so that he would get enough fees to pay the salary fixed for clerks in counties with more than a hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants which did not pay fees. That is where the bill had its origin, and I challenge any member of this House to say that he has heard of any demand in his own district for increasing the fees of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions. Now in order to refresh the recollections of the members of the House, I will call their attention, as I did when this bill was before this body recently to some of the increases. All fifteen-cent fees which are now paid for searches and filing of papers are increased to twenty-five cents. That does not look large, but to the poor fellow who would step into the clerk's office and ask to see a paper, where he now pays fifteen cents, if the clerk would choose to collect it he would have to pay twenty-five cents, which might mean something to him. For merely writing on the back of the paper "Filed this eleventh day of June, 1917," when a man gets fifteen cents for that it seems to me that he is fairly well paid. In surety of the peace and desertion cases, the old fee bill was sixty cents; this is increased to two dollars, more than three times as much. For handling a road view, which isnt' a very laborious operation as those members of the House who are lawyers know, the clerk receives ninety cents under the present fee bill. That is increased to five dollars, more than five times as much. For recording papers, he receives now a cent for every eight words. This is now made twenty-five cents for every hundred words, and that is a very substantial increase, and so it is all through the whole bill Everything is an increase and for one service for which he now gets seventy-five cents, for discharging a panel of jurors—assuming there are forty-eight in the panel—he will get twenty-four dollars, where he got seventy-five cents before. Now, of course, if the members of this House are representing their clerks instead of the taxpayers of their respective counties, they will vote for this bill. If they are representatives of the people, as we have heard so many of them say, and want to protect the poor and oppressed of their county, they will vote against this bill. I am glad there is an opportunity for a reconsideration of this bill before a full House, and we will see how the Democrats of this House, for that is where this bill arose, we will see how willing these gentlemen are to practice what they preach.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I just want to call your attention to the statements made by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter. He has picked out a few items in this bill and has led you to think that it would increase the salaries of the clerks of quarter sessions court about one thousand per cent. That is not a fact. In the item last referred to, for certifying the pay of the jurors, increasing that to fifty cents each and thereby making the fee twenty-four dollars for the entire panel, that is not the meaning and intention of the bill. It is simply intended that where the clerk of the quarter sessions court now receives seventy-five cents for the entire panel, if this bill becomes a law he shall receive an extra fifty cents for any one particular juror who might be discharged before the term of court has expired, and it is not an increase at all of from seventy-five cents to twenty-four dollars. Now in the other items referred to, there are so few of them in the course of the conduct of the business of the clerk's office that it does not increase the fees, or does not increase the fees in our county more than five hundred dollars a year. Now there is no reason why, when this House is passing one bill after another increasing the salaries of the judges, which has now become a law by reason of the Governor's signature—of the referees also, that these men, these clerks of the court, whose duties have incerased, should not likewise be increased, that they should be given adequate compensation for their services. This bill by all means should pass, and I hope the gentlemen will see to it. The trouble in our county is right here. Under the old fee bill, every item of fees is classified, and then we come on down to where it says, "for similar services, the fees shall be the same," and right there is the thing which this bill strives to remedy. There may be more or less contention between the clerk of the quarter sessions court and the county controller when the clerk for similar services desires to retain a similar fee, and if the county controller is not in accord with the clerk of courts, he simply holds up the clerk's fees, and that is what this bill attempts to rectify. It simply puts that work now known as "similar service" as a particular part of this fee bill, specifically described and the fees positively decided upon. That is all there is to this bill, and there is no reason why it should not pass.

Mr. WALTER. I desire to read that particular clause in the bill which the gentleman from Northampton said is not an increase: "Certificate for pay for jurors, each juror to be paid by the county fifty cents." Now I will stake my reputation as a lawyer—and at home I have some though I may not enjoy much here—that that means that for every juror in the panel the clerk will receive fifty cents and for forty-eight jurors he will get forty-eight dollars.

With respect to the similar service feature in this bill I am inclined to agree with some of the strictures cast upon the Civil Service Bill which I advocated here a few weeks ago, namely, that this is a scheme to raise salaries and grab fees. If the gentleman from Northampton considers this a specimen of similar service, that is what this bill is, a scheme to raise salaries and grab fees and the poor devil in the county will have to pay it.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, I just want to add a word. It seems that the gentleman from Franklin is not so much interested in the defeat of this bill as he is interested in involving the Democratic side of the House.

Mr. STRAUSS. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the charges of my friend from Franklin, Mr. Walter, I want to say this: I have heard this plea three times and there is really nothing in it, if you take the bill and compare it item for item, to make a big hullabaloo over. To change an item for fifteen cents to a quarter is really nothing. This is an amendment to the act of 1868 and I know as a fact—he admitted it the other time—that the clerk of quarter session in Franklin County is an attachment of the Clerk of the orphans court because the office in itself is too poor to pay for a Clerk and it is so in many of the smaller counties. As I said, this is an amendment to the Act of 1868 and since then the Clerks of the courts of quarter sessions have been obliged, by Acts of Assembly, to perform other services that were not then in their line of duty and no fees are attached for the performance of those duties. Now here there are some more fees added where there were no fees provided and this bill should pass for I know it will not increase the fees of the Clerk of the court of quarter sessions what they earn, and in a county like Berks and other large counties the excess fees will go to the county.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provision of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the roll be verified.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified and was as follows:

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1710.

Mr. WALKER offered a motion, which was twice read as follows:

Moved by Mr. Walker, seconded by Mr. Glass, that the vote by which House Bill No. 1710, File Folio 6289, entitled

An Act providing for the entry upon the margin of the record of any mortgage of all assignments releases extension of time of payment changes in the terms thereof or other agreements affecting same and validating all such entries heretofore made was defeated on final passage on June 8th, be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill was defeated on Friday last in my absence. I was called home on Thursday night and did not expect this bill to be reached on Friday. This bill is a companion bill of a bill passed unanimously on Thursday night last House Bill No. 1709, and was sent here by two of the best title insurance companies of Pittsburgh, and I had it examined by some of the best title lawyers in Pittsburgh. It merely makes legal what has been a custom for years and there is some question under the present Recording Act whether there is ample authority for making marginal notices on the records and I ask that this motion be adopted and the bill then passed.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1822, as follows

An Act to amend section three hundred and fourteen of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section three hundred and fourteen of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled "An Act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" which reads as follows

"Section 314 At any time after an injury the employe if so requested by his employer must submit himself for examination at some reasonable time and place to a physician or phisicians legally authorized to practice under the laws of such place who shall be selected and paid by the employer to submit to the examination by the physician or physicians selected by the employer the board may upon petition of the employer order the employe to submit to an examination at a time and place set by it and by the physician or physicians selected and paid by the employer or by a physician or physicians designated by it and paid by the employer and if the employe shall without reasonable cause or excuse disobey or disregard such order he shall be deprived of his right to compensation under this article The board may at any time after such first examination upon petition of the employer order the employe to submit himself to such further examinations as it shall deem reasonable and necessary at such times and places and by such physicians as it may designate and in such case the employer shall pay the fees and expenses of the examining physician or physicians and the reasonable traveling expenses and loss of wages incurred by the employe in order to submit himself to such examination The refusal or neglect without reasonable cause or excuse of the employe to submit to such examination ordered by the board either before or after an agreemnt or award shall deprive him of the right to compensation under this article during the continuance of such neglect or refusal and the period of such neglect or refusal shall be deducted from the period during which compensation would otherwise be payable

"The employe shall be entitled to have a physician or physicians of his own selection to be paid by him participate in any examination requested by his employer or ordered by the board" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 314 The employe shall be entitled to have a physician of his own selection to treat him for his injuries during the entire period of his injury or disability and the services of such physician shall be paid by the employer but at any time after an injury the employe if so requested by his employer must also submit himself for examination at some reasonable time and place to a physician or physicians legally authorized to prectice under the laws of such place who shall be selected and paid by the employer If the employe shall refuse upon the request of the employer to submit to the examination by the physician or physicians selected by the employer the board may upon petition of the employer order the employe to submit to an examination at a time and place set by it and by the physician or physicians selected and paid by the employer or by a physician or physicians designated by it and paid by the employer and if the employe shall without reasonable cause or excuse disobey or disregard such order he shall be deprived of his right to compensation under this article The board may at any time after such first examination upon petition of the employer order the employe to submit himself to such further examinations as it shall deem reasonable and necessary at such times and places and by such physicians as it may designate and in such case the employer shall pay the fees and expenses of the examining physician or physicians and the reasonable traveling expenses and loss of wages incurred by the employe in order to submit himself to such examination The refusal or neglect without reasonable cause or excuse of the employe to submit to such examination ordered by the board either before or after an agreement or award shall deprive him of the right to compensation under this article during the continuance of such refusal or neglect and the period of such neglect or refusal shall be deducted from the period during which compensation would otherwise be payable

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, this is a bill that seeks to amend the Workmen's Compensation Act. Govenor Tener in 1913 appointed an industrial accident commission to study industrial accidents in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and after two years of very careful study, by a very competent board, a report was made to the Legislature of 1915. This report was finally embodied in the draft of a bill which was given wide distribution, circulated among the manufactures of the State of Pennsylvania, and challenged the attention of the owners of industry, of workmen, of workmen's organizations, of men learned in the law, and of the citizenship of the Commonwealth in general. After it was finally enacted into law, the Attorney General of this Commonwealth at a public hearing said that he had given careful and exhaustive study to the Workmen's Compensation acts inforced in the states of this Union and in foreign countries and that he believed, and the statement that he made was endorsed by the chief executive of the state, that the Workmen's Compensation Act passed by the Legislature of 1915 of the state of Pennsylvania, was one of the most perfect ever enacted into law. That Act became effective and operative on the first day of January 1916, scarcely eighteen months ago. After it became operative, a Bureau of Rates was established. All companies who entered into the business of insuring their men against compensation accidents were compelled to adopt certain standards rates. The business written during these eighteen months has been in compliance with that command. I submit to you gentlemen of the House, is less than eighteen months a sufficient period of time to amend this very important piece of Legislation in a way that will throw it wide open and make a very grave change in the risks that are being incurred by the various concerns who are insuring against industrial accidents? Is this period of time ample to have assembled sufficient information upon which to base actuarial changes? Is it not too early to attempt to amend this important piece of legislation in so drastic and radical a manner as this bill provides? It provides not only that the employee shall be privileged to employ his own physician, but it provides that that physician shall, or may attend that employee during the entire period of his disability. I believe, gentlemen, that the Act has not yet had a sufficient trial to at this time amend it in so radical a way, and I trust that the House will vote this bill down.

I move you Mr. Speaker, that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ADAM C. SCHAEFFER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House this bill provides for the free selection of a doctor by any employee who is injured, which is not more than right. We have had cases, and I am going to cite a few,—one case where a man was in an explosion of gas. The compensation doctor after treating him for fourteen days ordered that man back to work. That man's both hands were like a piece of liver. We went to his family physician and he reported to the family physician what the compensation doctor had told him, that if he did not return to work, he would not receive any compensation. His family physician said you stay at home, you are not in condition to return to work, and he did so.

Another case where a man was bumped between two cars in the mines. He received a hernia. The compensation doctor after treating him for fourteen days ordered that man to return to work. He went to his family physician. The family physician examined him and said "Don't you go to work." He said, "you go to the hospital." That man went to the hospital. The doctors of the hospital examined him and said to him, "who told you to go to work?" "Why," he said, "the compensation doctor." "Well," they said, "that man is crazy, you are in no condition to work." They put him on the operating table and operated on him. Now Mr. Speaker, this is a just bill. I do not see why any man that is injured should not have the say to who is going to treat him and I ask you in all fairness to support this measure.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as I view this bill and its provisions I cannot see where it effects compensation to the injured workmen after fourteen days.

The incidents recited by the gentlemen from Schuylkill, Mr. Schaeffer, do not in any way affect the compensation which those men receive. If the compensation doctor, as he states, did order those men to work, and that they, under the provisions of the present act, applied to their own family physicians, and he directed them to remain away from work, I take it that that would not affect their compensation. They would, however, be compelled perhaps to bear the expense of their own physician, but I view this bill from a different point of view. There are numerous corporations in Pennsylvania who operate their own compensation through relief societies. If this bill were to become a law, it would prohibit those large corporations from having their own physicians. I do not believe that this is the time when the compensation act should be amended, because of the facts as stated by the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, because of the insurance proposition, and especially because this act in itself not only permits them to employ their own family physician, but it says that they shall employ them for the entire period of disability at the expense of the employer. That itself is the part of this act which upsets all of the ratings of the present day, when they are just in their educational proceedings, when they are just about finding out what it would cost to carry this compensation. Now we make an act which will allow them to employ physicians for the entire period of disability, and the whole work of two years by the Compensation Board and the Insurance Rating Bureau must go over. I hope that the men of this House will view this situation from the broad point of view and permit us to go on for two more years until we have come to almost perfection in this compensation business; and I am sure that if at that time it is necessary to shorten the time of compensation, to pay more money to the physicians and to the hospitals, that the men of this state who are employers will come to this body and say to this body, "Now after four years we are ready to say to the workmen of Pennsylvania that we can give that more consideration, and we have gone into it further and proven it to be the best in the world." I hope at this time that this bill will not pass.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as the gentleman from Lancasterr, Mr. Hess, said, the commission has been appointed by Governor Tenor to draw up this bill, this workmen's compensation act. The commission worked for four years, not for two. It made its first report in 1913, and again in 1915, and the bill was amended and rebuilt eight different times. Eight tentative drafts of that bill were drawn up and then changed. At the time it was passed by the members who were here at that time, it was generally understood that it would do until the next session, and we would find out its weaknesses, and then we could remedy such defects as we may have found. Those of us who have been close to this act have discovered a good many defects. We have a bill coming after this one, trying to remedy a good many, a bill by Representative Glass, trying to remedy perhaps a dozen defects, administrative defects, however. We have another bill which we may reach in a few days, trying to remedy another defect. This is a defect, a defect of the physician. We find upon experience that the company physician does not give good results. We find in many cases that he is an incompetent, and is trying to make a reputation for himself with the company by getting the men back to work very quickly, and also by keeping them out of work up until the fourteenth day. I tell you an injustice is being done. We would not be here asking for anything if there was no reason for it. It is an injustice to the physician; you take a mining patch or small town, and what incentive would there be for a good physician to settle there when the company doctor has all the accidents? No good physician would go into such a locality, and when the family wants a physician, there is none to be had unless they depend upon the company doctor. I will leave it to any one of you men if it is not a fact that when you have an ailment or sickness in the family, you have you choice of physicians, and the confidence you have in that physician is about half the cure.

If you have no confidence in the doctor, it retards the cure. That is the case with us. We find that many of these men have absolutely no confidence in the doctor that the company gives them. All this bill asks is that a man may have his own choice, and there is nothing unreasonable in that. You say at this time that we should not interfere with the law. If there ever was a time when we should take good care of the industrial workers, that time is now. You heard the story of the Representative from Luzerne or Lackawanna the other day, Mr. Fowler, who gave you a whole line of cases where men were held out of employment by the company physician when they were able to work, or forced back to work when they were not able to work, to save compensation. We have a grievance, and I am sorry that any one should make so light of it, of such an important measure, as to strike it from the calendar and not give us a roll call. Do not strike it from the calendar. Give us a roll call. To tell you the truth, gentlemen, I do not think you will pass it. To be frank, I do not look for anything, because I gave up hopes weeks ago. I will not be disappointed if you defeat this or any other bill we are asking for, but do not treat it so lightly as to strike it from the calendar without even a reasonable hearing. I not only hope that you will not strike it from the calendar, but that you will pass it, and you will then be doing a worthy act.

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House I am somewhat surprised at the interest that has been created by my little amendment to the Workmens' Compensation Act but the final insult has been added to the injury for just now one of the pages comes in and he hands me a telegram from the Atlas Powder Company asking me to kindly vote against my own bill. Now if that is not a thing to get a fellow on his feet and ask you members to give the bill a fair show I don't know what is.

There is nothing to be scared about in this bill. It does not wipe out the Workmens' Compensation Act. The amendment, I believe, is one of the smallest in point of words of any that have been before the House. On the third page you will find underlined these words: "the employe shall be entitled to have a physician to treat him for his injury during the entire period of his disability and the services of such physician shall be paid by the employer." Now, is there any thing wrong about that that all this uproar should be created? The two gentlemen who opposed this bill on the floor, our friend from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, gets up and tells you the history of the Workmens' Compensation Act. I do not say it is a bad act. I say it is a fine act. But I say it can be improved upon by adding this little amendment. Then Mr. Ramsey appears and says "Well, it is only eighteen months old." Suppose it is only eighteen months old in some particulars, must we wait two years to change it? In all fairness to the thousands of employes in this Commonwealth, who, when they are injured, do not have the privilege that you do to select their own doctor but who must submit to the attention of the physician supplied to them by someone else, a physician selected by a man who ofttimes never sees these injured employes, who does not know whether the doctor suits them or not, I say to you, in all fairness to those men this bill has a right on the floor of the House and I ask every member, in all fairness to those employes, in all fairness to their employers and as a means of strengthening the Workmens' Compensation Act to insert in it this amendment.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, after hearing the argument of my friend from Schuylkill and the argument of the gentlemen from Berks, I am satisfied that this act does not fully cover what they claim to be an error.

The gentleman from Schuylkill refers to the fact that this is but a slight amendment.

Mr. Speaker, we remember the saw that was written years ago by someone of the poets when he said: "A 'knot' can choke a felon into clay; a 'not' can save him spelled without a 'k' ". So, sir, this amendment may be little but yet it may mean the death or the life, to some extent, of the industries of this State. I take it, sir, from the argument presented here tonight that the trouble lies with the doctors. One doctor says the man is fit to go back to work; the other docetor says he is not. Therefore, if the company's doctor is in error upon that side we may likewise concede this point that the employe's doctor shall likewise fall into error; in other words, we all know from practical experience that no doctor holds himself out to be the Great Physician, able to diagnose thoroughly when a man is well or when he is sick. Therefore, I say to you and to the House it is impossible for us to say at this time, because a doctor representing a company has made an error, that by the same token the doctor who represents the employe will not make an error, or that reason alone I would be unwilling to say that a bill of this nature should pass.

It seems to me, sir, from the arguments which have been presented here tonight that the proper amendment to be submitted on the Compensation Act is an amendment that has to do with what shall be the physical condition of the employe when ordered back to work and who shall declare him at that time ready for work and what need shall be provided for in the act to cover such an exigency. It may be said such a thing was never heard of. I submit that in France and Germany for years it has been a part of their legal jurisprudence to provide that where a question is in court of certain matters regarding whether or not a person has this disease or that disease, over there those courts, acting for the people, take a physician of their own and have him examine and dispose of the matter. It seems to me—but I am not sure—that somewhere in our calendar we have struck an act that provides that the Compensation Board or the referees may refer matters of this nature to their own physicians or to physicians chosen for that purpose. We have here referred tonight to House Bill No. 1640. I expect to support that bill because it has been shown, in the short time the Compensation Act has been operated in this State, that certain methods of procedure have been found faulty and that bill strives to amend those errors and I hope, sir, that that bill passes and this bill falls, that by the passage of House Bill No. 1640 we will be able to accomplish for employes all over the State the benefits which the act originally was intended to give them.

Now, there is one further thought that I think deserves our attention. We know that we are in the middle of a very great war, possibly, sir, the greatest war that this country has ever been in. We know, and if we take the trouble to examine the paper that comes to us by mail called "Women's Citizen" we will find on page 28 of that paper pictures of women in foreign countries working on jobs originally held by men. Down in the bottom there is shown a woman in Scotland riveting or helping in the riveting of something that looks like a boiler; we find pictures of women filling shrapnel shells; we also find a picture of a woman with a pick digging coal or something else; we find another woman riveting with some kind of a gas riveter. Now those jobs were all originally held by men. We know, must know that in a war of the size that we have entered into it will be necessary for our men and boys to leave their trades and occupations and go to the front and we may expect that our women, untrained, shall take their places; and it seems to me that this is no time to change that Compensation Act in its very essential provisions, of which this is one.

I also find upon examination of the Compensation Laws of our country that twenty-eight states have adopted acts inferior to ours, and upon examination I find that in those twenty-eight states two have made no provisions as to doctors, one provides for a reasonable amount, and the other twenty-five limit the physician to certain time and to certain money. It is not for me to object to the medical profession receiving every dollar that it can get but what I do say is this: That it is not for us to say to the employer of labor: "You must take a physician liable to make as great a mistake as your own physician and keep that man in bed when he ought to be at work," whereas we have been told tonight the company doctor says "Send him to work" when he ought to be in bed. I repeat, if this error is on one side it is liable to be on the other and let us wait a little longer; let us wait until this war closes before we attempt to change an act which has worked so much good.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I hope that the members of this House will consider the amendment to the Workmens' Compensation Act in that spirit in which it is offered. I wish to say to you that I don't think that this amendment, if adopted, will in any way interfere with the operation of the Workmen's Compensation Act. I know full well that this amendment, if adopted, will not upset the operation of that law. You know it too. You also knew when you heard here tonight that in two years from now the corporations and manufacturers will send their representatives here asking you if they think it is necessary to put in such an amendment; you know that is not so. They will never send their representatives asking for the relief of those who work for them, because they were here two years ago opposing this entire Act—every line of it. Now, what is this amendment? What does it amount to? I ask every member here to consider it as if it were he; consider for a moment and place yourself in the position of a man working for an employer; you are injured; now, whom do you want to attend you? That is the only question in this amendment. You want your own doctor. If there ever was a confidential relation existing in this world it is between the doctor and his patient. Is it not fair, is it not just and is it not right that these men who labor every day for a small compensation should have the right to say, "My doctor will attend me. My own doctor will attend me." Mr. Speaker, unfortunately tonight the question of this great war was brought into this argument and I wish to say to my friend, where will you get your armies from but from the families of the workmen of the State of Pennsylvania, and the few paltry dollars that the employer should pay in excess possibly of what he is paying now, a consideration for the health of these men who labor early and late and take the money home to their wives and their children and their sons, who will go and defend the country. Show the manufacturers and corporations of the State of Pennsylvania that the workmen have rights and that they should be attended by their own doctors.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I take issue with the statement made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, that every manufacturer in the State two years ago came to Harrisburg to oppose the enactment of the Compensation Law. I doubt if there was a manufacturer from the Delaware River to the Ohio line who did not favor the passage of a Compensation Law two years ago, and all that any manufacturer did was to differ with certain officers of this Commonwealth on minor provisions of that Act. I don't want this House misled by any man telling you that the manufacturers of this State are a class of men who have no feeling for human rights, and for the men whom they employ. You have been led to believe that the vitality of this amendment lies in whether or not an employee shall have the right to select his own physician or whether he must accept the services of the company's physician. That is a very small and not a vital part of this amendment. Ninety-five per cent. of the manufacturers of this State don't care a rap whether the injured employee is attended by their physician, a physician of their naming or a physician of the injured employee's naming. They don't care a rap about that, but the Act as at present constituted says this: That the medical service rendered to that injured employe shall be limited to an amount of twenty-five dollars, excepting in instances where major operations are necessary, and then it shall be limited to seventy-five dollars, and the manufacturer, if he carries his own insurance, and the insurance companies all fixed their rates of insurance upon that assurance to them. They have a fixed liability, and upon that basis their rates are fixed. Under this Act the injured employee cannot only employ his own physician and employ him until he has attended to the extent of twenty-five dollars worth but he can attend as long as he is a patient, which is proper during the entire period of his disability. Now, you have been told about several instances where the employers' physician said "You are able to go back to work" and the family physician said "You shall go to the hospital". Why, this Act which we are working under today has covered that situation thoroughly. Here is the Compensation Board to whom the injured employee can appeal and they will say whether that man is able to go back to work or not; if not, whoever carries that risk pays him his compensation. I say I no more believe that any doctor would force a man to go back to work when he is not fit to go back to work than you do. I have just as much sympathy as you have for men under the stress of circumstances or anything else that may happen to him while at work and the manufacturers have just as much feeling and sympathy for their men and for their physical qualifications to work as have the members of this House. The radical change here is that it strikes the foundations out from underneath the premises upon which present rights are established and you are going to rip the whole purpose wide open with this apparently very innocent amendment. So far as to whose doctor shall attend the injured patient, to ninety-five per cent. of the manufacturers of this State, it does not make a rap of difference, and I ask you gentlemen at this time, after this law has been in force for less than eighteen months, not to rip it wide open. Mr. Speaker, out of deference to the gentleman from Berks I will withdraw my motion to strike this bill from the calendar and let the bill go to a vote if the seconder will withdraw his second.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, withdraw his second?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my second to the motion.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, it is not my intention to unnecessarily consume the time of the House in discussing this bill, but I feel that a word of explanation should be given as to the scope and purpose of this bill. This bill proposes various amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act of 1915. For the benefit of the members who had no opportunity to closely scrutinize the bill I will say the amendments proposed in this act do not change the act in substance. In other words, there is no change in the act of 1915 in so far as it relates to compensation, nor as to the waiting period after the accident, nor the physician. All that this bill provides for are amendments relating to procedure. This bill has been drafted by the council for the Workmen's Compensation Board. It has their approval and it has the approval of the employer as well as the employee. I think this bill should receive the unanimous approval of the House.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I protest against the passage of this bill. I do believe to a certain extent in home rule. I do believe that it is not necessary for us to come to Harrisburg to fully legislate for boroughs. I do feel that there should be some initiative left in borough councils. This bill would provide that in boroughs where certain policemen are appointed a chief of police must be appointed for a term of four years. I maintain that this is a proposition that can be properly handled, and better handled, by the boroughs than by this Legislature. The boroughs know the surrounding circumstances better than this Legislature does. I feel for that reason that we should let this matter entirely with the boroughs. I presume that in some place some condition prevails that is not desirable on the part of somebody which is the reason why the sponser introduced this bill. It is not fair to impose upon the boroughs in the state a provision like this, which I do not believe the boroughs at large want. One other provision of this bill provides for a compulsory pension fund. The law as it stands now provides for a pension fund. I think it should be up to each borough to say whether or not it desires a police pension fund. This is something that should not be legislated upon by the Legislature, but should be left in the discretion of council.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I do not desire to take up any time. I just desire to make a very short statement. The gentleman who preceded me made the remark that he judged that the condition which he mentioned just happened to be in one certain locality. That I do not know. The bill was given to me by chief of police who claimed that he was one of the legislative committee who attended the convention of the chiefs of police. This bill was drafted by the Chief of Police Association who met in convention, I believe in Harrisburg. This bill was drafted by them, and was presented to me. Anybody that has read the bill I should judge is just as well acquainted with it as I am. As a synopsis, the bill provides a minimum salary on a sliding scale basis, and also a four year term.

ADJOURNMENT OUT OF RESPECT TO THE HON. HARRY BASS, DECEASED.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think that it is a duty we owe a former member of this House that we adjourn in his honor, the Honorable Harry Bass, former member of the Legislature, representing the sixth district of the City of Philadelphia. It so happens that Harry Bass was born within two miles of where I live. We were boys together. He was the son of a cobbler. Fifty-one years ago there was born to this father a son. He suffered the disadvantages in public life of being the son of a man of African descent. His father was one who was held in high respect in the community in which he lived. Like all of us, it was his wish that his son should make a success and a mark in life. He denied himself many of the comforts that this boy might get an education. Harry Bass graduated from Lincoln University, a colored university in his native county. He graduated afterwards from Howard University, in the District of Columbia, and afterwards as a law student from the University of the State of Pennsylvania. I had the honor to serve in this House during the sessions of 1911 and 1913 with this distinguished colored man. He was the first of his race that ever achieved the honor of being a law maker in one of the greatest states of the Union. I can say as a co-worker with Harry Bass in this House that he had the respect of every member of this House while serving as a member this great Commonwealth. I believe that no man who ever served in this House gave more careful attention to his duties as a legislator. He impressed, I think, all members of the House as he impressed me, as a man of high attainments, he had the correct idea of a legislator, to serve the people to the best of his capacity.

And now that the Great Reaper has taken him over the Divide, I move you, Sir, that this House do now adjourn out of respect to the memory of Harry Bass, former member of the Sixth District of the City of Philadelphia.

Mr. NEARY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 11.40 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 11.00 o'clock.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the lives of good and great women and men, by whose example we are taught that we too can make our lives sublime. We are grateful to Thee for the disposition and purpose, not simply to accumulate wealth and knowledge and love, but to distribute it so far as we can among our fellow-men. So guide us we pray Thee from day to day that we may learn to bear each others burdens and so fulfill the great laws presented to the world by our Saviour. These blessings we ask in His name. Amen.

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 40, as follows:

An Act providing for the deepening widening and improvement of French Creek in Crawford County vesting certain powers in the Water Supply Commission including the taking of land and materials by eminent domain and making an appropriation

Whereas French Creek within the County of Crawford in the State of Pennsylvania was by sundry acts of assembly among which was an act approved the seventh day of March one thousand eight hundred and forty-three Pamphlet Laws thirty six et cetera declared to be a public highway and the part or portion thereof extending from the Bemus Dam through Hayfield Vernon West Mead Union and East Fairfield townships and through the city of Meadville and connecting with the Erie Canal formerly the Pennsylvania Canal by said act was declared to be open for the passage of persons with their horses boats merchandise and other commodities et cetera . That portion of French Creek channel whereof is sought to be changed hereby or improved in the direction of the Water Supply Commission passing through the City of Meadville in said county of Crawford is densely populated along its banks the abutting property being occupied by the Erie railroad main line and its various branches and yard sidings the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad manufacturing corporations and dwelling houses together with those portions of Hayfield Vernon West Mead Union and East Fairfield townships and

Whereas The said portion of French Creek sought to be improved is spanned by bridges and public highways leading there to all of which are under the supervision and control of the State and the subject of state regulation by its highway department and

Whereas By reason of the devious windings and crooked course of said creek within the limits of Meadville and within the limits of Hayfield Vernon West Mead Union and East Fairfield Townships adjacent thereto and by reason of its narrow and insufficient banks to control the body of water that frequently passes over its course as well as various obstructions which have either found their way into the bed of the said stream or were placed therein at the time of the construction of the French Creek feeder to the Erie Canal or since that time and during a long period of years and by reason of the accumulation of silt and other substances in the bed of said stream that has accumulated to such an extent that the course of said creek has been so greatly impeded as to interfere with and injure and destroy the efficiency of the sewerage system of the City of Meadville so much so that it endangers the public health of the citizens in that vicinity and throughout said district both in the city of Meadville and in the adjoining townships thereto and

Whereas By reason of the premises disastrous floods have occurred and recurred with great frequency particularly during the past ten years at which time said stream has overflowed its banks at least once each year and sometimes more frequently devastating large areas within the city of Meadville and its vicinity by reason of which great damage and injury have from time to time resulted and the public highways adjacent to the said stream have been greatly damaged causing heavy expense to both the county and the State and that the bridges being State property crossing said French Creek have likewise been greatly damaged and

Whereas The said public highway or stream by reason of the foregoing is a proper subject for State consideration and the improvement sought by this bill will prevent the destruction of the public roadway adjacent to said French Creek and be a great saving to the State in avoiding the rebuilding of bridges that are in danger of being carried away by the high waters therefore

In any proceedings under this section the court may appoint such guardians or committees or trustees as the case may require and may in all cases prescribe the form and manner of service of any notice required in any proceeding under this act

Section 4 When the entire costs of said lands and materials including expenses and the cost of said improvement shall have been ascertained and fixed as nearly as may be the Commission may take possession of said lands or materials in the name of this Commonwealth after giving sixty days' notice thereof by publication in the counties wherein said lands or materials are located No part of said lands or material shall be taken over by the Commission in the name of the Commonwealth until by agreement with the owner or by proceedings in condemnation as provided for in this act The entire cost of all said lands and materials shall be ascertained and fixed as nearly as may be

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. On page 18 of today's calendar, House Bill No. 1312, is a revenue bill, and under the rules belongs at the head of the calendar. The Chair feels that it should be taken up at this time. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the Third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1312, entitled

An Act imposing a state tax on all real estate taxable for county purposes and also on all real estate and works of public service corporations providing for the making of assessments and the collection of said tax by the several counties and cities coextensive with counties in the same manner as county taxes and declaring the purposes for which such taxes shall be used.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, all revenue raisers are unpopular. This one seems to have an unpopularity that a number of bills do not have, for the reason perhaps that the people of Pennsylvania are not educated to the fact of a personal tax on real estate and corporate interests. This bill provides that one mill of tax shall be levied on everything from a man's occupation up to any public service corporation. It includes all corporations, all manufacturing interests and all real estate. If this bill were to go through, with the assessed valuation of Pennsylvania, it would mean twelve millions of dollars under the present valuation. This bill provides that this money shall go to the maintaining and erecting of State roads, the entire amount shall be applied on State roads. This gives everybody a chance to contribute their mite in the making of State roads. A man who had an occupation only of one hundred dollars would contribute ten cents to the building of the State roads; if he had property worth two thousand dollars, he would pay two dollars toward the making of these State roads. Gentlemen, I think the time has come when the Legislature of Pennsylvania should become awake to the fact that you are imposing too much tax on the corporations. The more tax you put on the manufacturing industries and corporations, the more you discourage the investment of capital, that investment which has made Pennsylvania one of the richest states in the Union. If every time we desire to raise revenue we put the tax on the corporation, who pays the tax? I would just like you to consider that particular point. If the corporation or manufacturing interest has a four mills tax put on it, who in the end pays that? Isn't it the consumer; doesn't he have to put a greater price on his goods, and doesn't the consumer have to pay it? Gentlemen, I wish to call your attention to a few figures, which some of you may be acquainted with. The total receipts for the State of Pennsylvania from December, 1915, to November 30th, 1916, were $36,663,000. The total expenditures for that length of time were $35,489,553. Now, gentlemen, in 1915—those of you who were here will remember—the Legislature appropriated $72,194,000 for the various institutions of the State of Pennsylvania. The Governor approved $68,109,000 of that. He had to use his veto axe for $4,085,000. At the present time we are passing appropriation bills and considering appropriation bills which will increase the amount over 1915 in the sum of about $9,000,000—that is, if I am correctly informed. We must provide some revenue to take care of that. If you provide the revenue, then you can demand of your Governor that he sign all these bills and you can get what is coming to you for your institutions. So gentlemen, you will have to provide additional revenue if you are going to increase the appropriations.

This bill, gentlemen, would take care of all the money that the State Highway Department can judiciously spend. It would mean twelve million dollars a year. This would be the greatest thing you could do because it would increase from year to year. As the wealth of your State increases your taxes would increase.

Now, the Grangers of the State of Pennsylvania or the farmers' organizations have said that they are opposed to the fifty million dollar loan. They have said by their vote and they have said by a letter on your desk which came in yesterday or last week that they are opposed to this fifty million dollar loan, yet they are not opposed to a tax that will take care of it because in that very letter they state this: "We believe the present generation should pay this bill and not put it on the future generations." If they are right then, gentlemen, let us pass this bill and let everybody have the chance to pay the twelve million dollars which goes to the State roads.

Now, one more point: The National Government has seen fit in the last six months, and it has become necessary for them to suggest and lay additional burdens—some of them on automobiles—you are all familiar with these things—some on moving pictures, some on corporations; a tax is proposed on checks, a tax on parcels that you send out, an increased tax on cigars, seven dollars a gallon on whiskey, a tax on sugar and a tax on manufacturing plants. Who pays the tax? Isn't it true that you and I and everybody in the State of Pennsylvania has to pay that tax, if we go to the moving picture theatre, if we smoke a cigar, if we buy a pound of sugar or drink a drink of whiskey?

Now, gentlemen, I appeal to you. This may be a little unpopular because the people of the State have not been educated to it but the time is coming when a direct State tax will be the only way of raising a revenue and if we get that accomplished you will not have the additional burden or trouble at the end of each year of trying to put a tax on this and on that, because Pennsylvania is growing and she is bound to grow, and you must have more money to run your Government.

Now, gentlemen, I leave this with you.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I have no desire to prolong this discussion or hold up the work of the House but I merely rise to call your attention to one fact and that is this: The Speaker has said, let every one of us do our share in paying taxes, let us all help to pay it. Now, I contend that real estate in Pennsylvania is already paying more than its share of the tax. If you take an average throughout the State of Pennsylvania you will find that real estate carries more than eighteen mills of tax while many of the other interests are away down to four, five or six mills and in that neighborhood.

Now we all know that the burden of local taxation largely rests upon real estate. Our school tax, our road tax and our county tax is raised almost bodily, almost in toto on our real estate and we know that they are ever rising at the present time. We have rising school taxes in every rural district of the State, we have rising road taxes in every rural district of the State and we have rising county taxes in every rural district of the State. Now, why then should we add at this time a burden on real estate when real estate is already overburdened and when it already carries the brunt of local taxation in this State? I believe that it is unfair to go to work and add a State tax on real estate when real estate is already carrying the entire burden so far as local taxation is concerned.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 412, File Folio 6739, on page 39 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 412, entitled

An Act prohibiting any officer member or employe of any department or bureau having charge of police and fire protection of any city of the first class in this Commonwealth from taking any active part in politics political movements or elections from canvassing election precincts or from interfering with elections or from using his office to influence politics political movements or elections and providing penalties for violation thereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill that is now up before you for final passage is a bill that calls for the elimination of the police and firemen from taking an active part in politics in the City of Philadelphia. It does not refer in any way to any other city or town or township in this Commonwealth; it simply refers to the City of Philadelphia. This bill has been up before you and you have heard a great amount of argument, pro and con, regarding it, and to-day it is up once more for you to give your final decision in the matter. It is not for me to attempt to tell the men of this House what are the duties of a policeman and fireman, but you all know and so do I know that no policeman nor no fireman is placed in that position to go around ringing doorbells and brow-beat people into voting for their particular candidate or candidates on election day. When they have passed their civil service examination and take a position as a policeman and fireman it is not with the understanding that they shall contribute in any way in the form of assessments or in the assisting of some political ward leader in the advancement or election of any preferred candidate. I come from the City of Philadelphia and in that City there are forty-eight wards. In some of those wards there are as high as forty to forty-two divisions; in each of these divisions there are two men who are known as division committeemen, and they represent the Republican organization to which they belong. They canvas the wards and the ward leaders leave it up to them to bring in the results on election day. It is not necessary for policemen and firemen to be using their cloth of office into brow-beating people to go to the polls and vote for any particular candidate. The committeemen and most of them, my friends, hold political positions in the City of Philadelphia and do this work. Now, my friends, to-day there will be a great deal of oratory, no doubt pro and con, for and against this measure, but down deep in the hearts of the men who are going to speak about this bill, they themselves will tell you, if they tell you the truth, that the policemen and the firemen are perfectly useless in a way on election day in bringing about returns from a political standpoint. They have no particular use for them. I have heard policemen and firemen condemned more than once because of their activity, according to their standards. But, my friends, a policeman's duty an da fireman's duty is to protect the life and property of the people, and when he has performed that function he has done all that can be expected of him. That is what he is paid for; he is not paid for ringing doorbells. I don's know how you maniplate the politics of your respective parties in your respective counties, but I do know how it is done in Philadelphia, and I don't propose to stand here to-day and besmirch the character of a body of men such as the policemen and firemen of Philadelphia, but I am going to tell you, my friends, and I have never stood here on this floor and said anything but what was the truth, that there are some policemen and firemen that it would be far better if they had never been placed in the positions which they hold, for they are entirely unworthy to occupy that position. I don't propose to take up your time any further. I am going to leave it up to the fair-minded judgment of the men of this House, and I am going to ask you to vote to eliminate policemen and firemen in Philadelphia and from taking an active part in politics in our city, and if you will do that you will be doing something that the policemen and firemen themselves will be thankful to you for. I live in the Twenty-ninth District in Philadelphia, and so far as the policemen and firemen are concerned in my district, I want to say that when this bill was defeated some time ago and then when you put it on the calendar again, a policeman whom I might name, in my district, said to me, "I hope this bill will pass." They want to be out of politics. Only in certain sections of the city they are used, but they do not serve in the section where I live. So I am going to ask you, my friends, to vote "Aye" on this bill and if you do that you will be doing something that will rebound to the credit and honor of this House, and it will be something, indeed, that will be very pleasing to the policemen and firemen of the City of Philadelphia.

MR. WHITAKER IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, a remark has just been made by one of my auditors to the effect that it is "the same old story," and that is literally true. You gentlemen from outside of Philadelphia have had your time and attention taken up listening to the petty political factional quarrels that should be settled within the Philadelphia delegation alone, and the only achievement made has been to interfere with the social relations that have heretofore existed between the members of this House. The men who have served in this Legislature for more than one session know that no matter how bitter the political arguments would become that after it was over the men would meet on a social equality, but through the intervention of the factional fight in Philadelphia that condition has been done away with. Now, my friend, Dr. Heffernan, says that in his section of the city the policemen are not used, and then, in the next breath, he tells you that when he went home after this bill was last discussed the policemen and firemen came to him and said to him, "For God sake, take us out of politics." That is an inconsistency. If they are not in politics in his section, as he states himself, why do they appeal. I want to say to you men from outside of Philadelphia that this is nothing but a piece of small petty spite-work in order to bring discredit upon the gentleman whom many of you know served as a member of this House for two years and who to-day occupies the position of Director of Public Safety of Philadelphia, and he, when he took that office, said that he would not allow the police to be used in politics, and that he has kept his word, gentlemen, is evidenced by the fact that there has not been one complaint made. The Committee of Seventy that you have heard referred to on the floor of this House is in existence. They are watching every move that is made, and not one complaint has been made. I want to show you that the gentleman recognizes the purposes of this bill. I will read a letter received from him. "I notice by the Legislative Record, that you are not deceived by the gross misrepresentation made by those advocating the passage of the police bill recently defeated. There was no justification for its passage. For some time prior to my advent as Director of Public Safety, and certainly since then, the police have taken no hand in politics and the only so-called use we put them to, is just prior to each election when they make a canvass of the registered voters for the purpose of ascertaining those who are registered unlawfully, and then to proceed before the Registration Commissioner to strike such names from the list. In my judgment the Shern Law which has stood the test is amply comprehensive and sufficiently drastic to satisfy the most ardent advocate of the abolishing or elimination of the police from politics, and needs no additional legislation. Assuring you of my best wishes, and thanking you for the stand you took in this matter, I remain sincerely, William H. Wilson, Director of Public Safety."

Now, my friend, Dr. Heffernan, has made use of the assertion that the police went around from door to door in certain sections of Philadelphia brow-beating the residents of various districts, and compelling them to subserve themselves to their wish. I want to say to my friend from Philadelphia that notwithstanding the fact of his intimation, that what he said was the truth and that what might follow be untrue, that he either knows not whereof he speaks or that he deliberately misrepresents the conditions. The only use that the policemen and firemen are put to is for the purpose of maintaining order, and they have been detailed at various places for that purpose, and that purpose alone.

They do not canvass the districts, but the purpose of the canvass of those districts as referred to in the letter of the Director of Public Safety is to obtain evidence of fraudulent registration when the next election may be held. I am going to aks you men outside of Philadelphia to no longer make yourself a part of this petty, peanut, squabble that has disturbed the peace and quiet and good order of this House. Let it be settled right within our own delegation. There is no need for this legislation, and gentlemen of the House, I hope you will look at it in the same manner that I do, and recognize it as an attempt on the part of certain people to discredit a young man who is discharging the duties of Director of Public Safety as they have never been discharged before. Vote this bill down again as you did and you will be doing a service not only to each and every member of this House, but you will be giving an opportunity to the men to resume the cordial relationships that have been disturbed since the very commencement of this session by this small, petty, peanut playing politics, as has been shown to eminate from that part of the Philadelphia delegation, who are desirous of stirring up factional strife.

Mr. JEFFERSON W. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I was in hopes that there would not be injected into this argument after this bill had been amended any alleged political strife in Philadelphia, whether it be by those who are for Mr. Vare or Mr. McNichol. Some of the older members can recall, we won't have to go back but about sixteen years, under the Bullitt Bill, the activity of police officials in the political arena in Philadelphia. During the Ashbridge administration, as some of the older members here from Philadelphia recall, and possibly some of the members of this House, and especially the Democratic members can recall, the late Samuel J. Randall's district was represented by Democrats for years. The mayor of the City of Philadelphia took it upon himself during that administration to down the Democratic nominee. It is an open history and the papers and the citizens of Philadelphia can recall the election day when the police with their clubs and the hoodlums they used defeated the Democratic nominee and elected the Republican nominee. During the Weaver administration, four years later, after two years of being in the political game, he thought he would use the police. So he did not do a thing but fire his Director and so forth, and took upon himself the necessity of carrying the elections by the police force, which the people in 1905 can recall. Then came our honored mayor, the deceased Mayor Reyburn, after two years he thought he would go into the political game. In later years, I presume the people know what was done in regard to the Vare-Earle fight that then came about. Then came Mayor Blankenburg, poor "Blankie" did not do a thing the last year. He put the police in the November election and put them in the polling places and outside of them. While my friend from Philadelphia said that this is a factional piecee of petty politics, I just wish to recall here an extract from the Harrisburg paper of Thursday June 7. The citizens of Harrisburg, the Chamber of Commerce, had the Bureau of Municipal Research here examining into their city charter, and so forth. Among the recommendations, the first thing they say in big headlines, "Take Police Out of Politics," urges the Driscol report, and then goes on to give recommendations. On last Monday night a week ago, in the City of Philadelphia, I had the honor of being in a little convention. I hold the paper here showing a snapshot taken that night, wherein we come into the hall with my colleague. On the outside there were fifteen detectives lead by Lieutenant Wood, and on the inside they were just lined up there that we could not get in. The picture shows us holding our little convention out on the pavement. Now that is not the only bad feature in Philadelphia since the police and firemen are in politics. A policeman or fireman is appointed from a certain section, and he is assigned to a fire-house, and in due course of time, he might want to erect a nice little house for himself with the intention of staying in that district. He is doing his duty and the first thing he is called upon to do a little political work. Well, he don't feel like going among his neighbors in such a fashion as some policemen would take orders. And what is the consequence? He is simply shifted five or ten miles, for the good of the service away from his home and the district that he has been in for ten or fifteen years. Now, the Philadelphia newspapers, the people of Philadelphia, want the police and firemen out of politics like they are in New York, gentlemen, whether they be for McNichol or Vare or for anybody else. Let them do their police duty and fire duty, let them attend to that. This act will make a good change and should be passed. The firemen and policemen under this act as amended—a citizen is privileged to go into court and bring him before a court of justice where he will have a trial by twelve jurymen, and if he is found guilty, the only penalty is that he can be fined from one to five hundred dollars and be disfranchised for two years. If this law is passed the police officials in Philadelphia will not take it upon themselves to go around and order out the police to do political work. I hope this bill will pass.

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, this House shold vote down this bill because it is a plain violation of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and even if passed would be a nullity. Article 3, section 6 of the Constitution says "No law shall be revived, amended, or the provisions thereof extended or conferred, by reference to its title only, but so much thereof as is revived, amended, extended or conferred, shall be re-enacted and published at length." This bill proposes to amend the Bullitt Act in section 4 of page 4 of the bill you will notice that it refers to the Bullitt Act in title only.

Article 3, section 1, of the Bullitt Bill is proposed to be amended by this bill, but the article and section of the Bullitt Bill is not written out in this bill. That article of the Bullitt Bill provides for the dismissal of policemen and firemen from the service, and this bill proposes to change the whole way by which this is done, and it cannot be done in this way. Furthermore, there is no reference in the title of this bill to the fact that it is to amend the Bullitt Bill and to the fact that it changes the fundamental basis of our government in Philadelphia. Thirdly, it is class legislation, for it is improper to take the police and firemen of cities of the first class and pass laws about them without having the law apply also to all policemen. There is only one kind of class legislation that we can pass, and that is legislation that would apply to a whole class,—to all policemen and firemen. Furthermore, there has been no general complaint about the pernicious influence of the police in Philadelphia. The whole subject is adequately covered by the Shern law which we already have upon our Statute books. I believe that this act is unconstitutional and bad in principle and should be voted down.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, it is a sight indeed, inspiring, encouraging and impressive, to see these remnants of a once great political faction appearing at the reformers'

table and coming here today as those at the mourners' bench. I feel that I am more or less of a sinner in the presence of a host of saints, for while we have in this House men who have confessed to being reformers and men who have confessed that they are reformers, but denied that they are factionalists, I feel that I stand almost alone when I say that I am not a reformer, but am a factionalist. Mr. Speaker, it is with regret and sorrow perhaps that I say that in Philadelphia politics the Republican party is divided into two factions. I am a member of one faction and I am sincere in the belief that I represent and am a member of the faction that stands for that which is clean and decent and upright in politics. I may be wrong in my belief, and some men of whom I have the greatest opinion tell me that I am wrong, and they may be just as sincere in the belief that they represent the faction which is clean and decent. The factional politics of Philadelphia should have no place in this House, and suffice it to say that the faction of which I am a member has not sponsored or advocated or supported a factional measure in this House. If this amendment were a factional bill that would help one faction at the expense of the other, I would say to the men from the country districts to grant us their indulgence on it. I would be perfectly willing to stand aside. But this bill is not sponsored and supported at the expense of one faction to the benefit of the other, but at the expense of the City of Philadelphia and of the members of this House.

Let me read, if I may, two small squibs that I cut from the newspapers, which will better illustrate what I mean. The first is from the Philadelphia Evening Ledger and says, "Do Nothing Legislature Near Its End." The other is as follows: "The scraps at Harrisburg do not get the publicity given the little affair going on over in Europe, but unless citizens keep their eyes open they may wake up to find that the battles at Harrisburg have cost them more money than the battles in Flanders."

Now, my friends, in my short political career I have been defeated for office by men representing both factions here to-day. I have even been defeated by a Democrat. This is the first time I have ever been elected to office, and despite the fact that I have been coming here every morning and have never missed a roll call since coming here, I am having the best time I ever had in my life. But that is from the standpoint of a private citizen, and not from that of a man who takes pride in his office and as a member of this House refuses if possible to belong to a "do nothing" legislature, and who refuses to continue in this legislative farce and to drag out this session at the expense of the representatives of this House, to satisfy some selfish motive and interest. I have been sitting here in my seat for over five months waiting and hoping sincerely that these factions would get together in a spirit of good fellowship and decency and fraternity, but it seems as thought I have waited in vain. When two weeks ago two of these obnoxious measures were defeated, I thought the thing had come, but I hope that Sarig of Berks and Williams of Tioga and Dell of Huntingdon and others will not change their minds on this political situation, and perhaps we can get things in shape to go home. But my purpose in speaking today is to bring to you a message from the good citizens of Philadelphia, a message asking you for a square deal and decent treatment, and for an application of the Golden Rule, whether political or otherwise. It may seem strange that in a House of this kind boasting among its members a McCaig and a Murphy, that a man by the name of Golder should be appealing for home rule. But that is the purpose of my remarks requesting and asking you to give the City of Philadelphia a fair and square deal. I remember the first time I came here and saw the beautiful and impressive and inspiring pictures above us, and felt that no man, as he gazed upon them could be prouder of his patriotism and love and devotion to his State and nation than the man who could claim this as his birthplace and home. Not wishing in any way to cast reflections upon other communities, but in furthering Philadelphia's right to a square deal, I want to call your attention to the three pictures on the wall overlooking us. The one on the left is a scene in Philadelphia, the founding of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; the one on the right is another scene in the City of Philadelphia, the founding of this great United States of America; and the other, the grand picture that overlooks the speaker, is another scene in Philadelphia. But the pride and glory is not mine. Philadelphia but reflects the energy and interest of the farmer and mining men and men in every walk of life in this great Commonwealth. Philadelphia has never been a slacker, and has never been called upon to go to other parts of the community of the State of Pennsylvania for assistance. It is but a few weeks ago when thousands upon thousands of Philadelphians went, if you please, to the fifth ward in Independence Hall, and pledged their lives and everything they had to this great nation. We men from Philadelphia know its conditions, its political conditions, otherwise we would not be here. We know its economic conditions and its commercial conditions. The last vote on this bill shows twenty-three men from Philadelphia opposing it, and fourteen men from Philadelphia in its favor. Would you men from the farming country, from the mining and other districts in Pennsylvania outside of the City of Philadelphia, consider that you are more able and better qualified to know the elements that exist in Philadelphia politics, and that you are better qualified to provide its remedy?

Is it not fair to assume from such an overwhelming delegation from Philadelphia City voting against the bill that it is against the best interests of the city and tis citizenship that this bill should pass?

Now, let us see what the proponents of this bill have to say. First, we will take Mr. Heffernan. Mr. Heffernan is a politician and therefore he refrains from adding the insult to you men outside of Philadelphia that he casts in the face of the Philadelphia members. He tells you that this bill refers only to the City of Philadelphia. Far be it from him—"nay, nay, Pauline"—to say to you men that you as citizens, that your police, your firemen your mayor and your councils are to be trusted, that they are decent and upright, but back in Philadelphia—no, we must go to the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and ask you to come in and run our municipal affairs.

Then we come to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith and I must confess that of all the reasons suggested in favor of this bill, the one that comes from the heart, the one that is sincere, the one that is honest, is his own mind, is the reason advanced by Mr. Smith and that very reason, to my mind is the greatest reason against the bill. You remember when he spoke once before he said the police made a careful canvass of the election lists in his districts and they struck from forty to fifty or one hundred names from the list. The gentlemen who are not from Philadelphia really miss the humor of the situation. I sympathize with Mr. Smith because he is having such a battle in his ward that these forty or fifty or one hundred illegal and fictitious names should be stricken off who otherwise would certainly come in handy to him in the next election and I don't wonder that he regrets the loss of these one hundred votes. There was a time before they came to the sudden reforms, that they could suffer the loss of one hundred and fifty naems but as things are now he could well use a hundred and forty more in his election district. The police are canvassing those lists and he cannot now have them. His reason substantially bears out the reasons of the Governor when he vetoed the same bill two years ago. Let me read what the Governor said:

"City employes should not be in politics, but extraordinarily conditions may arise in which it would be proper for the municipal officials to endeavor to secure data independent of those whose special duty it is to secure such data or information. To prevent by law so commanding a civic force as these departments from performing what may at times be a public service of great moment is unwise. This bill in limiting its directive and punitive provisions to policemen and firemen is discriminative in a manner not contemplated by the Constitution. If some city employes are to be affected why not all?"

The very reason that this gentleman gives for the bill is the reason why we should vote against it and the reason that the Governor gives in vetoing the bill.

Mr. JEFFERSON SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDER. When I am through, Mr. Speaker.

The gentleman has just quoted from a newspaper of Harrisburg that the police of Harisburg should be taken out of politics. Why, I ask him, when this paper is a week old, did he not amend this bill so as to apply to Harrisburg, and not say that the police shall be taken out of politics in Philadelphia while they are allowed to remain in the cities of the whole Commonwealth. Why should he want it to aply to Philadelphia only if he is for a principle and decency, why not make it apply to the whole State, when he knws that they should be taken out of politics in Harrisburg and perhaps other districts.

Now let us come to the gentleman from the fifth ward. When I read Mr. Stern's statement on this bill I felt like crying out, as he did some weeks ago, "What kind of bunk is that to bring into this House?" Mr. Stern's statement itself is amazing and amusing, it is wierd and almost tragic to hear a successful fifth ward politician complain of police activity in Philadelphia. He points with pardonable pride to the history of the fifth ward in 1776 and speaks of it being the cradle of liberty but as far back as I can remember, up until the present administration took hold, this same ward was always known in political parlance as "the bloody fifth" and if you asked anybody from Philadelphia where the "bloody fifth" was they would tell you just what I say is the truth. But let us go a little further. He said "We have had the unseemly exhibition of police activity in politics. It goes without saying that neither I nor any other citizen in that district would prevent any man from using his constitutional prerogatives of voting and using his franchise as he sees fit, whether he be a policeman or fireman. But the moral effect of the actions of the policemen and firemen who are dressed in uniforms with brass buttons—and I challenge my good friend from Philadelphia to prove the contrary—of being inside the booths and on top of ballot boxes, persuading and dissuading and using unlawful and illegal methods to prevent voting, is very detrimental to the citizens of Philadelphia. This bill only affects Philadelphia and I want to say right now that I have not had the opportunity to denounce it and I am glad of the opportunity given me in speaking on this bill. Much to the shame of the late administration of Philadelphia, its venerable mayor, on election day, because his former director of public safety was a candidate for mayor, placed the police in the voting booths of almost every downtown district in Philadelphia. About seven o'clock on election day in 1915, right before we elected our mayor, at seven o'clock in the morning I had the pleasure of going to the booth to cast my vote. I found two policemen inside the rail. I remonstrated with them and told them that they must keep at least fifty feet —or maybe a hundred. I don't know the exact number of feet— from the rail. They said they had orders to be there because they had received word there would be disorder. In that district we have not had a single arrest or a bit of trouble for a year or two. I went to the office of the director of the department of public safety then appointed a fake reformer, and I told him he had no right to put the police in the polls on election day, that it was contrary to the statutes and the spirit of American manhood."

Mr. Speaker, let us see, let us analyze the political situation in 1915 and these statements. Who is this venerable Mayor of the City of Philadelphia that should be ashamed; who is his former Director of Public Safety, the then candidate for Mayor, who is the fake reformer who then occupied the office of Director of Public Safety. First, we will take the shameful, venerable mayor. He is Rudolph Blankenburg, a man who is known all over the city and all over the county as a war-horse reform, the backbone and the sinew and the inspiration, if you please, of a committee of seventy. He is the man, this war-horse of reform, that Mr. Stern accuses of the rotten, dirty, criminal tactics in Philadelphia politics. And who is the fake reformer who then occupied the office of Director of Public Safety? He is another advocate and another man whose name is always linked with the Committee of Seventy and reform in Philadelphia, Mr. Dripps. Another fake reformer accused of the dirtiest tactics in politics, and they are the men who come here and tell us to pass this bill. And who is this former Director of Public Safety who was a candidate for mayor and who was it that allowed the police to be inside the booths and on top of the ballot boxes, persuading and dissuading and using methods of all kinds to get the one hundred thousands foreigners to vote? He is Director Porter, a man who for years was allied with the Committee of Seventy. These are the men accused of crooked politics because they get us to pass this bill, because it was sponsored by the Committee of Seventy. We have three men accused of dirty political tactics, all members of the Committee of Seventy, advocating this bill.

Now what was the vote in 1915 when all this political activity was going on? In Mr. Stern's own little election division his candidate, against whose interest the police were so active, received one hundred and seventy-one votes and the policemen's candidate received seven votes. Does that sound like police activity in politics? In another downtown district about thirty-five foreigners were stricken off while according to Mr. Stern's statement the police candidate received one hundred and forty-two votes or thirty votes less than he received in Mr. Stern's little election division.

Yes, there is bunk and there has been bunk and then comes Mr. Stern's statement which is the acme of bunk. He contended that he came from the Fifth Ward of Philadelphia in which the Declaration of Independence was signed and he pointed to the picture above us of the first public reading of the Declaration of Independence. You recall now the words that fell from the lips of Samuel Adams on that occasion: "I hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable rights; among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

I ask him whether this bill subscribes to that doctrine: whether this bill professes to agree with the Jeffersonian action? Is it fair, is it decent, to say to the policemen and firemen of Philadelphia that they of all the men in the Commonwealth are to be branded as watch-dogs and nothing else; but so far as they have refused to stifle their lives, refuse to prostitute their characters and refuse to sell their American birthright, they shall be thrown into jail, confined, imprisoned and disgraced. It is not fair, nor within the spirit of the Declaration of Independence to say to these men to whom we trust our lives and our property and all those we love that they shall be watch-dogs, and men to protect in their several duties. Just one more word: I want to call your attention to the fact that Mr. Wilson and Mr. McNichols have been active in this House; Mr. Wilson, who is at present the Director of Public Safety, two years ago was a member of this House, and a man who sits in this House to-day who for over thirty years was active in politics and every one of those thirty years was full of activity and who was one of the best police officials we have ever had, and another former member of the police force of that city who is one of the most popular members of this House, Mr. Cummins—is it fair to say to these men they are criminals, that they haven't any rights? I say the whole scheme is rotten, insincere and indecent. I ask you men to vote down this bill and don't brand Philadelphia as the dirtiest spot in politics that there is in this Commonwealth.

Mr. JEFFERSON W. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. JEFFERSON W. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask whether it isn't a known fact that the police canvass and work in only certain wards in Philadelphia and leave others go by default? Can you answer that question or not?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Smith's knowledge of politics under-ground and above-ground are so accurate in Philadelphia and he has propounded a question to me which he undoubtedly knows and which I am unable to answer. I dont' believe it.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, unlike my good friend from Philadelphia who has just addressed you, I am neither a sinner or a saint. I recognize in the discussion of this all important question that I have a duty confronting me as a member of this State Legislature. I am not here to pay any enconiums upon the dear city from which I come. Her past, at least, is secure and all that ever may be said has been said so often that every school boy knows the lessons of patriotism of those who enacted the thrilling scenes of American life in that dear old City of Philadelphia one hundred and forty years ago. Nor am I here to wander outside of the question by paying needless compliments to any member of this chamber in the hope that thereby I may be winning his support for this bill. You have a proposiiton confronting you here which requires sober and serious consideration. I regret most exceedingly that from the time that this bill first appeared upon the calendar that even the slightest suggestion of any factional politics has entered into it. Why, the very men whose names have been mentioned so glowingly upon the floor of this House but a moment ago were here two years ago in the session of 1915, and they voted for the very bill that now lies before you, except to this extent, that the bill then voted for was far more drastic in its penalties than the bill which has been amended and which now lies before you. I understand, when this bill met with defeat some weeks ago, that the principal objection made against it lay in the fact that the penalty prescribed in the bill was that the punishment of imprisonment was perhaps too severe and too drastic to cover the offense about to be committed, and with the hope in view and the promise on the part of many men in this House that they would support the principal for which this bill stands, the bill was amended; but that now the only suggestion of any penalty applies or lies in the fact that he who violates the act will be punished and fined and by the conviction in a court of justice loses automatically the position for a term of years, after which he can be again reinstated into the position. Now it is all very idle to stand here and to appeal to you men from other counties in the State and say, "Why don't you make this bill State-wide?" You men recognize that there is an entirely different condition of affairs in a city of a million and a half population from what there is in smaller cities and towns throughout this Commonwealth. We have a mighty army of policemen and firemen in Philadelphia, and that army is in itself a most formidable power if wrongfully used by any executive who happens to be Mayor of the City of Philadelphia. I cannot, for the life of me, understand why any objection should be made to this bill if it incorporates nothing new to the existing law only providing methods by means of which the Shern Bill can be made a living letter of truth to carry it into effect, whereas now it has been a miserable failure. Why has it been a failure? Because under the Shern Bill it is provided that if any policeman or fireman or other employee of the city government becomes perniciously active in politics that the head of the department shall immediately dismiss them from the public service. Well, now, you men who know something about the game of politics know this that very often it is the head of the department that issues orders to his inferiors to go out and do the very thing that is complained of in this bill. It is drawn up entirely in the interests of the police and firemen who want that splendid liberty that Sam Adams talked about when the Declaration of Independence was proclaimed.

They want that same equality of citizenship that every citizen of this Commonwealth enjoys, the right of exercising their judgment, their untrammelled right of Americanism to go to the polls and cast their ballots and then conclude their duty for the day has ceased; and that their duty does not consist in carrying around policemen's clubs and clubbing people on the head into submission if they fail to carry out the orders which those poor hirelings have received the night before.

Isn't it a most remarkably strange commentary when we cite the situation of affairs existing within the last three or four years. Why, two years ago in the Senate this same bill with the slight changes that I referred to, with more drastic penalties than this, passed unanimously, and both of the great leaders of Philadelphia Messrs. Vare and McNichol voted for the bill. There was not a word said against that bill. In this very Chamber when the bill reached us, men like William H. Wilson, now Chief of Police, or Director of Public Safety in Philadelphia, voted for the bill. Men of the eminence and standing in character of our good friend Mr. Cox voted for the bill. The eminent gentleman from Delaware County, Mr. Ramsey, voted for the bill. Why it is needless to go over the list and mention those that voted for it. There was but a handful, some twenty-three or more that voted against the bill at that time. The terms were far more drastic than they could possible be under the bill that is now before us.

I claim some advantage over my good friend from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol. He says that he has felt considerable strain and pain and suffering in a social sense because of this bill; that it has made enemies of men in this Chamber. Allow me to assure you gentlemen that so far as I am concerned, no vote upon any bill in this House has ever threatened the friendship or the high regard that I may hold for any member thereof. I honor the man if he manfully opposes this bill because of his honest conviction against it, and there is no reason why our social feelings and our high regard for each other should in the slightest degree be marred or blotted out by what we may say or do in support of this bill. I can't understand why all this talk about factional politics in Philadelphia. Why gentlemen only last week, and I speak with authority, I say it with every responsibility that I can assume for saying it, that the mayor of Philadelphia in a telephone conversation with me opened this very discussion and asked me what you men were going to do with this bill and what we intended to do with it. "Why," I said, "we intend to carry it if we can." he said, "I am with you. I made my promise to the people of Philadelphia when I was a candidate, I told them 'I will take the police out of politics,' and I cannot see how I can consistently use any effort against the enactment of this bill." And so there is no factional politics in this bill. It is a plain and simple proposition of legislation whether or not these good people of our city, whose only desire is to do right, to exercise their franchise in a manly way, are to be interfered with by the influence, persecution and coercion of blue coats coming to ther homes just in advance of election, and importuning them to stand by or against some candidate that may be upon the ticket. Such a doctrine savors more of the rule in Russia than it does of an American city like Philadelphia, or a grand old State like Pennsylvania. Now gentlemen, need I say that I claim a further advantage in being able to speak upon this measure, for I do not believe that any of you men can truthfully say that I have ever gone out of my way to threaten any bill of yours because of any vote that you may cast upon this or any other bill that I may have advocated upon the floor of this House. I have always held, almost from my childhood days, the great right of consideration and the justness of things was highly important in a legislative body, and I do not care whether you vote this bill down or pass it, the underlying principle of our Government, the undying obligation rests upon all citizenship and true statesmanship in any legislative hall to at least require that man shall give to the bills lying before them just and favorable consideration, and bring into the consideration of the bill the light of intelligence which Heaven has given them to guide them in the proper course to pursue upon any legislation.

This bill may be unimportant, yet the great principle of justice endures forever. Something has been said about this bill being unconstitutional. We can safely leave that question with the courts. Why, when the Shern Bill was passed, the same question was raised, that the Shern Bill was an unconstitutional bill, but the courts have repeatedly held that the Shern Bill is not an unconstitutional bill, and it simply prescribes a condition for precedent. It says to a man who is about to become a policeman or a fireman, if you take this job you have got to keep your hands clean, and to keep away from the political influences of political bosses. You may follow your political leader if you wish, you may do what you care to in an honorable way, but you will not be permitted to become a member of any ward organization or any city organization and you are not to make yourself perniciously active in your district. There isn't anything wrong about that. If you do not believe in the freedom of the ballot, that the citizenship that goes to the ballot boxes to cast their votes shall be free and untrammelled, if there is anything wrong in that principle, then vote this bill down. But if you believe this great army of police and firemen in Philadelphia ought to be held within reasonable bounds, and not allowed to club people into submission every time it suits the purpose of some adverse director of public safety or police official to give orders, even sometimes contrary to what the mayor may want, sometimes the mayor does not even know what the director of public safety does, sometimes the director of public safety does not know what the police lieutenant is doing, but they are following their little ward bosses all over the City of Philadelphia; vote for this bill. Therefore, I say, this bill falls with equal justice on both factions in Philadelphia, it hurts none of them more than it should, but prescribes the limit and the lines within which policemen and firemen shall act. Further than that it does not go, and further than that it need not go.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heffernan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know in section 3, what penalty is provided for violation of the provisions of this act?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, there will be a fine by the courts.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I refer to section 3, does not that section on line 22, provide that the policemen or firemen violating the provisions of this act shall be discharged, and then further provides, that he shall thereafter be disqualified from holding any office or trust or profit for a period of two years?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. It does.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Is does. And in section 5, does it not also provide a fine of $500.00?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, it does.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I thoroughly agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer, and I wish to stand here, not as representing any factional element, but simply on behalf of the men whom I have known all my life. I was born, raised and educated in the City of Philadelphia, and I have never lived elsewhere. I have seen our city grow, I have seen the various departments of our city grow until within the confines of the City of Philadelphia we have practically four real cities, the greatest city, I think, of the United States, and all of that time, Mr. Speaker, I have seen these men who have grown grey-haired in the service of our city, go to their homes, attend to their business and duties as officers or firemen or what-not employed in the City of Philadelphia, and I have the first time to hear a charge against them except in some rare instances where men were unfortunate, as they are in every walk of life, given possibly to dissipation. I say to you in support of these men that in these years, Mr. Speaker, we have grown from what might be called a small city to a vast metropolis, and the laws that governed then are governing us now, and these men were always good enough, these men that earned their living, but under this act, if they are discharged, they are to be disqualified from holding any office for two years. Who ever heard of such a thing, that a man cannot earn his living for two years? Why, it is a disgrace. I do not ask you to vote against this measure with any thought of politics, I ask you in fairness to the men who hold little positions and work for their daily wage, to support their homes and maintain their families. We have a beautiful city, grown in wealth and opulence and in everything beautiful, in manufacturing and industries, under our present laws. Why change them? There may be districts where the officers may be called in at various times, but that is true in every large city. The officers are there for the performance of their duties, but if they are called in to regulate the citizens, either on election day or any other day, is that material? I should say not. Gentlemen, in justice and in fairness to the men and to the citizens of Philadelphia, irrespective of whether they may be holding little positions or not, I ask you to vote this measure down.

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, while this bill apparently refers to the City of Philadelphia, and while it appears that it will reform the political conditions in only one section of the State, I think it would have its effect on the political conditions throughout the entire State. In portions of our State, as large as the City of Philadelphia, its political conditions may affect the political conditions throughout our entire State. I have heard little or no argument against the provisions of this bill. I have not heard it contended seriously that policemen and firemen should canvass their political divisions. I have not heard it maintained seriously that they use their office to influence politics and political movements. Whether in a large city or a small city of the State, we all know the influence the firemen and policemen would have on certain elements in their own ward. That argument can be successfully maintained that firemen and policemen are elected to have their influence on political conditions. For years we have been passing reform measures in this State, such as the corrupt practice act, the direct primary act, and the corrupt use of money. The Federal government also has been placing many reform measures on the national statute books. Therefore, gentlemen, I think that when we pass a reform measure, whether it refers to the whole State or the City of Philadelphia, or Pittsburgh, or Scranton, or Erie, or some remote county out in the western part of the State, it has an influence upon the politics of this whole State. Therefore, in harmony with other reform measures we have been placing upon the statute books of this State, I believe that this is a step in the right direction.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Albee, Baker, Barner, Bennett, Boyd, Burnett, Cox, Cummins, Dawson, Dithrich, Dunn, Erdman, Fretz, McArdle, McCurdy, McNichol, Mearkle, Neary, Pickering, Richards, Rothenberger, Sones, Sterling, Wagner, Wobensmith.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 39 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 1128, File Folio 5603.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1128, entitled

An Act to confirm titles to real estate under allotments and sales had under orders of the Orphans' courts in proceedings in partition and to give the Orphans' courts of this Commonwealth jurisdiction in all cases where real estate is held jointly by co-tenants or tenants in common or as joint owners whether all such are living or where some are deceased and their interest has passed to their heirs.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title lines 3 to 8 inclusive by striking out from the word "and" in line 3 to and including the word "heirs" in line 8.

Amend section 2, page 2, lines 10 to 18 inclusive, by striking out the entire section 2.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. As these amendments are only strike outs the bill can go through the regular course.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I had this bill postponed a few days ago for the purpose of corresponding with Judge Gest of Philadelphia for the purpose of amending it. Mr. Campbell, my friend on the other side, whom I recognize as a diligent student of Orphans' Court Law and procedure was opposed to it and I had a number of talks with him and said I would write to Judge Gest which I did and I have an answer from him now. This bill confirms titles to real estate made under partition proceedings in the Orphans' Court. A gentleman from Schuylkill County, a reputable lawyer and practitioner of some note in the Orphans' Court, requested me to present this bill and I did so. He had gone a step further and had given jurisdiction to the Orphans' Court. As the law now stands, at the present time, those who are interested in Orphans' Court work, or law, know that you cannot partition between co-tenants and the joint owners, between them and the living representatives of a decedent. My learned friend from Schuylkil lCounty who practices in our court wanted to grant jurisdiction to the Orphans' Court, so that that could be done. Bills have been presented to confirm these titles, so much so that it has gotten in the minds of some of the lawyers throughout the State that at the present time the Orphans' Court had jurisdiction. Frequently under that idea they would go into Court and push their Orphans' Court proceedings and attempt to make title. I have told my friends in Schuylkill County that I would have this bill amended, and they didn't like it very much but I felt that I could get it through the House and Senate and get the approval of the Governor and I have written to Judge Gest of Philadelphia from whom I have a reply. If the gentlemen of the House will allow it I will read his letter; it is a short letter:

"June 11, 1917.

Hon. J. E. Sones,
House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pa.

My Dear Sir:

I am really very sorry not to have sooner replied to your letter of the 7th, but it has been impossible. I have been under great and unused pressure.

If the Orphans' Courts of the State have in the past exercised jurisdiction in the case referred to and so exceeded their powers I think it very proper to validate their proceedings; but I am more doubtful about the advisability of extending the jurisdiction for future cases. Mr. Matlack, the Secretary of our Commission, agrees with me that it would afford the symmetry of our system; and the new Partition Act is so clear on the subject of jurisdiction that there can be little excuse if any for a similar error being committed by any one.

I am not sure how the proposed act would strike the Supreme Court, which seems disposed to draw a strict line, where it comes to questions of jurisdiction between the O. C. and the C. P.

Still it is a question for the wisdom of the legislature and you may think it a good thing. I am sorry that it has not been possible for me to consult Judge Baldridge and Mr. Alter. Perhaps they may be disposed to favor it more than I do.

I remain,

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) JOHN MARSHALL GEST."

I have read this letter to show you that Judge Gest is in favor of my having these titles confirmed. The new Orphans' Code, which was just passed by us, gives very clear jurisdiction so that lawyers should not make any mistakes. I ask this House to pass the bill in its present shape. I know that the Senate will pass it and that it will have the approval of the Governor. Under the circumstances I think I acted wisely because Judge Gest who is considered one of the best Orphans' Court Judges of the State and was at the head of the body that prepared the Orphans' Code, and I had an examination made by him on this subject and you have heard his letter. I ask you to vote in favor of this measure.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Sones, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether there is any litigation pending which might be affected by this bill?

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, no sir, there is not that I know of. If there had been the gentleman would have referred to that matter. Lawyer John A. Ulrich gave me this bill. There is no litigation pending that I know of.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Sones, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Schuylkill if the bill, in its present form, is merely a validating bill and does not change the practice, add anything to or take anything from the Code just passed?

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, it does not, Mr. Walter. That is the reason why I wrote to Judge Gest of Philadelphia. It does not change the procedure; it merely confirms title; a validating act.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up Senate Bill No. 606 (House Bill No. 1832), File Folio 2505, on page 30 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading, for the purpose of recommitting it to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of a hearing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1832 (Senate Bill No. 606), entitled

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Philadelphia County.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 606 (House Bill No. 1832) be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 1534, on page 36 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1534, entitled

An Act to amend section five of an act approved the twenty-fourth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, entitled "An Act to provide for the personal registration of electors and their enrollment as members of political parties in cities of the first and second classes of this Commonwealth; to make such registration a condition of the right to vote in such cities and their said enrollment as members of a political party a condition of the right to vote at primaries in said cities and providing for the payment of witness fees for persons summoned before the commissioners; to provide penalties for violations of its provisions and to repeal acts inconsistent herewith."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain it.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this is an amendment to section 5, Act of July 24th, 1913, called the Registration act, and pertaining to the cities of the first and second class. Under the old act the ward chairman would suggest the name to registrars or registers of each district, four in number. The majority party would send the names in and the Registration Commissioners would then appoint the selection made by the ward chairman of the committee. Doing the year 1916 a dispute arose between the registration commissioners of Allegheny County and the ward chairman. A test suit was then entered and it is reported at No. 256 Penn'a State Reports, page 69. In that opinion which sustained the lower court of our county the judge in his opinion stated as follows: "The contention is that this duty is inferable from the language of the statute. This requires an examination of said section.

The first sentence of said section is as follows: "The Commissioners shall, not later than August fifteenth of each year appoint for registrars for each election district, as herein provided. The language quoted is certainly not ambiguous. Plainly the duty of appointing these registrars is thereby vested in the Board of Commissioners. Had the legislature intended that the sole duty of the Board of Commissioners was to register the will of the ward committees, why did it not say so?

Further the opinion is the following, "If the legislature in its wisdom, intended that the ward executive committees should exercise the discretion of appointing these registrars, it should have been stated in unmistakable language and should not have ben left to mere construction or doubtful inference."

This action by the Courts in reversing the practice of nomination by the party committees which had always subsisted until this decision, is remedied in the bill under consideration, which restores the practice that had existed since the enactment of personal registration. In brief the proposed bill gives to the Registration Commissioners the same discretion that they had always enjoyed, that is, discretion to pass upon the qualifications of registrars which have been set forth in all the personal registration acts. These qualifications are not changed in the bill under consideration. They are, that the registrar must be a duly qualified elector, a resident of the city for two years and of the ward for one year; sober and judicious persons, of good moral character, able to read intelligently and to write legibly. The Commissioners are given discretion to find whether or not the nominees of the political parties have or have not these qualifications, and if they have not, to reject them. The Commissioners also have power to appoint when the political committees fail to act, or in case of a vacancy within ten days of a registration day.

The former registration act had a very careful provision for nomination by the committees of political parties, but contained the following two sentences: In line one of the act of 1913, section 5, "The Commissioners shall, not later than August 15th of each year, appoint four registrars for each election district, as herein provided." Also in the first line of second paragraph of section 5, of the act of 1913. "No person shall be appointed a registrar unless the appointment is approved by three commissioners."

It is upon these two short sentences that the opinion of the court below, which takes away from the committees of political parties all the powers which they had exercised in this regard, whether they are Democratic, Prohibition, Republican or whatever parties they may be as long as they are majority parties. These sentences are couched in the briefest and most general terms, and between them is a careful and elaborate provision for appointment by party committees. It was contended by the Republican Ward Chairman of Pittsburgh that this careful attention in the act of 1913 gave them the powers which they and their predecessors without question had exercised for years; but the court decided otherwise, and it is to remedy this decision and restore matters to the situation that had in practice been observed before the decision, that this bill has been prepared and introduced.

In the case brought last summer in Allegheny County, the evidence showed that the Commisioners rejected the nominees of the Republican Party Committees for the most arbitrary and frivolous reasons. Some nominees were rejected because "petition not in applicant's own hand writing," whereas there is nothing in the act demanding that the petition be in the applicant's own hand writing; some were rejected because in answer to the questions "How long before an election must tax be assessed" and "How long before an election must tax be paid" they said "60 days" and "30 days" instead of "two months" and "one month."

There are a number of other cases where they turned down the suggestions made by the ward committees, and when the suggestion was turned down made an arbitrary appointment.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 1520, File Folio 8635, on page 44 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The THouse resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1520, entitled

An Act supplemental to an act entitled "An Act to protect the public health and welfare by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and others by prescribing penalties for violations thereof by defining the procedure in prosecutions and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof" approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen providing for the granting of modifications of the provisions of said act affecting the hours and conditions of employment of females in certain establishments except the maximum hours per week providing for the terms and conditions of such modifications providing for the changing and withdrawing of such modifications and providing penalties for violation thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explainu its provisions.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, under the Women's Labor Act of 1913, women can be employed in establishments six days in one week, fifty-four hours in every week, or ten hours in any one day, but when any establishment sees fit to take advantage of a legal holiday, the law permits that establishment to work its employees, women, for twelve hours during three days of that week. The law also exempts people who work in private homes and farmers. Under the provisions of the act it has been found very difficult to get waitresses, especially in the summer hotels. I have introduced this bill to relieve that difficulty, and it provides this, that when anyone so petitions the Industrial Board, stating the name and surrounding conditions, and the Industrial Board sees fit to vary the hours of labor, it can do so, in this respect: When the waitresses go on duty, say, at seven o'clock in the morning for breakfast, by five o'clock in the evening they have put in their ten hours. Under this bill it would be in the discretion and judgment of the Industrial Board to say this, that they work three hours in the morning for breakfast; then they are off for two hours to two and a half hours until dinner time; at dinner time they come on duty again, and serve the meal; between dinner and supper they are off again, and they are on duty again at supper time. This would distribute the hours of labor so that these summer hotels could get waitresses to take care of the hotels. They are frequently required to serve early breakfasts. They must come early and serve the breakfast meal. Between breakfast and dinner they have nothing to do, but as the law now stands they are counted as being on duty. Frequently tourists come in late at night and want supper, but it is almost impossible to get waitresses to wait on this trade, and it is to relieve this situation that I have introduced this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 38 of to-day's calendar, House Bill No. 1630 (Senate Bill No. 543), File Folio 1961, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1630 (Senate Bill No. 543), entitled

An Act defining cold storage and regulating the time of storage of certain articles of food and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I hope that the members will not put this bill on the statute books. This bill which is up for consideration is a repeal of the cold storage act of 1913. By the provisions of the act of 1913, the period for allowing food products, fish, meat and so forth, was expressly stipulated. The period allowed for foods varied from four months to six and eight months. By the provisions of this bill, food products, poultry, meats and fish would be allowed to be kept in storage for a period of one year. I do not feel, Mr. Speaker, that this is the proper time when a bill of this kind should be passed. We are in the midst of a great conflict, when every effort should be made to see that the poor man gets his food as cheaply as possible. If you put this bill on our statute books, it will tend to increase the price of food products and foodstuffs. I do not think, Mr. Speaker, that the time should be extended for allowing provisions to be kept in cold storage. If any change is to be made in the cold storage law, it should be to reduce the period of time for allowing food products to be kept in storage. You probably know that several months ago we had some disturbance in the City of Philadelphia, brought about by reason of the fact that there were some products in cold storage that were not released. That tended to boost the price, and as a result we had some disturbances in the southern section of Philadelphia, as well as in other sections. I feel that it would be an injustice to the people of this Commonwealth to allow a bill of this kind to be placed on the statute books. I think that it is the most unfair proposition presented to this body. If we have any regard for the people of this Commonwealth, I think that every one in this House should vote no on this bill.

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for a hearing.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I hope this motion to send this back to Health and Sanitation will not prevail. I doubt if there is any subject, considering the interest of the cosuming public and the business of the State, which is so much the subject of misinformation and misapprehension as this matter of cold storage. I know there is a prejudice going abroad against cold storage. The idea is that cold storage is objectionable from two standpoints. The first is that food kept in storage is not wholesome, and the second is that cold storage and cold storage warehouses tend to boost the prices of commodities to the consuming public, but I think that I can prove to you that this proposition is not tenable. I have given this subject considerable thought and study, and have come to the conclusion that this cold storage bill ought to pass. Let us take this matter into consideration and see what the other states have done. The majority of the states of the Union that have cold storage laws have season to season storage. Great states like California, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, New York and New Jersey, practically all of the great states of the Union where cold storage warehouses are located, have what we call season to season storage. In the great state of New York they have a period of inspection at the end of ten months. If the goods are found to be wholesome, the period is extended two months. At the end of twelve months, they have another period of inspection, and if the goods are found to be wholesome, the time is extended for another period of two months. In Canada, the government has subsidized the cold storage warehouses to thirty per cent. of their value, with the idea of extending and advancing and helping the industry. Now let us see about the matter of cold storage of food. The idea is prevalent that cold storage at an arbitrary limit of time has the effect of enabling men to sell food as wholesome which is not wholesome. Let us see about that. As a matter of fact, experience has demonstrated that it is more important to consider the condition of the food when it is placed in cold storage than to consider the arbitrary time limit.

Everybody knows as a matter of fact that the best eggs we have are those eggs that are laid during the months of April and May, and April and May eggs taken out of cold storage in August are a great deal better than the so-called fresh eggs laid during the hot period of August. Dr. Pennington, the government expert on this proposition, has said that it is perfectly simple to keep in cold storage green vegetables and fruits for a period as high as eighteen to twenty months without the least deterioration in the value of those articles.

Everybody knows further that the far more important question is the matter of handling the eggs before they go into cold storage than the time limit the goods are in there. I want to call your attention to what is said by Dr. Pennington. He has made a study of this subject for years and this is the statement that is made: "First-class chickens killed and placed immediately in house refrigeration deteriorate more in five and one-half days than they do when hard frozen in cold storage for twelve months. Much of the nearby poultry is so badly handled before it reaches the consumer that its quality is poorer than properly dressed poultry which has been frozen in cold storage for twelve months. April eggs taken and put into cold storage, in August are superior to the best eggs that come into the market in that hot month. In all my experience in government experimental service since 1905 I have found nothing to justify the limiting of cold storage to a period of less than twelve months."

Now, there is a popular idea that the cold storage warehouse men are engaged in a conspiracy to keep up the prices of commodities. As a matter of fact the owners of the cold storage warehouses do not own the goods in them at all. The goods in the cold storage warehouses are placed in there by hundreds of different people. For instance, if the Speaker of the House were interested in some chickens that he discovered down in Delaware County he could take those chickens and put them in cold storage and keep them there until he was ready to take them out, as well as any other individual in the Commonwealth; and I think as a matter of fact it can be demonstrated that goods in cold storage are wholesome goods. For instance, I attended a dinner in Philadelphia where every course upon the menu was cold storage goods and I never ate a better dinner in my life.

Now, let us take the other proposition: Does cold storage increase the price of food? Now, wait a minute and let us see. There is a popular idea that cold storage is in the nature of a monopoly. Do you know, gentlemen of the House, as a matter of fact, that only ten per cent. of the eggs produced by the hens of the United States ever go into cold storage; that only four per cent. of the creamery butter produced in this country ever gets into cold storage; and that only eight per cent. of the fish which go to the market ever sees the inside of a cold storage warehouse? Now you have all heard talk about the monopoly and putting up prices. Some years ago in the City of Philadelphia we had a great outcry about the price of eggs which in January and February had reached the high price of fifty-five cents a dozen. Newspapers, editorially, some of them, published the statement that the cold storage men had advanced the price of eggs to horde all the eggs. An investigation was made and it was found that there were not fifty cases of eggs in cold storage, absolutely refuting the idea.

Now, the benefit of cold storage, in my judgment, lies in this: That during the periods of plenty the surplus that otherwise would go to waste is taken and put into cold storage and can be used at a time when people could not get eggs if it were not for the fact that we had the benefit of cold storage warehouses. It tends to produce production on the part of the farmers. I am frank to say to you that if the farmers had to throw away a large percentage of their eggs and a large percentage of their butter there would not be much incentive for an increased production of those articles. But cold storage has the effect of enabling the farmer to raise large quantities, sell them at even prices during the year and at the same time see that justice is done to the consuming public. If it were not for cold storage at certain times of the year the consumers would be absolutely unable to buy a single eggs. You could not do it; the price would be too high. I am not here representing any cold storage interests and don't care anything about it, but I am trying to show you that the bill now on the statute books is a rank injustice to the business interests that are engaged in cold storage warehouses. There is from twenty-five to forty million dollars invested in cold storage warehouses in this State. Now, I admit that sometimes there is undue speculation but because there is speculation in grain, are we going to tear down all the grain elevators? I don't think so. The proposition that we ought to consider is this: Does this present law help the consuming public in any particular—I mean the old law we have been working under? I say it does not. The only thing it does is to help the packers of Chicago and the packing men outside of the State. They are able to ship their eggs in here and sell them against our eggs as fresh when our eggs must be labeled conspicuously, "Cold Storage Eggs." I do not object to that labeling within reasonable limits, but I say it is an injustice to require our merchants to throw their eggs on the market at the time people don't want them in order to compete with outside eggs. Just let us consider the statute of Nebraska. The statute of Nebraska provides this: "That eggs shall be kept in cold storage for twelve months and then they must be destroyed." Now, what is the proviso? "They must be destroyed unless intended for outside shipment." Now, what does that mean? That means that eggs taken out of cold storage after twelve months in Nebraska may be shipped into the State of Pennsylvania and sold against our merchants as fresh eggs, and we are absolutely powerless to meet that proposiiton or do anything to check it. You can bring eggs into the State of Pennsylvania from China, Hungary or any other country and sell them as against Chester County eggs as fresh eggs and our people have nothing to say about it. I say it is wrong and an injustice and the sooner this Legislature of Pennsylvania changes our statutes the better it will be.

Now, I want to know whether under the present law any man in this House believes that forcing eggs out of cold storage in December is going to help the consuming public in January and February when the hens are not laying eggs? If anybody will answer me that proposition in the affirmative I will vote for this bill. I cannot do it in its present form. It is a known fact that the effect of the present cold storage law was to do this. It drove the fish industry from Philadelphia to Baltimore and it has driven a large part of the creamery and butter business from Philadelphia to Chicago Every one of these States has more liberal laws than we have and the only people that suffer are the legititimate business men of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and other large centers. I don't believe, for a minute, that the effect of cold storage makes a poor man buy a pound of butter or a dozen of eggs at any higher price except in rare instances than he otherwise would have to pay if we didn't have cold storage. My good friend from Philadelphia refers to our conditions growing out of the war. But to my mind that is the biggest reason in the world why we should have a reasonable and liberal decent cold storage law. Everybody knows that the production in from six to eight months of the year will be vitally increased. I say that we ought to have a law that will enable us to take care of the surplus and save up for the days when eggs are not plenty. I hope the gentlemen of this House will not vote for this motion and send the bill back to the Committee. I think it is a good bill, considering the interests of the business men of this State and the consuming public and I hope the bill will pass.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Stites, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that the period within which certain articles of food are put in cold storage are changed as follows: whole carcass beef from four months to twelve months?

Mr. STITES. I think that is correct.

Mr. GLASS. Does it not change pork from six to twelve months?

Mr. STITES. I think that is right.

Mr. GLASS. Does it not change sheep from six to twelve; lamb from six to twelve; veal from three to twelve; dressed fowl from five to twelve; undressed fowl ten to twelve; eggs from eight to twelve?

Mr. STITES. That is correct.

Mr. GLASS. Butter from nine to twelve; fish from nine to twelve?

Mr. STITES. That is correct.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, just one word; I have been informed that the Egg and Butter Board of Chicago have just recently suspended their meetings and their dealings in the Corn Exchange during the period of the war for the simple reason that they wanted all of the productions for the public to be given at the cheapest possible price. I think that if you will allow certain food products to be kept in cold storage, that in itself will increase the cost of the food productions, because it will pay them to send out to the consuming public and the public will know it and that in itself will have a tendency of boosting prices. I think you are doing the people of Pennsylvania a great injustice if you make any changes in the present Cold Storage Law at the present time. The Act of 1913 was passed after considerable discussion and after many hearings and in 1915 an effort was made to repeal the Act and the Governor vetoed it. I don't think that this is a propitious time to pass an act of this kind, and I hope that this bill will be defeated.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I believe that for the first time this session I will go along on a measure hand in hand with my friend from Montgomery County. I am against the motion that was made to refer this bill back to the Committee on Health and Sanitation, because I believe that that motion is not made in sincerity, because I believe that this bill has had full and sufficient hearing both in the Senate and in the Committee of Health and Sanitation on the part of the House, at the time the bill was before both of these bodies; and because I believe that it is only intended to put the bill back there to the Committee on Health and Sanitation instead of making a motion as if it had been truthfully made. It would have been made, because the gentlemen wanted the bill stricken from the calendar, which I would also oppose.

The Cold Storage proposition, as I view it, reminds me of the old saying of "Give a dog a bad name." Somehow or another; and I don't know why; the psychology of the proposition is not apparent to me. For some reason or another, as soon as you mention cold storage everybody seems to have a prejudice, and there is a prejudice against anybody engaged in the business or against that business as a general proposition itself. I must confess, Mr. Speaker that that was the viewpoint and the attitude that I took as soon as I heard of cold storage. Immediately there loomed up before my mind the pictures of men hoarding goods, putting them away and waiting until a good time and then selling them and getting the best prices they could. That was the original idea and is to-day the popular idea regarding cold storage, but after a close scrutiny, a careful examination, there is a difference, and particularly at this time, Mr. Speaker, it is appropriate that this matter be taken up by this House after such an examination. I found that cold storage instead of being a menace and a detriment to humanity is a positive help. I am sorry that when the proposition of cold storage was invented or conceived that the men of that time did not see fit to give it another name, and why not call it the conservation of goods because that is what it practically amounts to. Mr. Speaker, I know that the State of Pennsylvania and its inhabitants are discriminated against. I know that we are paying more for butter and eggs in Pennsylvania at the same time than our neighboring states are paying. They are paying less for their eggs than we are paying and putting more of a hardship around the people who are engaged in the business of cold storage. I know, Mr. Speaker, that my friend from Montgomery speaks but gospel when he says that the goods in cold storage from Nebraska, from Ohio, from Kentucky and from Kansas can come into Pennsylvania and here be bought in open competition with our fresh eggs and the people will be buying stale goods after running the limit of time in cold storage in other states. We ought to be fair, one with the other and I am not against regulation in cold storage. I am for reasonable regulation. Let us view the matter as we should view it. If we are to have any regulation at all we ought to have national regulation. I believe that the cold storage proposition in the United States will never be settled until we have a Federal Statute governing eggs. But until such time; until it does arrive until we have a national statute we in Pennsylvania ought to protect our citizens, so that they have the benefits that other states have for their citizens. We ought not to be blinded by the prejudices that I speak of. And we ought to approach the subject with consideration and we ought to consider this question with serious and sober minds. Just one more word: This is a wartime, everybody knows that, and I disagreed when it was stated that production will be increased. I think because of the activities of men in other walks of life that production will be lessened; that there will be less production and the less of production the more necessity is there for cold storage. I remember Mr. Speaker when I was a little boy that we could not have eggs in the winter time because there were no such things as cold storage plants. Now we have the eggs that are laid in April and May served for our breakfast in January and February. And an act of this kind enables these things to be done. Mr. Speaker, everybody ought to vote against the motion to refer this bill back and then vote to put it in the hands of the Governor.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I trust that the mover and seconder of the motion to recommit this bill to the Committee on Health and Sanitation will withdraw the motion in order that the question may go direct to the House and be discussed thoroughly here, and let us vote on it, "Aye" or "No."

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my second.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call the attention of the House to some of the differences between this act and the present act. Under the Act of 1913, which for one I do not deem perfect, but I believe ought to be amended in many particulars, any person who is selling cold storage goods is compelled to mark the package and the containers in which those goods are with the notice they are wholesome cold storage food. This bill in section 9 provides that the display of a placard with "cold storage goods" on it on the bulk of goods or the articles is the only notice that the seller needs to give. I say that is not sufficient and that does not give the notice that one ought to have if he is buying cold storage goods. Far be it from me to say that cold storage goods are not wholesome, but if the man sells cold storage goods, he ought to notify his customers of the fact that he is selling cold storage goods.

And now with respects to the period of storage. This bill as introduced in the Senate, as one can see by looking at it printed on files, was ten months. Now isn't that in the name of all sense long enough to keep any article in storage. The production of the supply of goods of the farm particularly is annually. Why should you hold them from August until the following April, when goods are plenty? Why should not they be compelled to release eggs during the preceding winter or when the hens are not laying Making the period twelve months certainly means the possibility of cornering the market. Then there is another significant feature in this act, and it seems to me it has been inadvertently and unfairly stated, that is in relation to the provisions of the act of 1913 which is now inforced; one section of the act provides that no food shall be sold or offered or exposed for sale in this State which shall have been placed or stored in any cold storage warehouse outside for this State unless it first shall have been marked as provided for in section fifteen, and that it shall not have been in storage for a longer time. Now these arguments are familiar to those who were members of the session of 1915, and every last one of them was circulated in the series of pamphlets or letters from the Corn Exchange National Bank of Philadelphia, and the very excellent argument of the gentleman from Montgomery in favor of the present bill and to repeal the act of 1913 can all be found in this particular letter or in those pamphlets. There has been an earnest effort and propaganda on the part of those interested in the cold storage business to repeal this bill. Personally, I was always in favor of amending the act of 1913 but I do not believe in enacting in its place a loosely drawn act such as the one now before this body; nor do I believe the cold storage, or the length of time ought in any event exceed ten months as it was in this bill as originally introduced. I believe that a period of twelve months lends itself to the cornering of the market, while a less period than twelve months will not so readily lend itself. I think the gentleman from Philadelphia was right when he said there ought to be a national cold storage law, but until that be enacted, let us protect our citizens and the people of Pennsylvania generally, as well as we can, and that is certainly better done by the Act of 1913 than it is by the proposed act.

Mr. JAMES O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the argument of the gentleman from Montgomery and the gentleman from Philadelphia are very adroit arguments in favor of this bill, but they are not very complimentary to the intelligence of this House. I do not suppose there is any man here that has any doubt about the efficiency or value of the cold storage proposition. It is one of the great blessings of this generation, but the objection to this bill, which to my mind is very vital, is the increase of the period of time within which these cold storage products may be retained in cold storage. Practically every product which is subject to cold storage has a season of plenty and a season of want, and you will find that the majority of these seasons extend over a period of say three, four or five months, and while during these three, four or five months of the year there is an excessive production there is during an equal period of the year a corresponding lack of production, a short supply of goods.

Now let us look at eggs as a sample. There is no question but that cold storage eggs are good. There is a period of about four months of excessive production of eggs. We will say that the period commences along some time in March and extends through April, May and June,—it will run a little longer than four months. Then there is a corresponding period in which there is a lack of production of eggs, the hens begin to moult in the fall and run up into November, December, January and February, and there is a scarcity of eggs. The eggs of March and April which are put in cold storage may under the present law be released as late as November and December. In other words the eggs that are stored during the months of plenty are released during the first month of want, and then the eggs that are stored during the following months of plenty are released during the following months of want. Now, why should there be any necessity of holding the March eggs over the first month of want and holding them up for the twelve months' period, which would be within about a year of the time that they were laid. In other words, it is a scheme to provide that the manipulators may hold March and April eggs over the first periods of want, which are not so extreme as the following periods of want, until they have controlled the price of eggs during these periods of want. There is nothing plainer in the world and the same process is true of other storage products. I say, Mr. Speaker, that the inspiration in this bill is the same inspiration as found in other means of controlling food prices that are rampant in this country and which the people of this country are not going to stand very much longer.

I agree that there shold be a national act. I agree that there is some discrimination because of the acts of adjoining States, but I contend that we are right, and we should lead the way, blaze the trail, and the time will come when these adjoining States will be compelled to reduce their periods of cold storage. I think the bill should be undoubtedly defeated.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, I am very glad that my good friend, Mr. Campbell, gave us the last expression that he did in which he said he thought that there should be a national cold storage act. There ought to be a national cold storage act, I have no doubt, and I take great pleasure in informing him that this act we have here to-day was drawn directly upon the forms of the Uniform National Cold Storage Act, recommended by the Commission of Uniform State Laws for the National government and covering season to season storage. Now I have not heard any man upon the floor of this House to-day who has spoken in opposition to this bill who gave me the slightest indication why Pennsylvania merchants should labor under unjust strictures and stringent regulations when the merchants of a few dozen other States can ship goods in here and sell them against our merchants in a discriminatory way.

If they have season to season storage in New York, in New Jersey, Massachusetts, Illinois, California and in Iowa, why in the world should this Legislature say to our merchants that they must be hamstrung and that they cannot compete on equal terms with the other merchants? I say to you frankly I have not heard any reason advanced by my friends who are opposing this bill which would change my position in the slightest, and I believe that this bill ought to pass.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I believe this bill now before us is worthy of careful consideration. It is an important measure, and should have the support of every member of this House. It is simply putting Pennsylvania on equal footing with all the other great storage States of the Union. For instance, Illinois, New York, New Jersey, and many more of the States, have twelve months storage. In Pennsylvania, we have but ten months to store goods, and so the great bulk of these goods that would be stored in Pennsylvania is now being stored in other States on account of the two months more time allowed. Now the present act does not give the people of this State, as consumers, any protection whatever, for the reason that the outside States have the privilege of our markets, and can ship in here goods that were stored for twelve months and deceive the people of Pennsylvania by selling them as goods that have been stored for ten months. I hope that you gentlemen will consider this proposition fairly, and not destroy this interest in this State to the benefit of the interests in the other States. I want to call your attention also to the fact that this bill has the endorsement of the State Grange, and in this connection I will read you part of an article: "The imperative necessity for the careful husbanding of perishable foods makes the question of storage a very vital one. There is a bill before the Legislature that allows food to be kept in storage for the full season of twelve months. This is the right way to handle storage." This was signed by Mr. McSparrow, of the State Grange. This is not a cold storage proposition before you, it is purely the right thing to do. If you are going to handle the proposition in the right way, we should have an equal law covering the whole situation and putting every one on an equal footing. Since we cannot do that, the next best thing to do is to put Pennsylvanai on equal footing with the other cold storage States of the United States, give us fair play, build up this industry, and give the people of Pennsylvania the results.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a vertification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 43 of today's calendar House Bill No. 1297 (Senate Bill No. 333), bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1297 (Senate Bill No. 333), entitled

An Act relating to the appointment of persons to the police department in cities of the third class providing for and regulating examinations the manner of appointment and manner and power of removal of employes of said department and providing a method for fixing compensation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, Senate Bill No. 333 will be found on page 43 of today's calendar, and is a civil service police bill for third class cities. I want to ask the members of this House to let third class cities alone, so far as the appointment and the conduct of their police are concerned. I do not believe there are many members in this House who believe very much in the practical side of civil service anyhow. If there could be such a thing as civil service, then I believe it might be well to try it upon third class cities, but I do not believe that this act will work well in our cities of the third class. I am a strong believer, and I want to be frank and honest in this statement, that in small municipalities at least, there is no trouble so far as our police departments are concerned. If a man renders service as a preserver of the peace, he is kept in his place, notwithstanding the fact that the office of mayor might be changed. I want to say further, and I want to be understood in this, that men who have the appointments as police officers, men who enjoy appointments in line of political life and political office ought to at least be able to render some service to the man who was responsible for their positions, provided they render that service honestly and in accordance with their rights as citizens. It do not believe, as I said before, that third class cities want this bill, and I am going to ask you at least for the City of Chester and other third class cities that I might mention—Lancaster, I am told—to vote down this civil service bill for police officers and let us run our own business so far as our police departments are concerned.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the gentleman from Delaware has just told this House that third class cities in Pennsylvania do not want this bill. Now, I cannot speak for the other third class cities of this State but I do know that in the City of Reading the policemen do want it to a man and citizens of Reading in general want it. There have been a number of people from the City of Reading speaking to me in favor of this bill and the policemen in the City of Reading to a man are in favor of this bill and the citizens in general. I may say eighty to eighty-five per cent. of the citizens of Reading are in favor of this bill, and I believe that their wishes should be consulted in the matter and I do hope that this House will vote for this bill.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am a little surprised that the gentleman from Philadelphia should make this motion to strike this bill from the calendar after all the time that has been consumed during this session of the General Assembly by the members from Philadelphia, and that they cannot at this time spare a little bit of time to consider a bill that the third class cities are interested in.

Now, I quite agree with my friend from Delaware County when he says "Let the third class cities alone and let them have what they want." I want to say to you gentlemen of the House, without any fear of contradiction, that the third class cities of this State want this bill enacted into law. They have gone on record in favor of this proposition at their conventions year after year for many years in this State, approving just such a measure as this. Only a few weeks ago this House passed, with very few votes against it, the Catlin Bill providing Civil Service for firemen in this State and that law has been signed by the Governor and is now in force.

Gentlemen of this House, there are thirty-three third class cities in this Commonwealth and the great majority of them are lined up almost solid in favor of this bill. We have heard a great deal about Civil Service and this General Assembly has refused to adopt a State-wide Civil Service Bill because it was a large step to take all at once; but this Civil Service Bill that is before you is not a drastic measure, is not a new proposition, but it is simply a bill to enable third class cities to procure for themselves better Civil Service through their policemen. It leaves the administration of this Civil Service in the hands of the City Council. The policemen are in favor of it and the people are in favor of it. We have heard a great many attacks made against the third class cities and against the things that they want, but this is one proposition that they want and we are serious about it when we ask this General Assembly. I hope the members of this House will not treat this lightly and carelessly but will give it careful consideration and that they will pass it because the people of the third class cities want it and ought to have it. Gent'emen, don't strike this bill from the calendar, but pass it and enact it into law.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, just recently, under the auspices of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, a survey of the police department of this city was made by a representative of the New York Bureau of Municipal Research. Their report was given to the public just last week and I think it might be of interest to the members of this House if I read a few paragraphs of that report. It says:

"Wholly aside from the fact that the procedure, at present in effect in the bureau, is not in accordance with good practice, and the methods of supervision not such as to produce efficient service, it is scarcely possible to develop the personnel of the police force to a high degree of efficiency or to render the kind of service to which the taxpayers of Harrisburg are entitled while the bureau remains, as it is—a partisan political institution for rewarding faithful political workers.

"It is not possible to secure an impartial enforcement of laws and ordinances and the exercise of police functions in an intelligent and economical manner while those who are paid to perform these functions are selected, disciplined and controlled on a political basis and while their terms of office are dependent upon the success of the party responsible for their appointment.

"During the past 17 years there have been seven changes in the administration of the bureau, making the average term less than two and a half years. The appointment of a new chief is invariably followed by changes in administrative policy, in the selection of officers, and in the assignment of members of the force. A chief whose appointment and removal are solely dependent upon the good will of members of council, the personnel of which may change every two years, can scarcely exercise the kind of control necessary to produce efficiency."

Down further in the report it says they urge civil service, placing the police department unded civil service as a remedy and I believe that I express the opinion and the sentiment of the people of Harrisburg when I say they would like to see this bill passed.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that we are well aware of the faults of the patronage system and wholly favorable to the civil service system and I hope and will all vote to pass this bill. It is favorable to us and we want it and I believe you ought to give it to us.

Mr. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1538, File Folio 6593, from page 44 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

An Act to amend section ten of an act approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-three entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Murphy, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, that my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, will explain the bill for Mr. Murphy.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the request of the gentleman from Philadelphia, he desires to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Murphy. My name is not Murphy, but it is not far from it and I am glad to reply to any interrogation. I wish to say that this bill covers every county in the State of Pennsylvania. It is an amendment to the old election law of 1895. Under the provisions of the election act of 1895 it was provided that no person in an incorporated district could hold the office of judge or inspector of elections. That remained the rule until after the passage of the School Code when under the decision of the Appellant Court it was held that a school district was a quasi incorporated district, and, therefore, any one employed by a school district could not act as a judge or inspector at an election.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, the explanation is sufficient.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1.

Chestnut,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1703, File Folio 6223, from page 44 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1703, entitled

An Act to prohibit the possession sale or gift of nitroglycerin dynamite gun powder blasting powder or other explosives by unlicensed persons regulating the issuing of licenses therefor and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

On page 2, line 6, after the word "used" insert "under existing laws."

On page 2, line 6, after the word "Commonwealth" strike out the words "not exceeding three (3) pounds thereof."

On page 2, line 9, after the word "time" insert "unless more is needed for a day's work."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Mr. RUDDY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 232, File Folio 3445, from page 43 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 232, entitled

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an election schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as this is an amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Act I will ask the sponsor of the bill to explain its provisions.

Mr. RUDDY. Mr. Speaker, this amendment that is before you for your consideration contains an amendment to a certain section of the Workmen's Compensation Law which deals with the beginning of compensation in cases of accident to the employe while engaged in his daily labor. The present law, as it stands now, in cases of accident an employe does not get any compensation until after the fourteenth day after the accident, during which time he is idle. This amendment intends to change that section of the workmen's Compensation Law to read as follows: "That after seven days of idleness caused by this accident the employer shall pay compensation to the employe, and also that medical and surgical treatment shall start at the same date." I wish to cite an incident as to why this amendment should pass at this time. Under the present conditions of living, with the high cost of everything, and it is generally known that in most cases it is the poorer class of laborer that assumes the greatest risk in his daily labor. Take, for instance, the father of five or six little children, and none of them as yet having attained the age in which they can work under the present laws of this Commonwealth, and his wife; and, as I have told you, this compensation law for a time closes the door to the man who assumes the greatest risk and who is able barely to live from day to day from hand to mouth without anything in store and nothing in the cellar. In case of accident that poor father may meet with, and he may meet with an accident to-morrow and he is rushed to the hospital or some other institution of the kind there and then his wife received the sad news. She immediately goes to the hospital and spends a half hour, possibly an hour, doing what? In weeping, and sorrowing. Then she returns to her home, and what does she find there? Greater sorrow. As she looks around and sees those little children and looks around the house and possibly finds an empty pantry or an empty flour bin, and what is the feeling of that poor woman? Gentlemen, that is the reason why I ask at this time for the passage of this bill. It is absolutely necessary to change this section of the Workmen's Compensation Law. Can it be possible that there is a single member in this House who would cast his vote to cut off those seven days of compensation from that heart-broken mother, and those suffering, innocent children. Now, gentlemen I do not wish to take up any of your time on this subject. I could site case after case and instant after instant for half an hour, that I have witnessed myself and that I know many of you who live in the congested districts where a lot of laboring people live have witness. There are very many more important measures on this calendar than this, that mean a whole lot to the State of Pennsylvania, and also to their sponsors and to their constituents. They would like to have them moved up as soon as possible for final action, and therefore I do not wish to take up any more of your time on that account. I feel that all others who talk on bills should do the same. But before closing I want to make a final and last appeal to you. I sincerely hope that this amendment will have the unanimous consent of this honorable body when the roll is called.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representativs, as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives, May 14, 1917.

[Gentlemen: Your committee, in pursuance to the statement made in the report of May 8th, 1917, further report that we find there are in committees at this date a total of about eighteen hundred and fifty blils. Some of these are duplicate bills in the different bodies, leaving probably about fifteen hundred bills still in committee.]

[After a careful inquiry from the different chairmen (aside from the appropriation bills) there are probably three or four hundred bills of sufficient importance to be reported for consideration.]

[Your committee does not want to be understood as assuring the Legislature that the 14th of June would be a proper date for adjournment. It does, however, conclude upon the information obtained, that the House could wisely fix this date at this time; subject to the approval of the Senate. This suggestion is based upon the presumption that that the membership from this forward give full attendance at all sessions, so as to avoid re-consideration, which so frequently retards action upon other legislative matters.]

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly adjourn sine die at high noon, June [fourteenth] twenty-eighth, nineteen hundred and seventeen (1917).

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend by striking out the following:

Gentlemen: Your committee, in pursuance to the statement made in the report of May 8th, 1917, further report that we find there are in committees at this date a total of about eighteen hundred and fifty bills. Some of these are duplicate bills in the different bodies, leaving probably about fifteen hundred bills still in committee.

After a careful inquiry from the different chairmen (aside from the appropriation bills) there are probably three or four hundred bills of sufficient importance to be reported for consideration.

Your committee does not want to be understood as assuring the Legislature that the 14th of June would be a proper date for adjournment. It does, however, conclude upon the information obtained, that the House could wisely fix this date at this time; subject to the approval of the Senate. This suggestion is based upon the presumption that the membership from this forward give full attendance at all sessions, so as to avoid re-consideration, which so frequently retards action upon other legislative matters.

We, therefore, present the following resolution for consideration of the House at this time:

After the word "June" in the last paragraph, strike out the word "fourteenth" and insert in lieu the word "twenty-eighth."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

They were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Bill No. 1643, File Folio 5451, on page 37 of to-day'c salendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1643, entitled .

An act forbidding the advertising publishing selling distributing or otherwise disseminating or imparting or attempting to disseminate or impart knowledge or information tending to interfere with or diminish the birth of human beings in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania defining it as a misdemeanor and providing for its punishment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, with all due respect to the sponsor of this bill, I consider this one of the literary freaks of this session. Mr. Speaker, I do not say this with any disrespect of course to the sponsor, but I fear that the very object in mind, its very purpose, will be defeated by this bill. The bill aims to muzzle free thought, free expression of thought, the free expression on certain subjects. The past experience of the world has been that when you tell the people they dare not give expression to their honest convictions, that that in time breeds revolt. This bill denies people the right to give expression to their honest conviction. The result will be like it always has been, pamphleturing, mysterious pamphleturing. As long as you tell people that they dare not know a certain thing, that very thing you tell them they shall not know they will strive to find out. I recall very well some years ago I paid a visit to a dear old grandmother of mine. This old lady was ninety-seven years of age, born in Berks County, and not to my knowledge was she ever outside of the county. Perhaps she might have been in Lehigh County on a visit, but I said to her just for a joke, "Did you hear what the people at Harrisburg propose doing?" She says "No." I said, "They are talking about passing a law to prohibit people ninety-years of age from leaving the county where they live." The old lady straightened up and said, "Let them try it, then I will go to Philadelphia, sure." I do not know why she selected Philadelphia unless it was for revenge, but she showed the spirit, true American spirit when you go to curb liberty, and I appreciated that spirit in the dear old lady very much, and it is the spirit here in this bill. All of you know enough about human psychology to know that when you wish to advertise someone, just criticize him or attack him, and immediately you advertise him. There is not a man in this House that has had experience in public life that does not know that the more serious his political enemies attack him, why the better progress he makes in his campaign, and so it is with this, that you are assailing here. I am not going to discuss the merits or the demerits of the subject, that is another matter entirely. I merely want to show you that the object in mind, you are going to defeat, when you say you dare not disseminate information on a certain subject. As soon as the public finds out they will want to know what there is about that subject that you are afraid that they may learn something about, and they will go after it. They will break the law. They will use all means; they will go out of their way to get it; they will go to some other State and get it, but they will get it. Now that is I believe the experience of all of you.

Again, I am satisfied that the bill is glaringly unconstitutional. It is in direct conflict with the Constitution which prohibits the muzzling of the press, free speech, free thought, free expression of thought. Well, when you speak of free love, I doubt whether you understand what it means.

You have free lust in mind. I want to tell you that if you married a woman and you were not permitted to exercise free love, you would be provoked. There is a difference between free love and free lust. Peopl do not understand it, and that is the pity of it. Here you are dabbling with somthing that I fear you do not understand. It is a well-known fact that the upper class has practiced birth control for a long time, because they have the means to equip themselves with this knowledge; but the poor people, who do not have the means to acquire this knowledge, raise the big families when they are less able to support them. The rich people do not have them because they are in possession of the knowledge of birth control. That is an evident fact, well known to anyone who understands anything of this subject. I am not to be understood as encouraging it by any means, but I know this, that some men have wives that to bear children would mean the death of the wife. If you knew of this fact, or if some one would give them this information, or if even a doctor should instruct a family how to prevent the birth of any more children, they would themselves become liable under this particular law. We have, of course, under the common law, plenty of protection against the abuse of anything like this. In conclusion, I just wish to say that this is making a strong encroachment upon our constitutional rights of free speech, and from the fact that you are going to muzzle this, how long will it be until you muzzle another thing, and another one? They have been having a big contest in Washington for a long time, even trying to muzzle the press on account of the war. They are now denying many people the right of free speech, and I am not surprised that some people feel that way about it, because free expression of thought is the safety valve of all society, and my advice is not to try to muzzle it. That is the safety valve. People must have the right of free speech, and when you choke that down you will cause what you call a revolution of some kind. I think that this bill ought to be defeated.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, this bill, if enacted into law, would forbid the publication, sale or distribution of knowledge or information tending to interfere with or diminish the birth of human beings. This bill, Mr. Speaker, comes before this body as a result of a conference of all of the churches in the City of Philadelphia. The bill was given to me by some of the highest church dignitaries in the City of Philadelphia, and I am very proud to be the sponsor of a measure of this kind. I do not mean to be personal in what I am going to say. I do not mean to be insulting, but I am complimented by the fact that the gentleman referred to this bill as a literary freak, because, Mr. Speaker, a statement of that kind coming from such a source is nothing less than a complement, because the statement emanates from a man who is not capable of giving us a literary freak, but it comes from a physical freak, and I am glad to get a compliment of that kind. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the literature which I have in my hand, and of which this bill tends to prevent the distribution, contains some of the most outlandish, some of the most scurrilous, obscene and lascivious statements that ever I have read or seen in any print. I will read excerpts from two, so that this House may gather an idea of what kind of publication this bill is intended to prevent. I take it, Mr. Speaker, that this Assembly is a General Assembly, met for the good of the Commonwealth, and that some times we have pleasant and some times unpleasant things to bring before it, but nevertheless our duty must be done as we see it. I have here a few of these statements taken at random from two publications. The first is from a bulletin published in Massachusetts entitled "Constructive Aspect of Birth Control." I have penciled this quotation: "So the human sexual relations under control may temporarily limit nature for the sake of elevating man by securing stronger spiritual union between the sexes and by securing better children at proper time and intervals, and thus causing the emergence of a stronger race." Again, Mr. Speaker, we find this: "The free indulgence of sexual passions, coupled with the prevention of conception by mechanical contrivances, is possibly better than no control whatever, but it deals with the matter on a low basis of animal appetite and gross physical force." Then, Mr. Speaker, going from this paper—and I have taken out the worst, there is plenty more of the same scurrilous and scandalous material in this paper that I have in my hand,, and which I will be glad to give to any member of the House who desires it. Then we have "The Birth Control Review," published in New York, March, 1917, volume 1, No. 2. There it is stated that this birth control association settled in a congested district of Brooklyn, known as Brownsville. The first thing they did was to open a small office and send out handbills to the poor women of that district, which handbill was in large type, and I hold it here in my hand so that some of you may see the following: "Mothers! Can you afford to have a large family? Do you want any more children? If not, why do you have them? Do not kill, do not take life, but prevent. Safe, harmless information can be obtained of trained nurses at 46 Amboy Street, near Pitkin Avenue, Brooklyn. Tell your friends and neighbors. All mothers welcome. A registration fee of ten cents entitles any mother to this information." And it is signed, Mr. Speaker, by a woman who served a sentence in the prisons of New York for having disseminated this information for the provention of which we are trying to have this bill passed.

Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the faith that my mother taught me does not believe in the doctrine of the divinity of Christ, but as a rule our people, the people from whom I come and of which race I am proud, believe that as a man Christ is the first man among men, and that no one that ever lived created more of an influence for good than did Christ. And for anybody to attempt to exploit an idea of this kind, disseminating such low, mean and base information, is absolutely against the gospel in which the majority of the members of this House believe, and it brings to my mind a quotation that I read some time ago in one of the books of recent origin. The book was written by the organized charity and the people who are in organized charity and do that grinding book-like sort of giving of alms by rote and by rule instead of by heart are the people who are back of a movement of this kind, and the quotation runs:

> In the name of a cautious, statistical Christ."

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of this House, I do not see how any man who has a mother that he reveres, I do not see how any man who has a God that he looks up to, no matter whether that God be Christ or whatever that God be my God, I do not see how any self-respecting man can vote against a bill of this kind.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it might be that the information of this kind, if permitted to be published would be given to young, unmarried girls. Then look what the trouble would be; look at the evil; look at the crime; look at the encouragement to lasciviousness that that would tend to.

I do not know, Mr. Speaker, that there is much more that I can say on this. My heart is in this bill. I could go on speaking from now until to-morrow morning and probably not add one more word so as to convince you gentlemen because I believe you are convinced by this time, but I say to you if you have any sisters or mothers, if you want to go home and look at your female relatives in dignity and with respect vote for this bill.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I only want to say a word on this bill and that is because I am oppsed to race suicide. To my mind I cannot think that any man of mature mind can bear any literature coming from any source favoring race suicide, and I want to say that in my judgment it is the most damnable thing that has ever struck this nation. To permit quacks and quack doctors to put out literature of this kind and character in the mails they ought to be prosecuted from the first mailing of their literature; and I favor any bill that abolishes anything pertaining to race suicide. I can hardly think that any man, any member of this House of mature years and experience, who has a love for his country and his blood, can vote for anything that favors race suicide and that is exactly this question. If you can abolish it by a bill, for God's sake stand up for your manhood, stand up for your womanhood, stand up for your motherhood and a bill that will abolish race suicide and vote against any literature of this kind or character that can be placed in the mails. What are we coming to; what are we coming to? Are we going to follow the scarlet letter or the scarlet woman? No. For God's sake, you men of mature years, elected here to the Legislature to represent the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, stand up and tell where you are by your vote, "yes" or "no." For my part I am going to vote "aye."

Mr. SIMPSON: Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, if you will grant me your kind indulgence for a few moments I want to say a few words in behalf of this bill. At the beginning I had no notion of taking the floor but when matters were brought out pertaining to this bill I felt that it is the duty of every true Christian man to say something in favor of a measure such as this.

When we look back over the history of that great Nazarene when he said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for such is the Kingdom of Heaven" we certainly ought not to think of anything but the children that might be born into the world; and when we think of that great saying that he said "Except that ye become as little children ye shall never enter into the Kingdom of Heaven," we ought not to hesitate to vote for a bill that says, "information to interfere with or diminish the birth of human beings." Why should we not vote for a measure that would abolish the dissemination of information that would interfere or diminish the birth of human beings?

I think that every man in this House, if he will look over this bill, will clearly recognize how important it is to do away with any information that might lead to the diminishment of the birth of any human beings. What is there more pure, more holy, more God-like in the sight of God than the mother with the babe tugging at her breast?

Nothing on this earth; and I ask every man who has a home, who has a wife, who has a mother, who has a sister, who has children of his own, to vote for a measure that would stop such damnable traffic as has been explained on the floor of this House for the sole and express purpose of giving information to the innocent, unsuspecting child that she might go out upon the streets, go forth with the sole and express purpose of satisfying her or his lust. Vote for a measure that will protect your home, your wife, your children, your church and above all, the Christian spirit that prevails in this land that says, "Suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not, for such is the Kiugdon of Heaven," and "Except that ye become as these little children ye shall not enter into the Kingdom of Heaven."

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I had no intention whatever of rising at this time to make any remarks relative to the passage of this bill. There seems to be a false impression that has gone about that the medical fraternity of the State of Pennsylvania has put their stamp of approval upon this legislation, Gentlemen, I wish to free your mind of any such impression, whether you have got that first-handed or second-handed, that the fraternity of medicine in this State stands paramount against the passage of any legislation that will disturb the perpetuation of humanity in this State or any other State of this Union.

Gentlemen, one might talk for hours on this important question. The result that is apt to occur physically to each and every individual, whether that individual be male or female, relative to the interference with natural resources in the construction of the human anatomy that will be possibly interesting to each and every one of you within the reach of my voice were time permitted to express to you and teach to you the fundamental principles of embryology.

I hope, gentlemen, that there is no man here who will take to heart the words of the gentleman from Berks and be moved by a sentence founded simply upon a sympathetic proposition, that it befalls upon the poor of this nation and of every other nation God knows, that has produced the largest families, and as life goes on, and life will go on, let them and if they are capable of producing it, produce it and I am sure that some way and some means will be found where they, the mother and the father, will be protected in years to come as age falls upon them. I hope, gentlemen, that this bill will pass.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponser of this bill and desire to ask him only one question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, permit himself to be interrogaterd?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, Yes sir.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether the provisions of this bill would prevent our Medical Schools from teaching this science in the schools?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I don't think there is a medical college in this country that teaches anything that would prevent the conception of human beings.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1085, File Folio 5185, from page 36 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1085, entitled

An Act authorizing the county controllers in counties containing population of less than two hundred and sixty thousand to designate and appoint a solicitor prescribing the duties of said solicitor and fixing the term of office and salary to be paid by the county.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill provides for the employment of a solicitor in all counties under two hundred and sixty thousand for controller, but that counties under two hundred thousand will employ a solicitor and pay him five hundred dollars a year, and in all the counties over two hundred thousand to two hundred and sixty thousand will pay their controller fifteen hundred dollars per year. All of you people who are familiar with the duties of the county controller know that there is but little work for the county controller to do. He is merely what you would call the Treasurer and in all of the counties the work of the controller can be done in but a few hours of each week. I say but a few hours of each week and there is but little work for a solicitor at a time, and the counties pay the solicitor of the county a good deal for looking after that. The county commissioners have a solicitor, and there is really no work whatsoever for a solicitor. If there are any contracts to look after it is the duty and the work of the solicitor of the county to look after that and consequently the only time that he could be of any service whasoever would be when there would be a dispute between the county controller and the county commissioners. I submit to you that a fee of fifteen hundred dollars when the solicitor in the county itself only gets five hundred dollars a year is an outrageous fee and it seems to me, gentlemen of the House, that we ought to look into this continual creating of offices and raising of salaries and giving of big salaries to men who have practically nothing to do. We ought to stop and consider that kind of a bill and this is exactly that kind of a bill. Especially in view of the fact that if the commissioner in a county of two hundred thousand gets five hundred dollars and this position shall pay fifteen hundred dollars, it seems to me an outrageous proposition which ought not to prevail. I ask you to vote against this bill.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I did not intend to say anything on this bill because I did not think that the bill required any defence. The bill provides for this, that in any county with less than two hundred and sixty thousand population the controller is authorized to appoint a solicitor. The salary of that solicitor in counties of less than two hundred thousand is the munificent sum of five hundred dollars per annum and in counties of over two hundred thousand and less than two hundred and sixty thousand it is fifteen hundred dollars per annum. The fact of the matter is that the practice heretofore has been for every county controller to have a solicitor and those of you know, coming from counties where they have a controller, that the solicitor was called not "solicitor" but "law clerk." The only difference that this act makes is to become the official designation of his position as solicitor instead of law clerk. The question as to the creation of a new office is absolutely not applicable here, because it does not create a new office; it simply changes the name of an office already existing. We know, as a matter of fact, by reason of the duties of the county controller he is the watch dog of the county treasurer. Very often controversies arise between him and the county commissioners and it is therefore manifest that the county controller should not have to act upon the advice of the attorney for the commissioners, who is county solicitor. It is manifest, I think that the county controller in issues of that sort should have his own lawyer. I do not think this bill requires any further defense and I ask your support for it.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I represent a district having a population of about 140,000. In That district we have a county treasurer at a salary of $2,400 a year. He has a deputy at a salary of $1,400 a year. Now we are supposed to add a solicitor to this office at $500.00 a year or more, and if we do that we are actually spending more money than the county controller has ever saved for us in one single year. The county controller has been elected and the office created for the purpose of conserving the public funds of the county, and not for the legislature to turn around again and waste that in this way. It seems to me that from the number of bills that have been presented to this House asking for additional law judges in three or four counties, asking for additional offices to be created to get jobs for lawyers, that the lawyers in the state must be mighty hard up for jobs. We have a county solicitor in every county, and if there is anything, any work in the county controller's office to be done, why should not the county solicitor do that work. The county solicitor in our county is paid $1,600 a year, with little or no expense attached to his office, and if our county solicitor had to make a living without that office, in his private practice, he could not make a thousand dollars a year. We are already overburdened with county offices at an unnecessary expense, and I hope that the gentlemen of the House will see this bill in the same light as I see it and vote against it.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, just one word to repeat just what I said. Gentlemen of the House, I said a moment ago that every county controller has his solicitor under the present law. The only thing is that we call him a law clerk. This bill dignifies it and calls him a solicitor. It makes the salary in counties of the size of mine the great, big sum of $500.00 per annum. Now go to it.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I represent a county of 200,000 population at the present time, and the county controller has no authority under the law providing for the employment of council. He is the individual to whom the taxpayers look to protect their taxes, and under this measure he would be entitled to employ council and pay him a salary of $500, which in a county of that kind would be a paltry sum. He should have some legal adviser. He has all the bills of the county to pass upon and approve before they are paid. The county commissioners have a solicitor and frequently a disagreement comes up between the county commissioners and the county controller. The one is protected by council, the other is not, and the controller being the check on the money of the taxpayers should be entitled to a solicitor in a county with a population like that provided for in this bill. The paltry sum of $500 is not very much, and the county will pay it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO MAKE HOUSE BILL NO. 1944 A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 1033 (House Bill No. 1944), File Folio 4305, entitled

A Supplement to an act entitled "An Act to promote the safety of travellers and employes upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains" approved the nineteenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven and providing that the provisions of said act shall not be in force during the time the government of the United States is engaged in war with a foreign government or power and for a period of one month after the close of such war on page 26 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business for to-morrow morning at 11.30 A. M.

Mr. LUPPERT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion,

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, it appears to me that at this time no bill should be signaled out to be put on special order, and I hope that this motion is voted down.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, time and time again during this session bills have been made special orders. This is a most important measure, and there is no reason why, if the members of this House see fit, that this bill should not be made a special order for to-morrow morning.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, last week we asked for a special order on House Bill No. 1187, the Workmen's Compensation Amendment, and it was argued then that no bill should have preference over any other. The compensation amendment was the biggest bill that was before the House at that time. Others took the floor and reasoned that it was not fair to the other bills, and for that reason no bill should be made a special order. This bill is the full crew repealer, the full crew suspension bill. Are you going to turn around here, to turn us down last week and then vote here to have this bill made a special order? The bill we wanted made a special order, if is passed the House would have to go to the Senate and pass the Senate. That you turned down. Here is one that has already passed the Senate. All that it requires heer is action on third reading. It has passed the first and second readings, and is now on the calendar, not many bills behind the compensation bill. Now you ask for a special order. Is there anything fair about that? I do not think you will stand for it, and I hope that you will vote it down.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, I hope the members of this House will be entirely fair. The compensation bill was not made a special order, and I do not see any reason why any preference should be given to this bill. I hope that the members will vote down this motion.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, if there has been one thing in this session that is commendable, it has been the absolute fairness in not calling bills out of place. A few days ago the House refused to make a special order of the compensation amendment, and there will be no more important measure before you than that. I do not believe that this bill should be made a special order any more than any other bill, and I hope that the House will vote down this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10.00 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until to-morrow morning at 11.00 o'clock.
